ed ball and takes first. Winston flies out to Bennett and McKee gets first on a ground hit over second base. Belden is thrown out at first by Lambeth.

Seventh inning. Benbow is hit by pitched ball and takes first. Maxwell goes to first on four balls. Lambeth makes a sacrifice hit to Hume advancing Brake and Maxwell to third and second respectively but is thrown out at first. Smith knocks a ground ball to Belden and gets first, but Brake is put out at the plate by Graves' pretty catch. Barker hits a ground ball to short stop and Maxwell scores on Woodard's error. Carter gets first on balls filling the bases. Bennett, Oak Ridge's heavy hitter, takes the stick amid the cheers of his constituency. Bennett hits a ground ball to Belden, is thrown out at first and cheers come from another quarter. Carolina is at the bat.

Lawson flies out to Bennett and Woodard gets a hit in centre but is put out trying to steal second. Hume flies out to Smith.

Eighth inning. Brake flies out to McKee (applause). Donnald hits to Woodard and gets first on error by short stop. Benbow knocks a pop fly over the Oak Ridge bench and Lawson catches on a dead run (applause). Maxwell strikes out.

Williams gets first on balls and is relieved by McKee. Graves takes the bat and the Oak Ridge catcher gets his mask bent by a speedy ball, letting McKee go to third. Graves drives out a two bagger and McKee scores. Rogers makes a sacrifice hit sending Graves to third but is out at first. Graves scores on Winston's ground ball over second base, but Winston is thrown out at first. McKee drives the ball against the right field fence for a hit, and Belden gets his base on a

A Wonderful Invention.

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country.
Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.

hit to left. Lawson gets a hit over second base and McKee attempts to score but is called out.

Lambeth makes a pretty ground hit to left field and takes first. Smith bunts towards first and is put out by Lawson. Barker gets a hit in left field and Lambeth scores on McKee's error. Carter flies out to Belden who catches on dead run, (applause). Bennett strikes out. Carolina doesn't take her last inning and the final score is 8 to 2.

Lawson's excellent control and good head work helped greatly to pull the team out of a hole time and time again. Lawson led the batting list with an average of 600. With the exception of Woodard's and Hume's base running and Grave's throwing to second we have naught but praise for the team. They played snappy ball and let the spectators know what to expect of them in this week's games.
