

HERE AND THERE.

Percy Thompson was on the Hill last week.

H. M. London spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Pittsboro.

Cobb Lane, '97, spent a few days with his brother, W. K. Lane recently.

Dr. Chas. Baskerville has recently been elected to a fellowship of the London Chemical Society.

Dr. Kluttz has on hand a fine lot of straw hats. He can suit in any style. Students will do well to call and examine his lot of shoes, shirts, ties, etc.

Before you go home you should get a nice U. N. C. pin. W. B. Sorrell has a beautiful lot.

We understand that the Worth prize in Philosophy has been awarded to Mr. C. H. Johnson.

We are told that the Durham Bull bellowed vociferously over the results of Saturday's game.

Our Trinity friends were somewhat uneasy that we wouldn't "come to the scratch" Saturday. We trust they are satisfied.

Dr. Hume has been away for several days attending the Southern Baptist Convention in Norfolk, Va. Dr. Hume was one of the twelve delegates sent by this State.

The regular examination period begins on Tuesday, May 17th, Senior examinations on Thursday, May 12th.

G. M. Pate won the Harris prize in Anatomy, leading the first year's medical class.

A. J. Pritchard, better known as Sug, our erstwhile genial post-office clerk, has shifted his position under Uncle Sam's service. He has enlisted in the Durham Light Infantry and is now in camp at Raleigh.

The first University student to enlist in the Spanish-American war was J. M. Morris of the Class of 1901. He enlisted in the Durham Light Infantry and is in camp at Raleigh now. Hanna, Law, '97, is Captain of a company from Asheville. Kirkpatrick and Hill, of last year's Law Class, have enlisted also.

Prof. Karl P. Harrington gave a very pleasant reception to his advanced Latin class at his residence last Friday evening.

We are pleased to note that G. R. Kirby, Class of '01, was awarded the appointment to West Point from the Second Congressional district at a competitive examination held in the city of Goldsboro a few days ago.

Miss Bessie Henderson, after a few days visit to relatives on the Hill, has returned to her home in Salisbury.

Mr. E. S. Simmons, of Washington, N. C., gave a very interesting lecture last Friday night in the chapel on the Solution of the Race Problem in the South. Mr. Simmons, who is an alumnus of the University, has written a book upon this subject which is pronounced by competent critics to be a work of much thought and ability.

Miss Mary S. McRae, one of our popular and accomplished young co-eds and member of the TARHEEL board, will be one of the instructors in the Kindergarten in the Summer School.

Rev. T. E. Winecoff, rector of the Episcopal Church here, has been invited to speak before the Southern Biblical Assembly, which meets in Knoxville, June 16-26, on How to Reach Young Men.

Mr. A. W. Belden left yesterday for Birmingham, Ala., where he has secured the position of assistant chemist in the Alabama Iron Works. We congratulate Mr. Belden at his having secured such a fine position; and while we regret exceedingly to give him up, yet we doubt not that he will reflect credit not only upon himself, but also upon his Alma Mater in his chosen profession.

Shakespeare Club.

The Shakespeare Club held its last meeting for the present scholastic year on last Tuesday evening in Gerard Hall.

After the roll call and the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting, Mr. Donnelly presented the first paper of the evening. His subject was, "The Hamlet Problem." In this paper the different elements which enter into the play were skillfully treated. Two theories in regard to Hamlet's real or feigned madness were briefly discussed, and the position taken that a true understanding of the Prince's character is to be had in a compromise of the two views.

The next paper was by Mr. C. S. Canada, on "The Comic and Relieving Elements in Hamlet." Quotations from the play were given and commented on, showing that the comic element is not wanting in this supreme "tragedy of thought" but occurs side by side with the tragic, thus relieving the monotony and sameness of the play and rendering it more like nature, where the comic and the tragic are often closely intermingled.

Mr. May concluded the regular program for the evening by reading a most excellent paper on "The Influence of Shakespeare on the French Drama." It was shown that the power of Shakespeare as a dramatist was not recognized by Voltaire and his contemporaries and that it was not until the second quarter of the present century that he was appreciated on the French stage. His influence on Victor Hugo then began to show itself, and thus two centuries after Shakespeare's death the French drama began to shape itself after the model set by him.

The Tenth of May.

Our Nation feels a stir within her life,
And Gray has met with Blue in common cause;
But while the stars and stripes wave o'er the strife,
And cannons sound, a silence bids us pause.
In music, is a silence oft sublime;
In nature, silence sounds the deepest thought;
The silences of life are sometimes fraught
With souls of deeds which stand the test of time.
Our silence is the silence of the dead.
Above the solemn green of grass-grown graves
Does reverence point where Southern honor led.
The flag that droops shall speed the flag that waves.
