ON THE GRIDIRON.

Team Hard at Work. Intense Interest on the Part of the Students. First Game.

Since our last issue all the applicants for the foot-ball team have been assigned positions on the Varsity or Scrubs and work has begun in earnest.

The two teams have been lining up against each other every afternoon of last week and every player seems to be doing his best to have a winning team representing U. N. C. this fall.

In addition to the names of applicants mentioned in our last issue a number of new men can be added. The men applying for the positions are as follows: for ends, Coxe, Lane, Osborne, Klutz, Jones, Kerner, McIver C, and Donnelly; for tackles, Bennett, Shull, Crawford and Harris; for centre, Plummer and Pickard; for guards, Hall, Hayes, Gant, Bridgers, Neville and Cole; for half-backs: Berkley, Gregory, Buxton, Howell, McRae, Copeland, Bellamy and McIver; for full back: Makley, Graves and Best; for quarter Rogers, Lambeth and Martin. From these candidates we can reasonably expect a good team.

Never before has such interest been taken in the team as this year. We know that our prospects for a winning team are good and we feel confident that we will be represented this fall by a team that will equal if not eclipse, the record of our famous '95 team. Our usual defeat on Thanksgiving Day at the hands of Virginia has become monotonous and we are determined this year to break Virginia's succession of victories and win the Championship of the South. We also have a score with Georgia which must be wiped out.

Cole who played guard on Trinity's famous '93 team, has entered the law class and will play with us this fall. Judging from his past record he will be a great acquisition. Hurley, our guard of '95 will probably come out this week and will be greatly welcomed by the team and students.

Our first game will be played here October the first with Guilford and every student in college, if he can possibly afford it, should come out and cheer the team in their efforts. The presence of a large crowd not only makes the team play better, knowing that the college is taking interest in their welfare, but it also aids the manager of the team in getting outfits for players and in running the team in general. We hope that this year that no one will see fit to take advantage of the tops of trees, fences or the roof near the mathematics room. If they are unable financially to see the game let them stay in their rooms or find some shady nook where they will not be found defauding the Athletic Association of the admission to the game.

German Club.

The German Club, pursuant to the call of Mr. C. B. Buxton '99 vice-president, met on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Mathematics room for the purpose of electing officers for the present year and leader for the October dance.

Mr. Graham Woodard '00 nominated Mr. Geo. D. Vick '99 for president and Mr. Vick was elected without opposition.

Mr. E. M. Land '99 nominated Mr. Graham Woodard '00 for vice-president and Mr. Woodard was unanimously elected.

Mr. H. C. Coles, Jr. '00 the present secretary was nominated for the same position by Mr. C. S. Alston and was re-elected.

Mr. A. R. Berkley '00 was elected to the office of treasurer without a dissenting vote.

Next came the election of leader for the October dance. Mr. E. V. Patterson '99 nominated Mr. W. L. Klutz '99 and Mr. E. M. Land '99 put in nomination Mr. H. C. Cowles, Jr. '00. After balloting, Mr. Cowles was found to be elected. The next matter of business was the election of new members and Honorary members. Messrs. A. W. Neal '01, K. P. Lewis '00, W. K. Battle '01, Geo. Chadbourne '00, "Brave" Taylor, Pharmacy, Frank Bryan '00, M. Makely '01, and W. C. Rodman Law were elected to the club. Messrs. A. Henderson, Instructor in Mathematics, J. Crawford Biggs, Assistant professor of Law, and Thomas Clarke, Assistant in Chemistry were elected honorary members of the club.

The advisory committee, consisting of the President, vice-president and leader of the October dance, met on Wednesday night and decided to have German on Friday night October the fourteenth.

Mr. Cowles has selected as floor managers for the dance Messrs. Graham Woodard '00 and Mr. Gus. A. Moore '00.

The Library.

The library received as a gift last week seven volumes from Mr. W. McE. Walton, ex-'00. Among them is a copy of Edwin Fuller's "Sea Gift," which has been out of print for some years.

The list of publications now subscribed to by the library includes 35 monthly magazines, seven quarterlies, 2 bi-monthlies 1 semi-monthly 11 weekly magazines, 25 weekly newspapers, 4 semi-weekly newspapers, and 11 dailies.

The above list includes all the leading periodicals and newspapers published in America. The service is open to all of the students of the University. There is no reason why any one should be ignorant of anything that is going on in the world or of any great question of public importance and interest. These periodicals furnish the best thought of the world on every side of any great national or international social, economic or political or any question of public interest which may arise. The library is the place for a young man seeking an education. Any time spent there is well spent.

GA.-CAROLINA DEBATE.

The Two Literary Societies Choose Representatives for the Inter-Collegiate Debate.

Saturday night the two Literary Societies elected their representatives for the annual inter-collegiate debate with the University of Georgia. The Philanthropic society chose Mr. E. D. Broadhurst, unanimously; from the Dialectic society Mr. Bowie was chosen.

In the choice of these two men to uphold Carolina's side the societies displayed remarkable wisdom. Both are good students and forcible debaters. Mr. Bowie has represented his society in two inter-society debates and in both upheld his side with great skill and eloquence; and last spring he was chosen from his society to compete at Commencement for the Representatives medal.

Needless to say that on this occasion Mr. Bowie sustained his reputation as one of the best speakers in the University.

Mr. Broadhurst of the Phi has been an active and energetic society worker since the night of his initiation. In the weekly debates in his society hall he has ever displayed those qualities which go to make a good debater. As a recognition of his ability as a speaker the society chose him as one of its representatives in the Rep-contest at last Commencement and the committee at the speaking confirmed the wisdom of the society, choice by awarding him the victory. He speaks calmly and with ease, driving every point home with unanswerable logic.

With two such men to represent her Carolina need not fear for her reputation.

We predict that there must be some deep thinking and close studying down in Georgia if our friendly opponents would keep the palm of victory at home.

The Class Teams.

Since the opening of the University two of the classes have met and chosen captains and managers for their class foot-ball teams. These are the Meds. and the Freshmen. The students in Pharmacy, meeting with the Meds., elected T. W. Kendrick, Captain; C. D. Gruver, Manager, and L. M. Humphrey, Assistant Manager.

Last year the Med. team won the Class Championship, and from their prompt and business-like proceeding it may be inferred that they are determined not to let the pennant be taken away from them this year. Besides the class games, Manager Gruver is trying to arrange a game with the Davidson College Meds., whom our Meds. defeated in a hard-fought game on Thanksgiving Day two years ago.

Most of their last year's team are on the "Hill" again this year and they will soon get down to systematic training.

Later in the week the Freshmen also met and elected A. Marvin Carr Captain. Owing to the expected visit of the enemy—Sophs—when the vote for manager was called for there is a dispute as to whether Gregory or Cromer was elected. The dispute has not yet been settled.

Every Freshman Class that enters the University brings at least a few good foot-ball men, or at any rate a few men who have in them good, though undeveloped, foot-ball material. As this year's Fresh Class has as yet furnished very few candidates for the Varsity eleven it is hoped that as many good men as they have will make their appearance on the field as soon as Captain Carr calls for candidates.

The team that expects to win must begin work at once and develop whatever material they have.

Right here it may be said that a class does not elect a man captain just for the sake of bestowing upon him an empty title, an honor in acknowledgement of the privilege it enjoys in having him as one of its members. But on the other hand it expects a great deal of him.

The success of a class team is largely due to the energy of the captain and manager. The manager must do his duty in arranging, as soon as possible, the schedule of games so that the team will have some definite object and time in view, the captain at same time making a personal canvass of the class in order to find out what material he has to work with, to insist on every able-bodied member coming out; to buy, beg or borrow suits for those who do not have them and in this way, and in many other ways show the men that he does not intend to shirk the duties which fall to the man whom a class elects as its captain.

For the last two years the interest in class games has been very intense. Not only are the class games a great source of interest and pleasure, but they help to make the Varsity stronger. They can do this in many ways, for instance in bringing out men who do not feel that they have a chance of making the Varsity scrub-team, and in developing these men so that one or two seasons with their class-teams they will prove very promising candidates for the Varsity eleven.

There are now several men on the field trying for the Varsity who, last year or the year before, were playing on the class team.

If there is any one in college who wants to play foot-ball and has not yet gone out on the field because he feels that his chances of holding a place on the first or second college team are altogether hopeless, let him go out and work for all he is worth for a position on his class team.

Our coach watches the class games very closely and keeps his eyes open for men who seem to have any foot-ball stuff in their composition.

Nothing is better for the Varsity than practice games with a regularly organized team, and this is another way in which the class teams can help to make a stronger Varsity.

So let the Senior, Junior, Soph and Law Classes meet at once and elect them captains for the present season and in this way help to accomplish what we are all striving for, namely, the development of a victorious Varsity.

Mr. Will Bernard has returned to the University.
