

HERE AND THERE.

Messrs George Stephens '96 and Walter Brem '96 were on the Hill last week in attendance on the Manning-Webb wedding.

Carolina gave us a striking illustration in last Thursday's game of the saying which we hear so often, "How not to do it". Her defensive work was good, but on the offensive—well the fact that there were ten fumbles, most of them costly, speaks forcibly for the offensive work.

In foot-ball fumbling is fatal. It is to foot-ball what errors are to base ball, they simply cost the game.

There were two interesting and instructive features of our last year's life which we think might be resumed with advantage to all, i. e.

The Semi-Monthly Faculty Lectures, and the Monthly University Preachers. It would seem from the large audiences of students and townspeople that were always out on these occasions that these sermons and addresses were fully appreciated and enjoyed.

Why not something of the sort again?

Manning-Webb.

Many of our students had the pleasure of witnessing the very beautiful, impressive and interesting marriage ceremony uniting Prof. William R. Webb, Jr., of Tennessee, to Miss Louise Hall Manning, daughter of our honored and beloved Professor of Law. The marriage was interesting to those connected with the University not only because many had the privilege of claiming the friendship of the contracting parties, but the names of both are closely associated with our college life. Prof. Webb graduated here in '96, and was Instructor in English for the next year, and is now associated with his father in the well known school at Bellbuckle, Tenn. The bride is too well known among a large circle of friends throughout North Carolina to need any further introduction. She did much to make life more pleasant to the students and they will miss her very much from receptions and all the social features of college life.

The Chapel of the Cross was beautifully decorated, beyond the creation of one who is not an artist. The music rendered by Prof. Harrington and Messrs. Cowles and Patterson was delightful. The perfume from banks of flowers and plants, the music, carrying our minds into fairyland, the bride marching down the aisle with her father to meet the bridegroom at the altar, the two pretty little pages with large bunches of flowers, all added to the attractiveness of the scene, which carried our minds into the land of romance. Some were thrilled by sweet memories of the past, but most of us were led to dreams of our own future and of like happiness in store for us. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Willis Smith, of Charlotte. Dr. Isaac Manning, of New York, Prof. Samuel May and Messrs. Geo. G. Stephens and Walter R. Brem, of Charlotte, acted as ushers. Mr. J. S. Webb was best man.

After the ceremony they took the train for Tennessee, their future home, carrying with them the good wishes of not only their relations and many friends but of the whole student body who join in wishing much happiness to the daughter of our Professor and friend, Dr. Manning.

Gray-Tate.

The many friends of Mr. G. K. Tate will be surprised to learn of his marriage to Miss Mable Gray of Winston on Monday, October 24th. Mr. Tate left the hill a few days ago for Greensboro where he was to have registered preparatory to voting in the coming election. The next heard of him he and his bride were in Raleigh. They were to leave Raleigh Wednesday for the bride's home.

The TAR HEEL extends congratulations.

McCauley-Lindsay.

This evening at 3 o'clock at the residence of the bride, Mr. C. L. Lindsay led to the marriage altar Miss Mary McCauley, the daughter of Mr. David McCauley, one of Chapel Hill's leading merchants. Dr. Hume officiated. The couple left for a trip to New York, and on their return will settle in their future home in Durham.

The TAR HEEL extends congratulations.

Rev. Frederick Cleveland, pastor of the Baptist Church here, has arrived on the Hill with his bride.
