It Is Time To Begin.

THE CO-OP.—WHAT IS IT?

Communicated.
The writer has been on the Hill a short time and it has been his desire to find out the object of having a Co-operative Society. The virtues of an ideal co-operativs society have been pointed out and duly considered. They are all good if they are only put into practice.

When a new book is to be bought the professor tells you to give the Co-op. a call even if you have to pay a few cents more for the book, because they say it is a student's affair and assures you that you will receive the best book at the lowest price.

The experience of an innocent Freshman has proven to my mind and to the College in general that the professors have misjudged the Co-operative(?) Society. No longer is it a student's affair. To whom it belongs is an unknown quantity. It is generally understood that with the exception of one or two outsiders all the shares have been cornered as it were and in a word we have another public book store run upon the students as a co-operative society.

A man has books to sell, he needs the money. He goes to the Co-operative Society, there he receives practically nothing for the books. He returns next term and has to pay exhorbitant prices for second-hand books to use. We well know that the Firm is entitled to make something on its investment but there is no need for it to try to make a fortune in that way and call the establishment Co-operative in motive, when it is anything else but that. As it now stands it is a parody on co-operative stores.

The firm (consisting I believe of about one member of the student body and about two professors) should change its name from the Co-operative Society to something meaning just the opposite.

If the so-called Co-op. aids the students in buying books the past month failed to show it. Any one who has had dealings with that store can come very near answering the question—What is the Co-op?

It is fast becming a monumental fake.

We can't see the propriety of the faculty's allowing a firm to occupy a college room and use the well-sounding name—Co-operative Society—and yet be so far away from it. If it ever expects to be an aid to the students it is getting high time to start.

Interesting! Enjoyable!! Instructive!!!

Professor J. Howard Gore will deliver a lecture Friday night in the College Chapel for the benefit of the Athletic Association. His subject will be "Within the Arctic Circle," and the lecture will be on the personal experience of Professor Gore, who spent several months in the arctic regions.

Junior Class Meeting.

At a meeting of the Junior Class held on Saturday afternoon Mr. J. A. Moore, Littleton, N. C., was elected Chief Marshal for Commencement 1899. He has appointed the following subs:— Messrs. T. A. Cheatham, G. Chadbourne, T. W. Jones, Jr., W. E. Hearn, J. E. Gant E. L. Neville.

Dr. Hume lectured at La Grange Thursday night and Friday morning and is reported as in attendance on the Baptist State Convention in Greenville, where as President of the N. C. Baptist Society he presided over the great commemorative historical service.

He delivered an opening address on the True Spirit in the investigation of Church History. He preached at the Presbyterian Church in Greenville. At Goldboro he addressed the Graded School on Radical Uses of the Study of Shakspeare.

Dr. Hume is giving valuable lectures in connection with the 3rd. English course. Those interested in debates will do well to attend his lectures on The Essentials of Argumentation. It is his desire to teach the logician how to clothe his marshaled thoughts in the most effective language. The formless debate is indeed a common thing with us. Let all of us join Dr. Hume in his efforts to serve the University in his own powerful way.

Holland's War with the Sea.

For an hour last evening, a large and attentive audience comprising almost the entire student body and faculty of the University together with a number of towns people, listened to an interesting lecture, in Gerrard Hall, by Professor J. Howard Gore of Columbian University who spoke on, "Hollands War with the Sea."

At eight o'clock President Alderman in a few well chosen remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, calling attention to the fact that he spent some time in Holland last smumer making a scientific study of the system of blocking off the sea.

The speaker at once made plain to his audience the enormity of the task, and that is only through the energetic labors of the Dutch people that Holland even exists. He described quite clearly the drainage system of the country; and showed how it begins with the individual land owner and is finally completed by the government.

The greatest achievement in this direction, which has yet been accomplished was the draining of Lake Haarlem. By this means a large area of fertile land was reclaimed, which now supports twelve thousand people.

Due prominence was given to the noble deeds of William of Orange. The heroic defence of Leydon was vividly described; and it was shown how, after its inhabitants had held out so long in the face of pestilence and famine, the dykes were at last utilized in driving away the Spaniards and bearing food to the perishing people.

In closing, he showed that it has been only by the dogged persistence of the Dutch people that their country has been defended against the sea. They have made Holland what it is, and this great work remains as a tribute to their genius and perseverance.

A Wonderful Invention.

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth. Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country. Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN
Professor of Tonsorial Art.
