Saturday's Game resulted in defeat for our team.

Saturday's game resulted in a defeat for Carolina by our worthy opponents from the University of Maryland. Maryland played a good game all through and Carolina threw away several chances of winning the game. Our team showed a woeful lack of practice. The result no doubt of the spiritless practice games that have been going on for the past two weeks. Individually there were several brilliant plays made, but on the whole our team lacked ginger.

Except for the first inning Lawson's pitching was up to his usual standard; Maryland's hits were scored as follows: First inning, five hits; second inning, one hit, third inning, one hit and ninth inning two hits.

The winning run was made by Maryland in the last part of the ninth inning.

How the game was played:
1st Inning.

Carolina comes to the bat.

Winston hits safe and scores on a beautiful three base hit by Lawson. Woodard is struck out and Graves out at first retires the side.

M. Whitehurst is out at first. H. Whitehurst hits safe but is caught stealing third. Alexander makes first on safe hit and Joe Whitaker dittos Lawson's three base hit scoring Alexander. O'Donnell walks. Whitaker scores on Smith's hit. O'Donnell scores on Donnelly's error. Rodcliffe hits safe, Miner gets to first and Smith scores on Woodard's error. Goodrich fans.

N. C. 1, Md. 4.

2nd Inning.

Carolina gets two men on bases by errors but cannot score.

M. Whitehurst strikes out. H. Whitehurst walks, Alexander bunts but is out at second. O'Donnell retires the side.

N. C. 1, Md. 4.

3rd Inning.

Rogers makes two base hit. Winston strikes out, Lawson hits but Rogers is out for interfering with man trying for Lawson's line drive. Woodard out at first.

Miner bunts. Smith, Rodcliff and Goodrich out at first.

N. C. 1, Md. 4.

4th Inning.

Allison and Lambeth hit safe and score on Alston's hit. Alston is thrown out stealing second and Donnelly retires the side.

M. Whitehurst walks, and outs come in one, two, three order.

N. C. 3, Md. 4.

5th Inning.

Carolina drops the stick and Smith gets on base for Maryland, O'Donnell is out at second, and Rodcliff and Miner fan.

N. C. 3, Md. 4.

6th Inning.

Woodard hits safe but is out as he loafs down toward second. No one else gets on base.

This inning was marked by two beautiful catches by Allison and Rogers in the out field. These were the star plays of the game.

N. C. 3, Md. 4.

7th Inning.

Maryland substitutes Brooks for Miner in the box.

Alston is out at first and Donnelly strikes out. Rogers hits safe. Winston gets to first on second baseman's error. Lawson sends a liner which is too hot for the third baseman and Rogers comes home and ties the score. Winston then scores on catcher's wild throw. Woodard out at first.

Alexander and Whitaker fan, O'Donnell flies to Allison who muffs a very difficult chance. Smith hits to Lambeth who throws wild to first, and O'Donnell scores. Rodcliff flies out.

N. C. 5, Md. 5.

8th Inning.

Graves hits safe, but neither Carolina nor Maryland score.

N. C. 5, Md. 5.

Donnelly is hit by ball. Rogers bunts safely and makes a beautiful run to first. Winston flies out. Lawson sacrifices. Woodard walks and the bases are full. Graves flies out and the side is out.

H. Whitehurst and Alexander hit safe. Whitaker flies out. O'Donnell hits to Woodard who throws to Alston retiring Alexander. Alston attempts a double, and Winston drops the ball and O'Donnell is safe; Winston secures the ball and throws home but not in time to prevent Whitehurst from scoring the winning run. Maryland does not play out the inning.

TRACK NEWS.

Prep-School Contest Comes off Saturday.

The records for track events, which have been gathered from the scoring lists of previous years show the following records to be the best the University has had up to the present time and which must be broken before the contestant will be allowed to wear the University sweater:

100 yards dash—10 seconds.

220 " " —23¼ "

440 " " —60 "

1 mile run—5 minutes 30 seconds.

120 yard high hurdle—18 seconds.

220 " low " —30 seconds.

Running high jump—5 ft. 2 in.

Running broad jump—19 ft.

Pole vault—9 ft. 3 in.

Throwing hammer 18 lb.—87 ft 7 inches.

Putting 16 lb. shot—37 feet.

The prep-schools have entered heartily into the contest to take place here Saturday. Some will come on a special train and bring with them a number of visitors so that the day promises to be one of pleasure as well as of contest.

Much interest is being shown in the approaching contest, both by the students here and at the various preparatory schools which will be represented at the coming meet. Each event on the programme is expected to be hotly contested by the schools and an exciting and interesting occasion may be depended on.

We make the suggestion that it would enhance the comfort of the on-lookers if a sort of grand-stand were made under the oaks which are enclosed by the track. There are a great many benches around the college buildings which would make a good temporary affair of this kind.

Dr. Alderman went to Durham yesterday to confer with Col. J. S. Carr in regard to the design of the Carr Building. At a meeting of the Building Committee held in Raleigh last week a number of pretty designs were submitted by the architect, but as Col. Carr, who is a member of the committee, was not in the State at that time, it was decided not to accept any design until he could be seen. The building will probably be erected just east of the Library and work on it will begin on a day not very distant.

It is gratifying to know that work on the Alumni Hall is soon to be resumed. Arrangements have been made to secure funds sufficient for erecting the walls of the building and putting on the roof. It is hoped, too, that by the time this has been done enough money will have been obtained to make it possible to have the work pushed on to completion.

Let '99 Organize.

Communicated.]

We are glad to see that there is a growing sentiment in favor of the permanent organization of the Class of 1899. We number among our acquaintances very few Yale or Harvard men, but one characteristic of the few we do know is that each and every one of them knows just what all of his classmates are doing and is thoroughly alive to the interests of his college.

Last commencement Dr. Alexander attended a banquet at Yale on the 25th anniversary of his graduation and responded to a toast. On the same night Prof. Cobb was one of the speakers at the third triennial dinner of his class at Harvard. From the number of men reported present at each reunion both occasions must have been greatly enjoyed. An interesting feature of the Harvard dinner was the presence of the "class baby," a little girl seven years old to whom the class presented a silver oatmeal set. Seven years before her father had received the "class cradle," a large silver loving-cup.

These classes keep up with what all their members are doing, and each quarter the secretaries report to the alumni publications changes of address, promotions, etc. At regular intervals, we do not know how often, the secretary issues a report in pamphlet form telling what each member is doing, or has done since the last report. We have seen some of these reports and they are no doubt very interesting to members of the class as well as being valuable history in many cases.

Of course there is some expense connected with this. Each man before leaving college subscribes some amount to the class fund, payable in five years. This establishes a permanent fund which provides for the publications, etc. Since ours is the largest senior class since the civil war the raising of a class fund would not be a difficult matter. There is not a member of the class who could not subscribe $5.00 payable in five installments, the first being due on or before commencement day, and the others at intervals of one year. Many men would of course subscribe more than this amount, and while the first payment of one dollar or more might be an inconvenience just at graduation, one would after all hardly miss the money, and the pleasure in the organization would far outweigh the small cost. Let '99 organize. A permanent secretary and treasurer would be needed, and a permanent president and class committee of three would not be amiss. These might be elected about the close of the college year.

Gift to the University.

Mr. C. L. VanNoppen, class of '94, has presented the University with a statuette of Thomas H. Benton. The statuette was packed in a box and shipped by freight from New York. When it reached Chapel Hill, rough handling on railroads had resulted in its being broken into three or four pieces. This is very unfortunate, for Mr. VanNoppen's gift would have added greatly to the attractiveness of the University Library. An effort will be made to have it repaired.
