Our team has returned to the Hill from their Southern tour crowned with the laurels of victory, having come up to the fullest expectations of their warmest supporters and admirers. Carolina has met her friendly rivals from Georgia and in the enemy's country has demonstrated her superiority on the diamond. We are justly proud of the record she has made on this trip, and herewith in behalf of the student body offer our thanks to each and every member of the team for the splendid way in which Carolina's fair name in combat on the athletic field has been upheld by them.

One thing noticeable on the Southern trip from which our team has just returned is said to have been the large number of loyal supporters of the white and blue at the two games played in the city of Atlanta. It is stated that fully one half of the spectators at the second Georgia game were Carolina rooters, which would seem to indicate good impressions made in the past by our representatives on both gridiron and diamond in the "Cracker State."

We are truly gratified at the success of the inter-scholastic field-day contests held here on last Saturday, an account of which is contained in another column. Although the number of schools represented was not so large as at the contests a year ago, all the events on the program were more hotly contested, as a rule, excelling the records made at the first meet, thus exhibiting a marked degree of improvement over last year's contests. The students and authorities of the University, who had striven so hard to make the occasion pass off successfully, cannot but rejoice over the very successful outcome of the whole affair, for it is fully evident to all that upon the success or failure of development of Athletics in the preparatory schools of the State, the athletic development of the city largely rests. For we are directly affected by these, as much so in the athletic as in the literary or scholarly field, as evidenced by them. So in conclusion, we would offer our heartfelt thanks to those schools who were represented here Saturday for taking part in the contests, and assure them and all other schools who should see fit to visit us at the next field-day contests that they will one and all find a most cordial welcome and warm greeting at their State University.

SECOND GEORGIA GAME.

[Concluded from first page.]

who pitched so well the day before, is substituted for Richardson, and the game changes from a slugger match on Carolina's part to another pitcher's battle, with the odds decidedly in favor of Winston. Again and again did Georgia get her men on first base, but they were either thrown out at second or left to die, as Winston with marvelous control would prevent a much needed hit.

Both sides rapidly retired in one, two, three order until the ninth inning, when a two-base hit by Allison and a single by Lambeth net three more runs for Carolina. Georgia then retires rapidly and the game is over.

MERCER DEFEATED.

Score 10 to 4.

Carolina's defeat of Mercer University in Macon last Monday was complete and satisfactory. Carolina went up against this team of crack players by no means confident of victory, yet determined to win if such lay within their power.

At first things looked rather blue for our boys, Mercer circling the bases and scoring a run in short order, but after facing our mighty Lawson for another inning, it was very evident that Mercer's heavy hitters were at his mercy.

1st Inning. Mercer up.

Harris flies out to Lawson. Holland hits safe, and steals second. Steinbacker fans. Mansfield hits safe, and Holland scores. Copeland out to Woodard.

Lawson leads off with a nice single. But Rogers, Winston and Woodard fail to reach first and the side is retired.

N. C. 0, M. 1.

2nd Inning.

Mitchell flies out to Woodard, Wachtel and Beasley fail to locate "Bobbie's" curves.

Graves out to second. Allison hits to second but is thrown out at first. Alston hits safe, but is thrown out at second on ground ball of Lambeth's.

N. C. 0, M. 1.

3rd Inning.

Harris hits to Lambeth who makes a pretty and difficult stop, throwing him out at first. Holland hits over second. Steinbacker flies out to Lambeth. Mansfield hits foul which is promptly taken in by Graves.

Lawson strikes out. Rogers succeeds in getting hit and goes to third on a two-base hit by Winston. Rogers and Winston score on a beautiful three-bagger by Woodard. Graves fails to locate the ball and the side retires.

N. C. 2, M. 1.

4th Inning.

Harris hits safe. Holland hits to Lawson and Harris is thrown out at second. Steinbacker is thrown out at first. Copeland flies out to Alston.

Allison hits to second and is out at first. Alston through same process. Lambeth flies out to Harris. N. C. 2, M. 3.

5th Inning.

Allen hits safe, steals second and third and goes home on ground ball to short but Mitchell is thrown out at first. Wachtel gets a two bagger, and reaches third, but remains there while Harris and Holland are thrown out at first.

Donnelly, Lawson, Rogers, Winston and Woodard all get hits in rapid succession and all score, amid wild excitement in the Carolina pit at grand stand. Graves gets a three base hit but is thrown out at home by Allen. Allison steals second. Alston out on fly to Harris. Lambeth flies out to center.

N. C. 7, M. 3.

6th Inning.

Steinbaker, Mansfield and Copeland are out in one, two three order.

Donnelly reaches first on error. Lawson hits safe, Donnell going to third. Rogers sacrifices Donnelly home. Winston hits safe scoring Lawson. Woodard does same scoring Winston. Woodard out at second. Graves flies out to second. N. C. 9, N. 3.

7th Inning.

Allen flies out to Lambeth. Mitchell hits to Woodard and is thrown out at first. Watchel hits a high fly to right; by misunderstanding Donnelly and Alston both try for it and collide, Alston gets ball and Donnelly a black eye.

Donnelly flies out first. Lambeth and Donnelly reached first on error. Lawson hits safe filling the bases. Rogers out at first.

N. C. 9, M. 3.

8th Inning.

Beasley out at first. Harris safe and steals second. Holland flies out to Woodard. Steinbacker out at first.
