The Class in Expression.

The action of the Trustees last Commencement in deciding to have a permanent course given in elocution throughout the year was hailed as an act of wisdom. They were also fortunate in procuring to fill the place, the same man who served us so well for more than two months last spring, Mr. McKie. For the past two years it has been the custom to have an expression teacher here only part of the spring term. Although great good was accomplished in this way, yet the short time available for general class work and preliminary training prevented the best results from being obtained. But now that we have a course extending through the whole year this draw-back need not trouble us any more. Mr. McKie has organized his class and gone to work to make it a success. About 40 have joined the class, which is divided into five sections, each meeting once a week; the whole class comes together once in two weeks for a general lesson. Now, let not the members of the class grow indifferent, because it is not a required study. We can and should get just as much out of it as it counted us so many hours toward graduation.

Training in the art of speaking is just as necessary for obtaining skill as is training in athletics; and all those who expect to represent the University in any public capacity along this line should be as careful to begin work early and stick to it unceasingly, as if they expected to play in the Ga. game. We hope to see real enthusiasm manifested in this course, and feel sure that satisfactory results will be forthcoming.

Sophomore Election.

The Sophomore class met Saturday afternoon to elect officers. It was a disorderly crowd, and a policeman was needed more than once. Some plan should be thought of for preserving order and preventing breaches of the peace in the turbulent class elections. The root of the disturbances in them is a blind and unreasonable factious spirit which ought, for the good of the University and the sake of decency, to be destroyed forth-with. By its attitude toward such a spirit in individuals, the student body could kill it. It ought not to be allowed to thrive in the air of a University, among men broad-minded and sensible, and the individuals who seek to excite it should not be tolerated.

At the election which, by its rowdyism, furnished the text for the above, the following officers were elected:

President,	R. R. Williams.
1st. Vice Pres.,	D. P. Stern.
2nd. Vice Pres.,	H. M. Robins.
Secretary,	D. C. Ballard.
Treasurer,	J. E. Swain.
Essayist,	R. S. Merritt.
Orator,	W. B. Owen.
Statistician,	J. S. Gibson.
Poet,	A. Kerly.
Prophet,	H. P. Stevens.
Historian,	G. V. Roberts.

JAMES SPRUNT MONOGRAPHS.

Historical Items to be Published Annually Through Generosity of Mr. James Sprunt.

Mr. James Sprunt, of Wilmington, who has often shown his deep interest in the University, has provided for the publication annually of Historical Monographs, containing history of this State and country to be known as "The James Sprunt Monographs." These monographs are to be written by some student and edited by the Faculty. The first one will be written by Mr. J. Gilchrist McCormick and his subject will be the "Secession Convention of 1861."
