In our last issue mention was made of the destructive tendencies of college "boys" in regard to a rather small matter, that of the hall lights. Since then our attention has been called to a much more serious direction of this carelessness and destructiveness. The Tar Heel does not wish to be continually criticising, but the abuse of the library privileges cannot be passed over. In order to encourage and leave unhampered the use of the library, students are allowed access to all parts of it without supervision by the librarian. This is a privilege not enjoyed at many institutions and one not appreciated here as the abuse of it shows. Instead of handling the books carefully and putting them back in their proper place, they are dog-eared, dirtied, marked up, pictures torn from them, leaves scattered about, and when the reader has finished carelessly thrown down anywhere. Frequently, too, popular books mysteriously disappear to turn up again possibly in a month, probably not at all.

To assist in the preparation of debates, books and magazines bearing on the question to be discussed are conveniently placed by the librarian, and everyone knows that this material is not to be taken from the library, as this would be unfair to those wishing to use it. But everyone who does wish to use this matter knows that this regulation is very often disregarded. Some time ago, two magazines containing valuable articles on the Transvaal question were misplaced, one was found hid away in an alcove, the other is yet to be found.

This is doubtless due almost wholly to carelessness, but it is a very vicious form of carelessness closely resembling selfishness, and it is to be hoped in the future all will be more thoughtful.

Nothing more distressing can be imagined than the death of Mr. B. F. Long Jr. on last Thursday. An only child, of splendid physique, of good mental endowment, handsome, courteous, a thorough gentleman, just entering upon what promised to be a life of usefulness, in the short time that he had been a member of the University he had endeared himself to many, who mourn his loss. He had been for some time a student at Horner's School, where he had taken quite a prominent stand, particularly in Athletics and was here a member of 'Varsity Reserve foot ball team. In every way he bade fair to be an honor to himself and to his alma mater. The horror of his death is increased by the knowledge of his terrible suffering and the anguish which they must have occasioned to his parents. THE TAR HEEL joins with his friends in tendering them the most heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

S.A.E. Dance.

The S.A.E. fraternity gave a charming informal dance at their attractive lodge on Tuesday last, complimentary to the young ladies visiting in the village. Dancing was indulged in from 9 till 11.30 and everyone had a delightful time. The music was furnished by the Durham Orchestra.

The following were present:

Miss Snow of Raleigh, Miss Newman of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Bynum, Miss Alexander, Miss Johnson of Roanoke, Va. Miss Vanderbilt of New York, Mrs. Pratt and Dr. Mangum, Messrs. Thompson, Cowles, Eben Alexander, Jr. Emory Alexander, Cobb, Henderson, Moore, Battle, May, Howell, Whitehead, G. Berkeley, A. R. Berkley, and Holmes.

Mrs. Gore and Mrs. Berkeley were chaperones.

Some Recent Football Scores.

The interest of the whole football world was centred in the Yale-Harvard game which was played last Saturday at Cambridge. Thirty six thousand people witnessed Harvard, all but conquer Yale three successive times. But three times Yale made a stand on the last yard and won the ball on downs. Referee McClung said it was the most scientific exhibition of football he ever saw. The game ended without either side making a touch-down.

Georgetown played the University of Virginia to a standstill on the Georgetown grounds. The Virginians played a plucky game.

The A. & M. College which had become so elated over their recent good luck in tying the University at a time when our team was very much crippled, and more recently in tying Guilford and Davidson had a damper put on their rising spirits in the game with Clemson College, being defeated by a score of 28 to 0.

Other scores were as follows:

Princeton 6 Washington and Jefferson 0.
Naval Academy 24 Lehigh 0.
LaFayette 12 Bucknell 0.
Columbia 22 Dartmouth 0.
West Point 12 Syracuse 6.
Auburn College 11 University of Georgia 6.
Vanderbilt 22 Bethel 0.
Tennessee 5 Georgia 0.
Sewanee 12 Texas 0.
" 10 " A.&M. 0.
" 23 Tulane 0.
" 34 L. S. U. 0.

Mrs. Baskerville returned Wednesday from a short visit to Raleigh, Miss Florence Boylan came up with her to spend a few days on the Hill.

First Regular Meeting of the University Forum

The first regular meeting of the University Forum, the new Current Topics Club just organized, was held in the North Math. room last Saturday. Mr. Graham, temporary chairman, called the body to order and stated the object of the meeting. The first thing to be done was to look into the report of the special committee which had been appointed to select a name and to frame the running works of the Club. The committee's report was accepted and an election of officers followed.

Mr. E. K. Graham was elected President. Mr. W. F. Bryan, Vice President and J. Ed. Latta, Secretary.

Mr. Graham then gave the programme for the club's first meeting and stated that the prospects were encouraging and very bright for an active organization, but that all depended on the students.

Letters From Southern Colleges.

For some time past The Tar Heel has been corresponding with some of the principal Southern colleges with which the University is more closely connected, with the purpose of having a monthly interchange of newsy letters, giving the most interesting facts at each institution and bringing the different colleges in closer contact with one another. We are glad to announce that a satisfactory arrangement has about been completed, Vanderbilt, Georgia and Texas heartily co-operating. Sewanee has not yet been heard from but we trust will also approve, and we hope to publish one letter at least, before the Christmas holidays.

Credit is due to Mr. Thompson, our exchange editor, for arranging this series.

The Ideal Entertainers of New York gave an enjoyable musicale in the Chapel last Saturday night for the benefit of the Athletic Association.

The programme consisted of singing piano playing, violin solos, and recitations. A large crowd were in attendance.

Messrs. H. C. Cowles, J. R. Carr, J. M. Greenfield, Algood Holmes, Whitehead Klutz and B. S. Drane returned Monday from Statesville where they went to attend the funeral of Mr. B. F. Long Jr.

The semi-annual inter-society debate for this fall will take place in the Phi. Hall to-morrow evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Trust question will be discussed. Everyone is invited.

The report of Dr. Hume's lecture will be published next week as it received too late for this issue.

Prof. Noble spent a few days in Selma last week on a visit to his father who is quite sick.

A new line of rugs at J. B. Webb's, call and see them.

there should be free criticism and a free interchange of ideas by all. It was not intended to be a meeting in which a few elaborate papers were to be listened to, but one in which everyone could and would take part. Those who take the principal parts are to be merely leaders in the discussion. If any point whatever to which anyone objects, if an incorrect statement is made about which some one has better information, if anyone wishes to ask a question, state the objections, make the corrections, ask the questions. The central idea is to arouse interest in and impart information upon subjects in which we should be interested and about which we should be informed. If everyone will take hold in an active way, a great deal of good will be done, but if each waits for the other, from indifference, the purpose of the Forum will be thwarted, and little will be accomplished. It is to be distinctly an informal affair.

The initial meeting will be held in the Chapel this evening at 7:30. Participation in the exercises by everyone interested is urged.

The Tar Heel extends its sympathy to its sister institution, the Normal and Industrial College, in its distress at the epidemic of fever which has caused it to suspend for a time.
