Elisha Mitchell Society Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society and the 123rd session of that body was called to order by the President in Person Hall last Tuesday night. The only paper read before the Society was an excellent and carefully prepared one by Major Cain on "Strategy of Jackson's Campaign in the Valley of Virginia." With the aid of a small map of the valley Prof. Cain gave a very vivid and impressive description of Jackson's brilliant strategic work and the untiring and dominating energy that governed his every movement. Jackson's reputation is today higher than ever and he is ranked as one of the greatest military geniuses of the world.

He spoke on the character of Jackson and Lee and declared that they had the entire confidence of the troops under their command.

He gave the principles of war as defined by great commanders and showed how thoroughly Jackson obeyed every principle. Jackson's great point was mystery, that is always surprising his enemy.

The battle of Manassa was where Jackson first made his reputation. He gave the number of troops and location at different times during the war and showed that the Confederates had only 50,000 men while the enemy had 218,000.

In the Valley Campaign Jackson marched 676 miles in 48 days and fought 9 battles.

In March '65 there were over 200,000 men ready to advance on Richmond and only 50,000 Confederates there to defend it.

Professor Cain gave many incidents and occurrences and showed how truly great was Jackson as a warrior and leader. The paper was very enjoyable and a large crowd listened to it.

University Alumni.

Wake County Association Meets.

The following clipped from the News and Observer shows that the Alumni of Wake County are awake to the importance of the assistance that an alumni association is able to render the University and The Tar Heel trusts that similar organization will be at once perfected in every county in the state.

The Wake County Association of the Alumni of the University of North Carolina, met last night in the Supreme court building. R. H. Battle was called to the chair, and Robt. L. Gray requested to act as secretary, and was reorganized by selecting Joseph B. Batchelor as president and W. Peele as secretary. The substance of the plan of organization is intended to locate the men now living who have been students at the University, and to classify them by geographical group (towns counties and states); to encourage the formation of local associations with definite aims, to be outlined in local by-laws, as awarding alumni scholarships, keeping the general secretary at Chapel Hill informed as to the movements of the Alumni within their divisions, and keeping the members in touch with the affairs of the institution; and to organize a general association of the Alumni to which local associations will send delegates, at such times and places of meeting as may be convenient and desirable. The secretary of each local association will be requested to forward a complete list of men in his locality, who have been Chapel Hill students, to the general secretary at the "Hill," and from time to time inform him of any changes of residence.

A committee was appointed to draft by-laws for the local association, who will report to a subsequent meeting.

Those who have been students of the institution will very much decrease the labours of Mr. Peele, the Secretary, by sending him their full names and the class to which they belonged.
