All matter intended for publication should be addressed to the Editor-in-chief and accompanied by name of writer.

A change has been made in the Tar Heel's correspondents among the southern college papers. The Red and Black of the University of Georgia has not only failed to keep the arrangement made but has not noticed any letters addressed to it and consequently it has been necessary to drop the Red and Black.

The Olive and Blue of Tulane University will be our fourth correspondent and we trust that there will be no further trouble from irregularity of correspondence. We believe that the plan is a good one if it is carried out properly and regularly by all parties to it, otherwise it is merely a source of vexation.

We wish to call particular attention to the business manager's card in this issue. His statement of the TAR HEEL'S financial condition should be read by everyone who owes a single penny and who cares anything for its interests. The TAR HEEL is already in debt as deeply as it can afford to go and rather than incur any new obligations, publication will be suspended. The editors have striven to get out a paper worthy of our University and have counted on your support to the extent of at least what you honestly owe. If we find that our efforts are unappreciated however we can give up the publication. The future of the TAR HEEL rests with you for it is not to go more deeply in debt, and unless you pay up at once the college will be without a paper.

The editor-in-chief wishes to thank Messrs. Rose and Latta who kindly assisted last week in getting out the Tar Heel while the editor-in-chief was too unwell to perform his duties.

Georgia Debate.

The fourth annual debate between the University of North Carolina and Georgia will take place Friday evening, April 6th, in Gerrard Hall. The query to be discussed is: Resolved, That the English form of government is better adapted to the needs of a free people than the American form.

Messrs. R. Hume Smith and C. E. Weddington, representing the University of Georgia, will speak on the affirmative, while our representatives, Messrs. D. P. Parker and W. H. Swift, will debate on the negative side of the query. Dr. George T. Winston will preside over the debate.

Tennis Tournament.

There was a meeting of the Tennis Association held in the Chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. It was decided to have this spring a tournament between the different classes.

The members of each class are to play together for the class championship. These class champions are then to contest for the college championship. Each man entering the tournament is to be assessed a small sum to pay for the prize.

Let all tennis enthusiasts come out now and try their hand.

Notice!

The TAR HEEL force respectfully requests that all those who are in the habit of loafing in the printing office on the day of publication will please desist. They probably do not realize how much of a nuisance they prove by getting in the way of the force. If they do not subscribe to the TAR HEEL, they should do so at once, if they do get the paper they can wait a few minutes until it is out; please do not bother us in the future.

From the Business Manager.

We are sorry to say that unless the boys in College pay their subscription fees very soon and our advertisers and subscribers away from the Hill can devise some means by which our bills will be honored when presented, we cannot hope to get out an issue from now on. The subscribers here have been "dunned" several times and those away, including both subscribers and advertisers, have had bills sent them, but funds are still lacking. Everyone means to pay, we have no doubt but we cannot wait until June for it. The paper must be paid for when each issue is printed. We should very much like to furnish the paper to our friends gratis, but they cannot expect it. And the plain truth is, unless they do something at once, we cannot furnish it at all.

Cornell game will be played Monday. Everybody come out. Lawson will pitch and Upchurch umpire.

Game called at 3:45 P.M. Admission 50ct. Best game of the season.

Unless the members of the Senior class hand in the money for the class pins by Saturday, the order will not be sent off at all. Pay Greening, Allison, Barwick or Bryan at once, unless the idea is to be given up.

Columbia won the inter-collegiate gymnasium contest. Columbia, Yale, Harvard, New York University, Princeton, Haverford and Cornell were entered.

The All-Ireland football team will come to this country next fall and play some of the principal college teams of the country.

The United States Patent Office has recently issued a patent on a telephone appliance invented by Prof. Gore. The invention has been tested and found to work successfully. It promises to be of great value in the telephone system, and Prof. Gore is to be congratulated upon his skill in electrical work.

The second Lafayette game was played yesterday and Carolina won by a score of 9 to four. The game was a very pretty, clean one. Capt. Lawson pitched in his usual beautiful style. The detailed account will be given next week.

The new launch for the use of the Harvard crew has been completed and delivered.

Yale has been rather disturbed lately by a smallpox scare. Two or three of the students have the disease.
