SOUTH CAROLINA DEFEATED.

North Carolina Comes Off Victor in an Interesting Game at Columbia Saturday.

South Carolina is far from disgraced because defeated by the team from the neighboring State yesterday afternoon. The score was 17 to 0. From start to finish the local collegians put up a plucky struggle and long before the first half was at an end cheers of admiration rose from the disinterested spectators to mingle with those of the crowd of supporters of the Garnet and Black.

Few had expected victory and many had no idea of so small a score on the part of the visitors. They came with a record of victories of which few of the Southern teams can boast, and won on many a hard fought field. South Carolina's team was green and had played but one game—that could hardly be dignified by the name. Five of the men had never appeared in a foot ball game of any merit before. Yet the team stood like veterans the rushes of the North Carolinians and time and again the ball went to South Carolina on account of the inability of the other side to gain.

The visitors stuck very closely to old line foot ball, using no new formation as was expected as a result of the new rules. Tackle-back formations and tandem bucks were used time and again. South Carolina's ends showed up well throughout the game, and the Tar Heels seemed to consider the line a better chance than the ends. Foster's courage and grit was equalled only by his skill as a player. Few plays crossed his end, though the interference of the North Carolinians swept him from his feet. McKay, who was substituted in the second half, also appeared to advantage, getting into the plays with spirit. Oliver broke the North Carolinians' line several times and aided materially in sending Capt. Gunter through the holes. The last named athlete was, as ever, a star, taking every chance that came up.

For North Carolina Jones, Jacocks and Donnelly played good ball. Donnelly is as much a star at foot ball as at baseball. Capt. Jones plunged through the line almost unaided at times, his great strength being his success. Engle generated the team with much skill.

South Carolina's supporters were more than satisfied at the showing made. North Carolina's eleven was composed largely of men of last year's team and outweighed their opponents practically 15 pounds. Fendly, centre for South Carolina, worked hard throughout the game and the critics complimented his work highly.

North Carolina kicked off in the first half and Capt. Gunter caught the falling leather. After advancing the ball some 30 yards it was lost to one of the other side who fell on it. North Carolina failed to gain materially after trying all of her backs, and Reed blocked Jacocks's drop kick, falling on the ball. Oliver and Gunter took the ball and then Wyman punted for 60 yards. North Carolina worked the ball up the field by hard line plunging, using Mann many times, until a touch down was made. Goal was not kicked. The rest of this half was played between the 25-yard lines, both teams being forced to punt, and the half ending with the ball in North Carolina's possession. Score 5 to 0.

In the second half South Carolina kicked off. North Carolina was soon forced to punt. Immediately after the ball was put in play after this punt one of the startling plays of the afternoon occurred. Wyman was passed the ball and, evading the opposing backs and ends, came up the field for 40 yards and was caught near the 25-yard line. Soon afterwards the ball went to North Carolina on downs, and the Tar Heels again took the ball for a touch down, though the path to the goal was stubbornly fought. This goal was kicked and another touchdown was made a few minutes later by North Carolina, after hard fighting. The game ended with the ball on the 25-yard line and the score 17 to 0.

On a similar play Wilson loses 2 yards. The ball goes over to South Carolina. Wyman makes no gain around right end. Wilds makes nothing over left tackle. Time is up; ball is on South Carolina's 45-yard line. Final Score: N. C. 17; S. C. 0.

Tennis.

Virginia has challenged Carolina to a game of Tennis, doubles and singles, promising to pay the expenses of three men to Charlottesville. All students who wish to contest for these places will hand their names to Hal Worth. An entrance fee of 50 cents will be charged to buy balls. Names must be in by Saturday evening as the meet will come off the last of this month.
