

LOCAL NOTES.

Continuous report of the game with Kentucky in the Chapel Saturday.

Dr. W. C. Coker spent Wednesday at his home in Columbia.

Maj. Cain entertained a few of his friends at a musical Tuesday evening. The invited guests were Misses Mary and Nellie Wheatley, Miss Bridgers, Mrs. Gore, Dr. and Mrs. Henderson and Dr. Ruffin.

Mrs. Gore and her guests, the Misses Wheatley, of Washington, D. C., spent Tuesday in Durham.

Miss Hume of Chapel Hill, who has been the guest of Miss Dunnington, has returned home.—College Topics.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morris, of Atlanta, were here Tuesday on a visit to their son, J. A. Morris, Jr.

One mistake was made by the Virginian Pilot in its report of the game. Newton made the tackle of after his 97-yard run though Roberson put up a great game.

Miss Louise Venable of Chapel Hill, N. C., is the guest of Dr. C. S. Venable, High Street.—College Topics.

Next Saturday evening after the Carolina-Ky-game the State Normal girls will give a reception to the University students.

Messrs. A. H. Johnston and Brand Starnes went to Durham Monday.

At the rate Yale and Princeton are playing these two great rivals would be fairly evenly matched were they to meet today, instead of the latter part of November. Columbia, if she can only "get going" in time, should give Pennsylvania a great tussle, but at present the Quaker's have the call. Both West Point and Cornell are behind time, but with any kind of luck the former at least ought to round into shape before long, or in ample time to give the University of Chicago eleven a stiff argument.

Foot Ball Days.

The foot ball days have come again, the gladdest of the year;
One side of Willie's nose is gone and Tom has lost an ear.
Heaped on the field, the players jab, and punch, and claw and tear.
They knock the breath from those beneath and gouge without a care;
They break each other's arms and legs, and pull joints out of place.
And here and there is one who gets his teeth kicked from his face.
The Freshman and the Sophomore, besmeared with grime and mud,
Go gallantly to get the ball and quit all bathed in blood;
The Senior knocks the Junior down and kicks him in the chest.
The high school boy is carried home and gently laid at rest,
While here and there a crowded stand collapses 'neath its weight.
And forty people get more than they paid for at the gate.
O brave, O happy careless days! How deep the mother's joy,
What time she thinks of all the things they're doing to her boy!
How proud she is to know that he is on the team; how sweet
His face appears to her since it is only bloody meat!
With honest pride she lays away his amputated ear,
And puts his eye in alcohol to be a souvenir.

SOUTHERN FOOT BALL.

Heisman, Clemson's Coach Gives His Views on the Subject. Thinks Hardest Game Will be With Carolina.

Coach Heisman, of Clemson, is undoubtedly the "Hurry-Up" Yost of Southern foot ball.

The great Michigan leader has never lost a battle since he first took up the art of teaching the modern game of war, and four seasons have gone by marked only by constant victory.

Heisman's record is almost as brilliant as that of the guiding star of the Wolverines. For eight seasons the old Pennsylvania end has moulded Southern elevens and during this period has lost but five games—a remarkable showing, considering the fact that in this time his squads have played more than 70 games.

Mr. Heisman's knowledge of foot ball, especially that pertaining to the South is almost unlimited, hence any expression of opinion from him will carry added force.

"In my opinion our hardest game this season will be with North Carolina on November 14th. This game will be played in Chapel Hill and this of course will be in the Tar Heels' favor. Two years ago we downed the blue and white 22 to 10, and they are laying for us this year. 'Look out for Clemson,' has been their watchword, for they are determined on revenge. They may beat us, as they have a strong team this fall, but they must face a tough proposition, for barring a run of unusually hard luck, we will be ready for the best by that date.

"We have also two games scheduled with the strong A. and M. team of Carolina this season. I look for hard battles on both occasions, for A. and M. has the strongest team in her history. Just to show the strength of this college take that last Guilford College contest. North Carolina was able to defeat Guilford just 15 in 0 in a close game, while A. and M. ran away with the same aggregation 50 to 0. We play one game during the fair in Columbia with this team, and 10 days later we play them at Clemson.

"I think these will be our hardest games.

"From what I have seen so far Southern elevens as a rule seem to be weaker this season than last year and as we are consequently stronger we stand a fine chance for the Southern championship, if we can only defeat North Carolina. Sewanee refuses to play us and we offered Vanderbilt $200 and expenses to meet us after their game with Georgia, but they never answered the letter. In making up a championship selection only 'dope' can be used as all the best teams do not meet. On this account a Southern championship is undecided business since comparative victories and defeats are used to decide this matter.

"The Georgia and Auburn game should be a good one. I think, however, that Georgia will lose today to South Carolina, as this team fought the Tar Heels to a finish last Saturday.

"In comparing Southern teams Virginia colleges should be debarred from the calculations as they work under a different regime from that which characterizes teams in this section. They play men who are not eligible under the S. I. A. A. rules. Taking them year in and year out, Virginia would possibly beat the strongest Southern elevens, but it must be remembered that they gather their stars from other colleges and an athlete who has competed for money in a professional contest of any kind is not ruled out at this institution. Most of this season's team is largely made up of star players who have drifted in from other college teams."—Atlanta Journal.

SWEETHEARTS AND FLOWERS.

In eastern lands they talk in flowers,
And they tell in a garland their loves and cares;

Each blossom that blooms in their garden
bowers

On its leaves a mystic language bears.

Then gather a wreath from the garden
bowers,

And tell the wish of thy heart in flowers.

You have a sweetheart, we have the flowers. "Nuff said."
