The Athletic Editor of the New York Sun, in speaking of the leading football teams of the North this year, says: "Graves is one of the best tackles in the business." This is our old Pot Graves, who is Captain of the West Point Team.

FOOTBALL.

In an Interview Coach Brown Tells of the Condition of the Team.

Just at present everybody is thinking of foot ball and what wonderful things Carolina is going to do on the gridiron this fall. Judging from what Coach Brown has said we had better lower our estimation of the team or we are going to be sorely disappointed. In an interview Saturday Coach Brown said:

"Although the outlook is very encouraging because of the large number of candidates who seem to have plenty of sand and determination, the line men, with few exceptions, are too light for a Varsity of this size, due to the fact that the heavy men in college won't come out.

"The backs and ends are, for the most part, fast and experienced and will gain on most teams of the South if given proper support by the line. The defense is fairly good for this early date and will greatly improve as soon as the men learn the new system.

"The whole college and the alumni are in error when they make the statement that the team will be the best ever turned out here. A wrong impression is current that should be corrected. To win from Georgetown, V. P. I. and Virginia a faster team than has ever been seen in the South will have to be developed. Most of the Southern teams will be heavier than we and to beat them we will necessarily have to be faster.

"Virginia is making every endeavor to gather men from every prep school and college around in order to make amends for their defeat at North Carolina's hands last fall. In order to retain the position gained last year the men must work with their utmost strength.

"A stronger second team is necessary for improvement by the Varsity and more heavy men should come on the field. The scrubs have an excellent coach in the person of Mr. James McRae, one of Carolina's old stars, who gives them his undivided attention. Consequently the present want for a good second team is material."

Since the first week of college Coach Brown has had the men on the field instructing them on the minor points, and if the prospects are not so bright the student body at any rate has great confidence in our new coach. He is taking a great deal of interest in his team. He coaches each man individually and takes a delight in instructing new men. Coach Brown is very popular among the men and consequently the men are going to do all in their power to make a good team. About twice a week Coach Brown lectures to the Varsity squad and so far these lectures have proved very valuable.

The training table will be begun probably about Saturday. Mr. A. D. Browne has been appointed trainer of the squad and with his services the men should soon be in an excellent condition.

Tennis.

The Tennis Association met in the Chapel Thursday afternoon and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, O. B. Ross; Vice President, H. McR. Jones; Secretary and Treasurer, H. M. Emerson. This Association was established last year and did a great deal toward increasing interest in tennis, considering that it had no courts. Mr. L. R. Wilson, who was secretary and treasurer last year, reported that there was about $3 in the treasury of the Association left from last year after paying for the prizes given in the tournaments and for the grading of two courts. There has been some kicking about these courts being so far from the college buildings. But they are as near the new gymnasium as any on the campus with the exception of one or two. And every one will dress at the gymnasium. But it is a fact that with about 150 men here who play tennis the Association needs more than two courts. So why can't we get together and build two or three more courts on the east side of the old athletic field up near the new gymnasium?

We pride ourselves here that we can do as great things in athletics as Virginia. We have done this in foot ball and in base ball, but in tennis we are away behind Virginia. At the University of Virginia tennis is on an equal with foot ball and base ball. They have a tennis association with 150 members and it costs $3 to join it. Hence they have ten well kept courts. We must have more courts here if tennis is to have its right place in our athletics. Last year we sent two men against Virginia who showed what material we have for tennis players. If we are to beat Virginia this year we must get to work.

The two courts are to be cleaned off. Tournaments will be held this fall and next spring and prizes will be given to the successful players. So it is before the students to say whether tennis shall have its proper place. This can be done only by every man who plays tennis joining the association. And we trust that every one who has not joined the association will at once hand his name to Mr. Emerson. The initiation fee for the new members is $2 and the annual fee for the old members is $1. This gives the right to play on the courts and in tournaments.

Tennis is a game that every one can play. Foot ball and base ball are necessarily limited to a few players. What are the students going to do who don't engage in these games? They may go to the gymnasium, but that does not take the place of out-door exercise, with plenty of fresh air, which every student needs. And then to the men who can win the places there is the tournament with Virginia before them. And to uphold the honors of U. N. C. against Virginia is about as high an honor as a University man gets.
