SCIENCE AND RELIGION SERIES BEGUN

vinced of the truth of evolution but doubted if the difficulty in proving it would ever be overcome. Now, however, so prodigious has been the advance of science and knowledge in general that scarcely anyone who has studied the theory of evolution doubts the truth of it and it may be regarded as proven. It does not solve the mystery of the universe but it does push the mystery farther back. It does not interfere with our conception of God but rather gives us a higher conception of Him."

Reverend Mr. Starr will deliver the next lecture of the series Tuesday night February 13. His subject will be "Evolution and the Bible."

ONCE AGAIN, OH YE LAURELS!

some other organization to have a dance after the reception if, of course, such arrangements could be satisfactorily made. This was the result of over an hour's wrangling. The non-dancers rejoiced in the fact that never will the fair name of the junior class be dragged officially into a dance; the dancing men console themselves with the fact that although the class will not give a dance, some one else may. Neither are really satisfied. How long the present arrangement will last is uncertain. The only sure thing, is that the eternal principle is triumphant.

BRUSH, THE MAGICIAN

performed a great many entertaining, amusing, and puzzling tricks. Some of them had been seen before, some had not, but all fooled the crowd which was the reason why the crowd went. His tricks with the borrowed watch, with the cards, and with the canaries are still the subjects for speculation. And his feat of pulling half dollars from one of the Tar Baby's nurses is still a source of wonderment to that precocious infant.

The most wonderful thing about the whole entertainment was, however, the continual and continuous not stream but Mississippi River of witticisms and puns which poured from his lips even as did the great Deluge from the skies of old. Poor words were twisted into every meaning imaginable, and subjected to torture more severe than the magician himself underwent in the great Hindoo basket. But the flood pleased the crowd, which was again the reason why the crowd went.

The show was one of the best of its kind ever given here. It served to teach the lesson that things are often mighty crooked and that the other fellows game is a bit dangerous.

The sale of season tickets will begin at the end of this week. Twelve big games are scheduled, it will be seen, for the Hill. A ticket to all of them will cost $3.75.

Junior—I hear Briggs got into a lot of trouble with that girl he was going with.

Soph—Yes; how's that?

Junior—He married her.

Velvet

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

A good friend is the friendly coach—who comes and brings a tin of Velvet and helps you in the nick of time.

Velvet is a remarkable tobacco—in these hurry-up days it takes its time. Takes two years of mellowing to take out all harshness and "bite"—make the taste rich and quality "smooth."

That's why Velvet is a helpful smoke—never irritates—just delivers the maximum of pipe pleasure—that we're all after. At all dealers.
