CAROLINA WINS THE SECOND

Defeats Amherst in an Exciting Game by Score of 11 to 10

CONTEST A FREE-FOR-ALL SWATTING BOUT

None of the Pitchers Used Seemed Able to Stop Bombardment of Hits. The Two Teams Pile up a Total of 31 Votes

In an exciting free-for-all swatting bout last Wednesday Carolina took the second game from Amherst 11 to 10. As an exhibition of modern baseball the game was about as punk as has ever been pulled off here. But as a contest for supremacy between two almost equal teams it was thrilling and nerve racking from start to finish.

Both teams had the batting eye. None of the pitchers used seemed able for a moment to stop the terrific bombardment of singles, doubles, triples and home runs. Amherst's warriors secured thirteen hits. Carolina's sluggers batted out a grand total of eighteen hits. But the awful thing about Carolina's hitting was that in five innings the team got eleven hits and only four runs. The team seemed to have the knack of mixing hits with bone headed base-running to the discredit of run-getting. The fielding of the team was off. Irby made two rank errors and Edwards' one wild throw that helped Amherst to get her first five runs. However, the team won the game. Results are what the students want, and in this case the team got the results.

The runs were made in this wise:—

First inning; Amherst: Kimball given first by Irby's error. Fitt's single advanced him to third. Burt fanned. Parkenheimer flew out to right, Kimball tagging third and scoring. Williamson flew out to center.

Carolina: Hanes walked, Edwards singled, but Hanes was thrown out catcher to third, and the chance to score was cut short. Score, Amherst 1; Carolina 0.

Second; Amherst: Went out in order.

Carolina: Leak fanned. Page singled. Bailey singled. Woods was hit by pitched ball. Hanes forced Page at the plate. Edwards singled, scoring Bailey and Woods. Irby went out second to first. Score, Amherst 1; Carolina 2.

Third; Amherst: Whitman walked. Kimball and Fitts went out second to first, Bailey hand-

"WILLIE WINGLE" EXTRAVAGANZA.

Willie Wingle and his crew will pull off a big one in Gerrard Hall tomorrow night. In other words, the Senior Stunt will take place.

The exact nature of the stunt will not be divulged by the seniors. However, it is understood to be a combination of music, wit, jokes, and mysterious magic. Shofner and Lassiter's colored gentlemen will, it is said, make a hit with the Junior Week Girls. Senator L. N. Johnston will plead a case, and Walter Barbee will attempt to tell the biggest lie of the entire performance. Frank Barker as Willie Wingle will certainly star. The quartets, solos, and choruses will set the college ringing.

Instrumental music will be furnished by Lajoie Orchestra of Winston. All the latest hits from Broadway and other places of interest have been secured. The music and words are absolutely the newest rags going.

The official title of the show is "The Willie Wingle Extravaganza." Tickets on sale at Eubanks Drug Co. Juniors see Dick Phillips at Pi Kappa Alpha Hall.

CAROLINA-WAKE FOREST TRACK MEET.

The first intercollegiate track meet of the season will take place Friday afternoon at 3:30 when Carolina clashes with Wake Forest.

It promises to be one of the fastest, closest, and best contested meets of the year. Wake Forest as usual is going to send up a team with blood in its eyes and the firm determination, if possible, to trail the White and Blue in the dust. The Baptist team is going to do its very best to accomplish this task. A certain baseball game that happened near Fayetteville not long ago has left a nasty taste in the mouth of a few Wake Forest students. A good victory over Carolina would bring the keenest joy to their hearts.

The way things stand now Wake Forest is going to come dangerously near accomplishing its fell purpose. The Baptists have a stronger team than ever before. Last week they rubbed it into A & M 68 to 48. They are especially strong in the jumps and sprints. On the other hand, Carolina has suffered several accidents that have weakened her team. Winston was put out by an operation. Atkinson, captain, has just recovered from typhoid fever. Axley, who was training in his place, has broken his shoulder blade. These accidents make Carolina weak in the sprints and hammer throw.

In the distance races, however, Carolina will be on the job with the goods. Spence, Patterson, C. Cobb, Jr., Blalock, Wakeley, and Parker are in good form. "Pat" broke Hoffman's State record for the half mile last week. Barker and Woolcott in the hurdles and Parker, C. in the shot put will show up well. George Strong in the pole vault is going good.

The teams are thought to be about equal. A hotly fought meet is expected.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

The attraction for Friday night will be the Glee Club and Orchestra concert. The musicians intend to make their performance one of the main features of the week. Only a short while ago the Music Club toured Western North Carolina, and all the cities

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

Delegates from Frats Meet and Organize to Promote Cooperation.

The fraternities, after having discussed the matter fully, took final steps last Wednesday night toward forming a Pan Hellenic Council. Two years ago, and again last year attempts that were made to form such a council failed completely on account of a desire to give to said council certain powers and permission to discuss political questions. The council recently formed is absolutely without power and political discussions are debarred. Provision has been made for these things in the following articles of organization and government which have been unanimously accepted by the representatives who compose the council:

PREAMBLE

We, the undersigned representatives of our respective fraternities, in order to promote a more perfect co-operation among the fraternities on all questions relating to their welfare and the well-being and best interest of the University of North Carolina, do hereby ordain and establish these articles of organization and government:

Art. I. The name of this organization shall be the "Pan Hellenic Council."

Art. II. The council shall be composed of one official representative from each fraternity desiring to be represented in this body.

Art. III. Sec. 1. The officers of this council shall consist of a chairman and a secretary, to be elected at the first meeting in each scholastic year.

Sec. 2. The duties of the chairman shall be to preside at all meetings of the council and call meetings at the request of the official representatives of any three fraternities.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep an accurate record of all the proceedings of the council and publish such resolutions as it shall direct.

Art. IV. All actions taken by the council shall be in the form of resolutions, said resolutions being merely recommendatory, and in no way binding upon the fraternities.

Art. V. College politics, in any shape or form, shall not enter into the discussions of this council.

Art. VI. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the withdrawal of any fraternity from this council.

Art. VII. These articles shall not be suspended, amended, or changed in form or substance except by a unanimous vote of the representatives of all the fraternities.

LIBRARY RECEIVES TWO GIFTS

Private Collections of Edward Graham Daves and Richard Battle Given

SOME VALUABLE BOOKS IN BOTH SETS

Daves, though not an Alumnus, a Native of this State and Took Great Interest in N. C. Matters—Battle's Gift Another Service to U. N. C.

The library of the University has recently received two very valuable gifts from friends of the University. The first is a gift from the library of the late Edward Graham Daves, of Baltimore, of five hundred volumes. The gift is made to the University by the family of Mr. Daves.

This set of belle lettres is a comprehensive collection of books on the finer things of literature and history. Poetry, the drama essays, critical and historical studies in literature, histories of England and France, biographies, French and Italian and Grecian classics, and a few novels make up the bulk of the collection. Shakespeare Coleridge, Chaucer, De Quincey, Schiller, Wordsworth, Tennyson, Taine, Cowper, Addison, Dante, Grote, Guizot, Macauley, Knight, and Milton are among the authors whose works are in the collection.

Edward Graham Daves, a portion of whose library thus becomes a part of the University was born in New Bern, March 31, 1833. His family had been prominently connected with the public affairs of the Eastern part of the State.

He began his education at New Bern Academy. Although he never came to the University he later had the benefit of the instruction of Rev. F. M. Hubbard, afterwards professor of Latin at the University.

Daves entered Harvard at seventeen. He was a fellow student of Charles W. Eliot, Bishop Perry, Furness, the younger Agassiz, and Phillips Brooks. He graduated with second honors, entered the Harvard Law School, finished the course and settled at Baltimore, Maryland. He was immediately elected to the Greek professorship at Trinity College, Hartford, accepted, and for five years devoted himself to the duties of this position.

In 1861 he went to Europe. He travelled much but finally settled at Vevey on Lake Geneva where he established a private school for American boys. In 1871 Daves returned to Baltimore and
