FIRST ANNUAL INTERSCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET WON BY HIGH POINT HIGH SCHOOL

Nearly One Hundred Young Athletes Contest Together and Make the Meet a Grand Success. Friendship Wins Division Meet

The first annual interscholastic track meet of the University of North Carolina was won by High Point School on Friday the 11th, with Friendship School of Alamance County second and Horner School third. The annual meet of the county schools of the east-central district held at the same time, was won by Friendship. Cary was second and East Durham third.

From every point of view this first attempt at a scholastic meet was a splendid success and it reflects much credit on the Greater Council and the track department under whose supervision all arrangements were made and every detail carried out. Immediately after the High School Debating Union's debate was held here with such encouraging success, the Greater Council saw the possibilities of an interscholastic track meet worked out on the same general principles. Plans were begun and together with Coach Cartmel and Captain Patterson, and Manager Stokes of the track team perfected every arrangement. The young athletes were given rooms in the different dormitories and their entertainment was entirely in the hands of the students. The Alumni, the faculty and the students all contributed to help defray the expenses and to buy the handsome medals and cups given to the winners. Nearly a hundred athletes competed together and their excellent performances made the meet an unqualified success. High Point's victory was due to the work of Hoffman and Barton who between them corraled 21 points. Friendship's 17 points earned second place over Horner's 19. Raleigh was close on their heels with 15, and Greensboro had 12. Graham made 7, Huntersville 6, Goldsboro 3, Hillsboro 3, Bingham 2, and Jamestown 1.

In the county school division Friendship won easily with 33 points. Cary, who was represented by only one man, Green but his work was the most impressive of either meet. He won the 100-yard dash, the 220, the broad-jump and the shot-put and was second in the hammer-throw. His broad-jump of 20 feet and 9 inches ranks along with any college performance in the State.

Other notable performances were the pole-vault, tied by Mills and Bowen of Raleigh at 9 feet 7 inches; the high-jump of B. Isley at 5 feet 5 1/4 inches; the half-mile, won by Ranson of Huntersville in 2 minutes and 14 seconds, and the quarter of Moser in 56 3/5 seconds. The last was in the more creditable since Moser had run the mile just a few minutes before. The relay race for the championship of the state was won by Friendship, with Goldsboro second, Horner third and High Point fourth.

The Friendship boys, who made such a fine showing, always do well in track. They won the division county High School meet in Greensboro last year. Among the well-known athletes developed there are Captain Earl Patterson and young Hazel Patterson and Homewood, all of Carolina.

Hoffman of High Point who won the 220 and hurdles and came second in the broad jump, is a brother of Joe Hoffman, one of the best track men Carolina has ever had. All the Chapel Hill youngsters rooted for Hutchins, their sole representative. He came second in the 220 and in the 100.

Below follows the complete list of events:

Interscholastic events: 100-yard dash-Klingman of Horner first; Perry of Graham second, Allen of Goldsboro third, Wyrick of Greensboro fourth. Time, 11 seconds.

220-yard dash-Hoffman of High Point first, McAlister of Greensboro second, Williams of Graham third, Morphew of Horner fourth, time, 24 3/5 seconds.

120 yard low hurdles-Hoffman of High Point first, Holding of Horner second, Cousar of Bingham third; time, 17 seconds.

THE TRIANGULAR DEBATES SATURDAY

Carolina, Virginia, and Hopkins Meet Each Other on Neutral Ground

VIRGINIA AND HOPKINS DEBATE HERE

Taylor and Busby Will Meet Virginia in Baltimore; Graham and Tillett Against Hopkins

The triangular debates between Carolina, Virginia, and John Hopkins will take Saturday night, April 19. Carolina meets Virginia in Baltimore and Johns Hopkins in Charlottesville. Here in Chapel Hill the University will have the honor of hearing Virginia and Johns Hopkins. The query is the same in all cases: "Resolved, That without regard to the obligations of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty the tolls of the Panama Canal should be the same for the merchant vessels of all nations.

Against Virginia Carolina will be represented by W. F. Taylor and J. C. Busby who will uphold the negative side of the question. Against Johns Hopkins in Charlottesville Frank P. Graham and W. S. Tillett will fight for the affirmative. These are the men who won out in the preliminaries four weeks ago. Since that time they have worked without ceasing on the final details of their speeches. The fine points of team work and the preparations of rejoinders have all been completed and everything is in readiness.

The debate between Virginia and John Hopkins will take place in Gerrard Hall beginning at 8 o'clock. Hopkins with the affirmative will be represented by Messrs. Leo Walman and Lindsay Rogers. The Virginia debaters are Messrs. Henry Hayman Kanter and Charles Maurice Durance. With the interesting query and speakers of high ability there is every prospect of a big audience.

The judges will be members of the faculty: Drs. C. L. Raper and J. G. deR. Hamilton, Professors E. K. Graham and H. H. Williams, and Dean L. P. McGehee of the Law Department.

TEAM IS OFF TO VIRGINIA

The baseball team will leave Chapel Hill Thursday for a three game trip into Virginia. On Friday the 18th they take another shot at Virginia. On Saturday they go on up to Lexington and strike Washington and Lee and V. M. I. on the 19th and the 21st. The chances are that Aycock will again face Virginia and he will likely be opposed by the south paw Grant who pitched the last two innings in Greensboro. Graves will then be sent against Washington and Lee and Aycock back against V. M. I. The team seems to be in tip top condition right now and should get away with all three games.

John Hall Manning represented the local chapter of the Zeta Psi fraternity at the recent convention in Boston.

Robert Strange, Jr. has been initiated into the Senior Order of the Golden Fleece.

BAILEY AND AYCOCK LIFT THE GREENSBORO JINX AND N. C. WINS, 5 TO 4

Virginia Beaten in an Exciting Game. Bailey's Three-Bagger Puts It on Ice and Aycock's Superb Pitching Keeps It There

Hubert Bailey's three base smash with the bases full broke up the Virginia game in Greensboro Monday and at the same time lifted that jinx which from the time immemorial has withheld Carolina from victory in Cone Park. Facing a lead of two runs garnered in the first inning Carolina bided her time and in the third the break came. When the dust had settled and the shouting and tumult had died away, five runners had crossed the home plate and the victory was in sight.

Then it was that young Mr. Aycock showed the Old Dominion boys what pitching was. He knew that he had to hold that lead and hold it he did. In the fifth they slipped one run across on him and in the seventh they got another, but he never lost his head. He had the old curve ball breaking the corners and behind him the team was fielding in big league style. In the eighth Virginia had a man on second and none down. It looked squally, but the little Governor was at his best and sailed out to clear water. In the ninth just to show them how much he did have he struck out the first two batters and caused the third to fly out.

It was a great Carolina-Virginia game and for thrills will rank along with the best of them. The crowd numbered around 3,000, not so many as in former years because of the various postponements. When rain butted in at Greensboro on the 11th and again at Raleigh's game on the 12th, it looked as though the two teams would never come together and the Athletic Association began looking around for a receiver. But Graduate Manager McLendon persuaded Virginia to stay over on the chance that sun would shine Monday. It was a wise move. The crowd showed all kinds of enthusiasm and White and Blue pennants were there in abundance. When Carolina rushed ahead in the third, a grand demonstration took place. The grandstand, bleachers, and side lines rose en masse and their victorious shouts sounded all the more glorious after the lean years.

With the exception of one bad inning Pitcher Neff handled the situation pretty well for Virginia and pulled out of several holes in his seven innings. In the eighth Grant replaced Neff, the latter going to short in place of White. In his two innings Grant pitched to but six men.

Aycock did not start off auspiciously. Finley, who played a great game, drove one of his first offerings through short and stole second on the next pitch. Phillips was passed and Neff advanced both runners with a sacrifice. Lile came across with a hot liner down the third base line and both runners scored.

The game was put on ice in the third inning. Karl Bailey started off with a clean single and Leak walked. Edwards hit over Neff's head and every body was safe. A mighty cry went up when Johnson came to the bat. Neff kept his head and his sharp breaking curves fanned Carlin's best slugger. But his curves broke too fast with Williams, one of them catching him on the knee and sending him to first while Baily strolled home. With three men still on Thompson drove to short. The play was made to catch Williams at second, but he beat the throw. Leak scored and still the bases were soured. Hubert Baily was the man of the hour. He caught a fast one squairly and lined it out. Edwards, Williams, and Thompson romped home and Baily stopped at third. Pandemonium broke loose.

Virginia played desperately after that and was always dangerous. In the fifth a hit batsman and Finley's single brought one across. Again in the seventh the irrepressible Finley drove a legitimate single to left. By great speed and a Ty Cobb slide he stretched it to a double. Phillip's hit counted him. The best chance to tie the score came in the eighth and Aycock never showed to better advantage. With a runner on second and none out, Beckwith's sacrifice sent him to third. But there was nothing doing. Stickey popped up and Green fanned.

Aycock put everything he had on the ball in the ninth and fanned Grant. Finley who had previously hit safely three times went by the same rout. The crowd called for a third strike-out on Phillips, but with two strikes against him he lifted a long fly to Bailey and the game was won.

The work of Williams at third, Thompson in left and Bailey in center had much to do with Carolina's victory. Bailey hauled in several long drives. Stickey at third was easily the star for Virginia and his brilliant stops cut down the number of hits. Finley led both teams in batting with a double and two singles.
