

CAROLINA IS OUT OF THE RUNNING

Wake Forest Wins Deciding Game of Series By 3 Point Lead

EACH TEAM MADE ELEVEN FIELD GOALS

Before 800 people Carolina lost to Wake Forest by three points in Raleigh Auditorium Tuesday night and is apparently out of the championship contest. Carolina played its best game in the last half, when she came within three points of overcoming a seven point lead. There was an unusually large number of fouls called and two men should have been disqualified for having too many personal fouls chalked up against them. There were 27 fouls in all. The closest Homewood ever got to the game was not 3, infirmity, Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Roy's cheeks are trying to imitate a person having mumps.

From beginning to end the score was close. Wake Forest sprang into the lead a little at first because of a favorably placed basket. In the second half Carolina pulled up to within two points of their opponents but before more could be done, first a foul goal by the Baptists and then the referees whistle closed the contest.

The work on both sides was characterized by good team work. Holding, the Wake Forest star, did not shine as brightly as usual the cause being the guarding of Chambers who put up a fine class of work. He, however had a shade on Long on foul tossing. Capt. Long and Dowd, as usual, were there with the cage work. Some of their passing was splendid. Johnson is developing into a first rater at center and gives any man a lot of trouble. Tennent marred his usual fine work by numerous fouls and it was foul goals that lost the game.

Although the game was announced as the championship decider that is by no means correct as Trinity with difficulty defeated Wake Forest Monday night. The latter two teams must play off their tie and even after that Elon will have a claim as she has won at least one game from every Carolina team she has played this season. Guilford is entirely out of the contest and of course A. & M. has never been in except the papers.

Captain Long and his team left Wednesday afternoon on the Virginia trip. The first game scheduled is in Lynchburg.

MR. MERCER PUTS OVER THE GOODS

Tonight "Down and Out and Up Again." His Own Life Story

WEATHERFORD AND HURREY TO BE HERE.

The largest gathering of students that has been in Gerrard Hall this year gave added power to the stirring message of E. C. Mercer last night. His subject was: "The Fight of Every Red Blooded College Man—Purity" Before the bell had finished ringing there was little standing room down stairs and in a few moments the gallery was almost full. Mr. Mercer caught the attention of the men as he jumped right into the midst of his message and held their rapt interest to an impressive end. Plain facts collected in the laboratory of college life all over America and the personal appeal of his own life found response in the mind and heart of his audience.

Throughout the address his heart went out to college men of vigor and energy as they fight the hardest fight of their lives. He based his appeal for clean manhood on practical grounds of business efficiency and on the higher grounds of the glory of victorious Christian character. Experiences with college men in Sing Sing, in the New York missions, in the Bowery breadline, letters and personal interviews reenumerated, fact upon fact, enforced his development of the evolution of sin in the lives of college men everywhere.

With this background of facts and experience he gave as ways to victory over social and secret impurity practical suggestions which included the physiology of cold water and vigorous exercise and the psychology of turning to an interesting chapter in a book, the picture of a fine girl, and the substitution of the brain for thought. Finally he appealed to the students to get the power of God in their lives and follow Christ. Some of the sentences picked at random follow:

"I wish I were as iron that I might burn one text into your hearts. 'Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he someday reap.'"

"A pretty face has sent many a man to hell."

"What's the use of learning truth unless you follow it?"

"Sin has an evolution."

"Selfishness is the biggest sin against God but the most far reaching are drink and sexual impurity."

"Drink precedes ninety-five per cent of all crimes which land men behind prison bars."

"More men go to hell through ignorance than through wilfulness."

"Drink is a moral anesthetic."

"It is better to be green than to be rotten."

"Prayer has helped more men than anything I know."

After his talk Mr. Mercer met a large number of the men per-

CAROLINA PLAYS A THRILLING GAME

Guilford No Match For Rejuvenated Team. Score Almost Tripled.

JOHNSON PLAYS RINGS AROUND "BIG ED"

From a spectators view point the game with Guilford on last Thursday night was one of the best of the season, fast and interesting from start to finish. For four minutes after the game opened neither side scored. Then Guilford shot two field goals. Here the enthusiasm of the expostulating crowd in the balcony seemed to descend upon the players, for the game picked up remarkably in pep. When Carolina finally started to score, her goals kept getting more and more frequent, until at the end of the first half the score stood 17-7.

In the second half Guilford seemed to feel considerable hesitancy in throwing her first goal. Carolina's score, however, continued to mount up. Guilford fought hard, but none of her players could throw goals. When the final whistle blew Carolina was ahead 38-13. Among the opposing team was recognized the face of our own former player, "Big Ed", looming up at center. Long's and Dowd's goal shooting distinguished the game, while the tenacity of Tennent and Homewood always kept things lively. Johnson, as usual, played an excellent game.

The lineup follows:

Carolina	Position	Guilford
	r. f.
Long		Benbow
	l. f.
Dowd		Moorfield
	c.
Johnson		Edwards
	r. g.
Tennent		Stuart

Homewood		McBaine

NEW SOHRAB AND RUSTUM

Earle Mack and Connie to Meet in Duel.

According to a recent and authentic report, the Washington and Lee game of April 15th has been called off on account of conflicting eligibility rules, and Carolina will play a substitute game with the Philadelphia Athletics in Durham on April 1. The present schedule calls for games with Amherst on both March 31 and April 1. By playing Amherst a double header on March 31, Carolina will thus have April 1 open to play the Athletics. This will not be an additional but a substitute game, and the number of Carolina's games will consequently not be increased.

On March 17-19th State Association of Road Engineers and County Superintendents will hold its meeting in Peabody Building.

CORRECT STATEMENT OF OUR FINANCES

The following statement from Treasurer Woollen gives the exact condition of the Athletic Association up to date, excluding basketball. It is an improvement over the statement recently published in the Tar Heel in that it concerns only matters handled by the Student Athletic Association, not by the Alumni Committee. Several items in the first statement, notably part of the salaries and expenses of the football coaches and of the high school contests, belonged rightly to the Alumni. Further, a mistake was found in Cartmell's salary the Athletic Association paying only $750. This present statement shows that the condition of the Association is much better than first reported, the fatal deficit being less than $4,000. In justice to the Tar Heel it is only fair to say that the former statement came directly from ex-Graduate Manager McLendon.
