UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1914

NO. 29

COMMENCEMENT, THE GALA WEEK OF THE COLLEGE YEAR, WILL BEGIN MAY 31

Class Day Exercises, Society Banquet, Class Reunions, Promise to be Most Enjoyable Yet. William C. Redfield and Augustus Van Wyck to Speak

PLANS FOR DANCES ARE YET UNCERTAIN. ALUMNI BALL GAME WILL BE A FEATURE.

The Commencement exercises this year show every indication of being among the best ever held at The University. The exercises have been planned so as to be of interest to both alumni and to students. They will be entirely different from any exercises held at The University during the year, and it will be worth while to stay and see them. As the programme shows, the faculty have not let a chance go by to get good speakers. Rev. Edgar P. Hill, D. D., who is to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon is a noted clergyman of Chicago. The Rev. O. Brown, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn. was to have preached the sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday evening, but is unable to fill the engagement on account of the serious illness of his wife. This place will be filled however, by R. W. Hogue, St. Johns Episcopal church, Baltimore, formerly Rector of the Chapel of the Cross of Chapel Hill.

Who wouldn't like to be present when the Seniors in caps and gowns line up in front of Memorial Hall to march to chapel for prayers, and then to follow them in Chapel when the class day exercises are to be held? There will be heard President Leach's farewell address to his classmates, the class orators speech in presenting the class present to The University, and the vociferations of the contestants for the Mangum Medal. Then at five o'clock when the shadows on the campus are beginning to grow longer the Seniors will assemble under the Davie Poplar to read the last will and testament, the history, and the prophecy, and to smoke the pipe of peace. Everybody will then have to hurry home to supper to get ready for the annual joint banquet of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies in the Dining Hall. This is always one of the most enjoyable events of Commencement, and with Kornegay and Boushall representing the Phi, and Eutsler and Martin representing the Di there will certainly be no lack of good speakers. After the banquet the societies will hold anniversary meetings in their respective halls. To hear the Alumni tell about their college days, and the other interesting things they always tell on this occasion will alone make it worth while to stay for Commencement.

On Tuesday 2, Judge Augustus Van Wyck, one of Carolina's most distinguished Alumni, will make the alumni address. Judge Van Wyck was the third honor man of the class of 1864 in which only ten men graduated. In his Sophomore year he was class declaimer, and in his Junior year was a marshal. At commencement of his senior year he was to have delivered the Senior oration, but at that time he was delivering something hotter than a class oration in June to the Union army at some point in Virginia, possibly Bull Run or Appomattox. The reunion exercises of the classes of 1864, 1889, 1894, 1904, 1909, will then follow, together with the Alumni luncheon and Alumni baseball games in the afternoon. Tuesday night the debate between the two societies and the Faculty Reception in the library will be held.

Wednesday morning the Faculty and graduates line up in front of the Alumni building and march with the band to Memorial Hall. The exercises there will be begun with the commencement address by Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, the tariff specialist, who, however, will not speak on the tariff. Then the President will announce the winners of the various prizes, the degrees conferred and the Bibles presented. Then everything will be over but the dances, which will start Wednesday night. As yet nothing definite is known about the dances; where they will be held, where the music will come from is all conjecture, but they will be fine. The details can not be given here, but every man who stays to commencement is guaranteed a good time that he will long remember.

CAROLINA TAKES THE FOURTH PLACE

Annual S. A. I. A. A. Track Meet at Hopkins with Eight Colleges.

CAROLINA SCORES THIRTEEN POINTS.

Due to the decisive enthusiasm of Manager "Pap" Whitaker, the valuable assistance of Coach Kent J. Brown, and the sympathetic support of the student body, manifested by financial contributions, Carolina was represented by ten men in the South Atlantic Intercollegiate Track Meet at Baltimore, May 2 and 3, winning 13 points, and fourth place in the list of eight competing colleges.

On the first day of the meet, Friday, May 2, the preliminaries to all events except the mile and two miles were run off. Carolina had the following men to qualify: Sears, 100 yards; Smith, 220 yards; Patterson, quarter; Whiting, half; Woolcott, broad jump; and Strong and Homewood, pole vault.

Scores in the finals on the next day were made as follows:

Strong, tied for first in the pole vault	4 points
Sears, third in 100	2 "
Smith, third in 220	2 "
Cobb, third in 2 miles	2 "
Woolcott, fourth in broad jump	1 "
Patterson, fourth quarter	1 "
Whiting, fourth in half	1 "
Total	13 "

This gave Carolina fourth place among the eight competitors:

Virginia	57 points
Georgetown	31 "
Hopkins	30 "
Carolina	13 "
V. P. I.	10 "
W. & L.	1 "
St. Johns	0 "
Richmond Col.	0 "
Total	142 "

This was the third annual S. A. I. A. A. meet, all three having been held on the superb field of Johns Hopkins University, Homewood Athletic Park. The meet was well directed by the officials, and all the events were hotly contested by the concentrated rivalry of the many big institutions. Carolina's part in the contest, while not victorious, was at least a creditable one. Our representation there must be continued, if we expect to claim recognition in South Atlantic Track Athletics, and if we expect our track team to grow with the teams of our sister institutions.

"Red" Back on the Job.

"Red" Litchfield who was left in the V. M. I. hospital when the team played at Lexington returned Saturday after a week's tussle with fever. He is feeling tip-top now. His absence from the team for the trip further north was felt both in the playing and in the social way.

Frank Graham has been in attendance at the John R. Mott campaign at Washington and Lee University.

CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

Exciting Campaign Offers Keen Surprises.

The rising senior class Thursday afternoon elected officers for their last year as follows: George Eutsler over B. L. Field, President, O. C. Nance, Vice-President, J. T. Day, Sec. and Treas., W. P. Fuller, Historian, D. H. Killeffer, Poet, B. L. Field, Representative on the Greater Council, R. G. Fitzgerald, Prophet, Paty, Orator, Boushall, Last Will and Testament. The class voted to declare the vice-president a member of the Greater Council, thereby making this office one of trust as well as honor.

The rising juniors elected McDaniel Lewis, President, F. F. Bradshaw, Vice-President, J. M. Parker, Secretary, F. H. Cooper, Treasurer, W. B. Umstead, Historian, R. B. House, Orator, Thorpe, Poet, Meb Long, Greater Council.

The Freshmen elected E. S. Mackie, President, W. L. Polk, Vice-President, E. S. Booth Secretary, Graham Ramsay, Treasurer, O. Rand and W. R. Allen, Greater Council, C. C. Daniels, Historian, Moses Rountree, Poet, S. C. Hodgkin, Orator.

Track Captain Elected.

Phil Woolcott has been elected captain of the Track team for next year. Phil has been a varsity track man for three years and eminently deserves the place. In fact there was no contest for the election. In his Freshman year Woolcott sprang into fame first in the class meet when he copped 20 1-2 points for the Freshmen, getting first on the two hurdles, high jump, and broad jump. He raised the high jump record for the University from 5.6 to 5.8. The latter is a state record.

In the state meet he got in his first year a first and second, and last year two firsts. At V. P. I. in a dual meet with that college he got two first places and one second place. Since the beginning of his track career he has scored 64 points in seven meets for Carolina which makes him without a doubt Carolina's biggest point getter for this period.

The Athletic Council has made the following awards, Claidorne Smith, a sweater; Sears, Spence, Patterson, Whiting, Woolcott, Strong, Cobb, stars. Whitaker received a managers sweater.

Dr. Henderson was taken into Omega Delta Saturday.
