BRIGHTEST PROSPECTS MARK OPENING OF THE UNIVERSITY

President Graham and Dean Stacy Talk to Students Changes in The Faculty Campus Changes

President E. K. Graham officially opened the 120th session of the University of North Carolina and his administration as President in Memorial Hall before 1,000 students and faculty on noon Thursday. The seven Deans of the Departments, Ex-President Battle, Rev. Moss of the Presbyterian church, and President Graham occupied the platform.

After an opening prayer by Rev. Moss the student body sang the University Hymn. President Graham then made the announcements regarding faculty changes, physical changes and improvements and the enrollment to date. He then introduced Prof. Stacy, newly appointed Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, who addressed the audience on the subject of Regulations. President Graham made a speech in which he touched on the influence of the great European war on Southern education. He said, "The war will result in the greatest opportunity ever given to college men for service."

"Hail to Carolina" was sung by the student body who were then dismissed with prayer by Rev. Moss. A student rally, which immediately formed outside, gave college yells, prominent among them being one for the "New men" which shows the splendid spirit which has grown up in regard to the freshmen.

President Graham in his speech upset all fears of a subnormal registration by announcing that the latest registration figures showed 855 students registered, which is almost a hundred more than at this time last year. Last year was the University's banner year in the question of attendance. It is probable that the final figures for the year will total close to the 1,000 mark as a large number will register today and in fact the rest of the week. The announcement of the registration figures was greeted with applause.

The changes in the faculty are small. Dr. Venable enters the chemical department after fourteen years in the president's chair which was in turn preceded by sixteen years in the chemical department. Other additions are Prof. E. C. Branson, Prof. Z. B. Judd, Prof. J. H. Hanford, Prof. Foester and Instructors Dargon and Thornton.

There have been three important changes in the physical equipment of the University. The modern filtration plant is in operation. The new cooperative Dining Hall is open to students. In the matter of food this marks epoch in the history of the college. President Graham also announced that the proposed Emerson Athletic field would probably be finished by the end of the year. This field was promised at last commencement by Dr. Emerson of Baltimore, an alumnus. He is at present in Europe and construction is awaiting his return.

Prof. Stacy explained the spirit of the regulations made by the faculty for the government of the college. There are two conceptions of a college community, declared the Dean, one being that it is a case of the faculty versus the students; the other that the work of the University is a unit.

"The difference between the faculty and the students is largely a matter of age—the hopes, ideals and aims are the same. The great work of the University is the self-development of every individual element. Therefore the only regulations needed are those necessary to ensure the greatest efficiency."

President Graham made an appeal for the larger view and the higher standard of conduct. He declared the student's life here could be made what he wanted it to be. He can either merit the statement that "He lives in a spade wide" or he can live on the "road that leads to the end of the world."

President Graham believes that one good result of the war is making the world realize that it is concerned how the other half lives. The fact that men in North Carolina suffer because of a declaration of war on the other side of the world will eventually hasten the brotherhood of man.

"The opportunity for civilization in the United States will be matchless," he declared. "That will result in the greatest opportunity ever given to college men."

"As to whether you will lead in Southern education will be determined largely this year" he said, addressing the students.

DR. WEATHERFORD HERE

Speaks to Students To-night at Gerrard Hall

Dr. Weatherford of Vanderbilt, International Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will speak to the students in Gerrard Hall to-night. Dr. Weatherford is one of the foremost students of negro life in the South and is an orator of no uncertain reputation. He was in his college days a renowned athlete at Vanderbilt. He was here last year for a few days. Dr. Weatherford has a message for all college students.

Monday the football squad was put on the usual pledge of abstinence. About October the first the training table for the boys will be started at Swain Hall.

FOOTBALL SQUAD OFF IN MID SEASON

FORM. COACHES BEST IN SOUTH.

Team is Already Far Advanced in Knowledge of the Game. Work of Training Camp at Lake Kanuga Successful.

Led by Head Coach "Doggie" Trenchard and coaches Cunningham and Bluethenthal a squad of more than sixty men have answered the call for fall practice. And have you noticed the appearance of the squad this year? The fellows have a knowledge of the game. They look like veterans.

The preliminary work, such as blocking, punting, falling on the ball, receiving punts, making and receiving passes, is under way. The men are not only being instructed on the field, but at night, talks are given by the coaches, rules are being learned and discussed. Sure, rule books are made to study as well as to contain photographs.

For the first signal practise the team lined up as follows: quarter, Allen; halves, Capt. Tayloe and Fuller; Ervin, Full; ends, Home-wood and Grimsley; tackles, Ramsey and Jones; guards, Cowell and Foust; centre, Tandy. All save Grimsley and Jones were from last year's varsity, and Jones was varsity centre two years ago.

Competition? Well, yes. There is a group of men fighting for every position. Among those who are trying to supplant Home-wood and Huske as ends are Harry Grimsley, Meb Long, "Icky" Bourne, Love, and Wright of last year's scrubs; Nicholson an ex '11 man, "Babe" Williamson, Coleman; Erwin, a prep man. Williamson starred on the class field last year, while Coleman is one of the best punters on the field.

Red Allen, last year's quarter, will have opposition in Bridges, a star from Castle Heights, and in Valley from last year's A. & M. squad. Bridges is the heaviest, passes well, and is fast.

Capt. Dave Tayloe, "Pling" Fuller, Ervin, and Parker of last year's varsity backfield are back again. Reid, Tennant, Bill Pope, and "Scipio" Burnett were scrubs last year. Promising new men are Blount, Tanner, Black, Pierson, and Denning.

Cowell and Foust, (He of the twinkling toe) have strong opposition at guard. Andrews, Bullock, and Proctor were here last year. Holding C., Price, Nelson, a Fishburne Academy boy, John Tayloe, Capt. Dave's brother, Stucey, Haisell, and Burgess are promising.

Big Ab's absence leaves a vacancy at tackle. Ramsay, according to Coach Wilson, "the best seventeen year old tackle I ever saw", is again in his position. Among those who are trying for "Capt. Ab's" place are Jim Pritchett, a scrub two years ago, Hambley of Asheville School, Holding, G.; Marsh, Spain, Hogan, Perry, and Wilson.

At centre, Yank Tandy, star linesman of last year's varsity, will find Higgins, of last year's scrubs, Jones, and several others opposed to him.

Doggie says that the team is two weeks ahead of that of last year's in knowledge of the game, in experience, and condition. That is directly traceable to three things, spring practice, the summer camp, and organized class and High School ball.

Added to the good material, Carolina has the best coaching staff in the South—even better than that of last year if such a thing is possible. As backfield coach Pendleton's place is taken by Cunningham, Princeton '11, Cunningham is rated as one of the four best coaches in the country—the others being Haughton of Harvard, "Hurry Up" Yost of Michigan, and Williams of Minnesota. Instead of Wilson, line coach, we have Bluethenthal a native of Wilmington and conceded to be one of the best centres that Princeton ever had. Doggie will take care of the ends. "Nuff said."

On account of the Summer Training Camp at Kannuga Lake in August the team is far ahead of last year's at this same time. The boys are well trained even now in the fine points of the game and are ready for scrimmaging. The scrimmaging has already begun and the boys are only too glad to get in there and scrap. Come out and watch them fight.

THE STAR COURSE

It Stars of Course!

The season tickets for the Star Course are now being sold at Patterson's Drug Store. They are going at a pretty good pace at present.

As outlined in the Chapel Monday morning there will be five cracking good shows put over this season. Edwin Weeks leads off and the Dunaway Company presenting "The Lady of the Decoration" closes. The Hall-Ribeldoffer-Skibinsky Company Grand Opera, is the Star Attraction, it being secured at quite a sacrifice.

The general opinion is that this season's shows will be the best ever given and students are rapidly taking on to the new season ticket arrangement. The faculty will have a central portion of the downstairs set aside for them.

Alumni Review Will Appear October 1st

The first Fall number of the Alumni Review will appear about October the first, and thereafter about the middle of each month until June. It will come out earlier in October than the usual time in order to announce to the Alumni the plans for University Day on October 12th.
