EARLY BASKETBALL.

Carolina has never put out as good a basketball team as she was potentially capable of putting out. This is due to lack of preparation. That evil should be remedied as far as possible this year. Practically all of the varsity men are just now engaged in football. Captain Long, centre Tandy, forwards Tennent and Davis, and guard Homewood are all on the gridiron. Now is the time, therefore, to start a class series.

Last year witnessed the first class basketball on the Hill. This came as the result of a suggestion by the Greater Council. It came too late in the year to accomplish more than show its possibilities. What is needed is a man with push and enthusiasm to take charge of the arrangements. Most of the class managers have been elected. We respectfully call it to the attention of Captain Long that he will increase his chances of a winning team by seeing that such a man is found. There is no excuse for the development of the team to be hindered by a too small squad as it was last year.

THE FIRST STAGE.

The first stage of the 1914 football season is passed. The preliminary game has been played with highly satisfactory results so far as the score is concerned. The coaches are now working on definite defects in the machine instead of emphasizing general results. It may appear at first to the new man and the scrub man that his chances of making the team are now rather slim. On the contrary, he is now receiving more consideration than at any time so far this year. Men are wanted to do certain definite things. The coaches are looking for the man who can do those things best and second and third best.

Of the eleven men who started the first game last year, four started the last game. Now is the time to redouble your efforts.

BIBLE STUDY.

Last year one hundred and forty-seven men signed up to study the Bible on the first night of the canvas. This year three hundred and seven signed under similar circumstances. With an initial enrollment of one hundred and forty-seven and an initial attendance of one hundred and fifty-four the Bible Study groups met for twenty-two weeks and closed with an actual attendance of one hundred and forty-two, only five behind the first enrollment figures. It is fair to assume, therefore, that the attendance this year will hold up to the first enrollment figures.

What is the cause of this more than doubling in interest in Bible study? It is our opinion that this large enrollment is a tribute to the work of Mr. T. C. Boushall, Chairman of Bible Study; and Mr. Frank Graham, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. They worked out and put through a systematic policy which had no loose pins nor bolts. The students have shown that they believe Bible study under such conditions is highly profitable.

THE PICKWICK.

Ordinarily student disturbances are outbursts of animal exuberance and as such should be regarded tolerantly. The conduct at the Pickwick does not seem to be of that nature.

Last spring certain public spirited citizens set in motion an agitation to abolish rowdiness at the Pickwick. Since that time practically every class and every organization has declared against the conduct there. Steadily there has been accumulating a weight of student sentiment in favor of decency and quiet. This sentiment is now held by every man on the campus. The time has come, therefore, when decided steps should be taken. Student sentiment has expressed itself. The thoughtful have obeyed that sentiment by maintaining order. Hereafter those who do not maintain order must be designated by some other name than merely "thoughtless".

We are informed that half a dozen or less are responsible for all the disturbance. A thousand men cannot afford to allow that number of men to dominate the tone of the Pickwick. The Pickwick is the last stand of the old order of things. The spirit of irresponsibility and rowdiness that comes from there must be stopped.

1914 Celebrates.

The faithful "Fourteeners" held their first smoker as graduates in the Mission room of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night. Twenty-one out of the graduating class of seventy-five are taking graduate work this year. No class at Carolina has ever returned so many men to the University the year after graduation. A very enjoyable evening of smokes, speeches, and "cats" is reported.

Miss Corpening Taking Medicine.

The first young lady to register in North Carolina for a medical course is Miss Cora Z. Corpening of Mars Hill. She has registered for work in the first year class at the University.

RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED

Greater Council at Work on Pickwick Situation.

In view of the discredit reflected upon the entire student body by the nightly disorder in the Pickwick, we, as elected representatives of that body believing that we express a prevailing sentiment, do hereby resolve:

That, as the Pickwick is a place for public entertainment, there is no justification for the conduct of any student or group of students interfering with the enjoyment of others.

That as the Pickwick is as much worthy of gentlemanly conduct as any other part of the campus or town, no man or group of men has any right by his conduct there to lower the moral standard of the campus life.

In accordance with the above resolutions we do further resolve that each of us will do all that lies within his power to awaken and to strengthen the public sentiment against these violations of community law.
