SHAKESPEARE PAGEANT APRIL 24, 25

The Chapel Hill Community Club Offers Its Assistance

April 24 and 25 are the dates set for Chapel Hill to don the dress of Elizabethan England and, instead of being just a small North Carolina town, to appear as a village in which will be reflected some of the romance, customs and life of the days of Queen Bess.

Chapel Hill is a real village—a combination of community life with surroundings half-rural—and Chapel Hill is probably the only place in North Carolina of this type. It is a place admirably suited by nature for the presentation of scenes of an age when Morris dancers and May-pole crowds drew people from homes merry making on the greens of the English villages. There could hardly be found a better place than the campus of the University for the presentation of dances and scenes of Elizabethan life.

The principal business of acting or the interpretation of the scenes selected from Shakespeare's plays will naturally fall to the students. Falstaff, Prince Hal, and their tavern companions, Hamlet, Prospero, Touchstone and Audrey are the principal characters in the selected scenes; but there are other parts of less significance, such as the players of "Pyramus and Thisbe" from the "Midsummer Night's Dream," loafers in the tavern (Henry IV), and also as many properly costumed persons as can be obtained to appear in the various scenes.

Valuable assistance in making the Shakespearean celebration successful will also be rendered by the Chapel Hill Community Club. The question of proper costuming, which is a very serious question in the undertaking, will be partly solved by the aid of the ladies of the Community Club. Members of the club are also attending to the musical part of the program. The effectiveness of some of the scenes presented will be greatly increased by the introduction of various dances. The rural merry-making scene, based on "A Winter's Tale" IV, 4, will contain a Morris dance, May-pole dances, and children's dances. The Community Club is also securing the best vocal talent possible to render the various lyrics that occur in the scenes.

CAROLINA 2; OAK RIDGE 3 RABY TENNENT IS CAPTAIN

First Game of Season Played Will Pilot Carolina's Basketball Team Next Year

By a score of 3 to 2, Carolina unexpectedly lost the first game of the season Friday to Oak Ridge. The game was close and interesting throughout, though slow.

Carolina scored easily in the first inning but was unable to prove dangerous afterwards except in the eighth when Barnes swatted a homer between left and center. Oak Ridge made one of her runs in the fifth and the other two in the sixth.

The new Emerson Field was used for the first time and the stadium was almost filled.

The game with the exception of Barnes' home run was practically featureless. Carolina, however, discovered two new stars in Pippin who came in with some good hits when they were needed and in Massey who hit well and did some pretty base-running and fielding. Both teams were neck and neck in every department of the game except base running in which Carolina easily excelled her opponents.

In the first inning when Carolina's lead-off man, Massey, came in home on Pippin's two-bagger, a University victory seemed sure. The score remained one to nothing for Carolina until Oak Ridge's half of the fifth.

Then with one out Wrenn singled to right. Truelove hit a grounder to Cuthrell who threw to second trying for a double. Massey dropped the ball and both were safe. Both advanced a base when Cuthrell threw to second to catch Wrenn napping and Royster missed the ball. Richardson was out, pitcher to first. Then Barnes singled by third and scored Wrenn.

In the sixth inning Oak Ridge put across two more runs and won the game. Coble, first up, was out on a pop fly. Mayberry singled over second. Mayberry went to second on Hart's error. Huffman drew a pass; Mayberry went to third. Mayberry scored when a moment later Hart let one of Cuthrell's shoots escape him. Huffman went to third and scored later on Cuthrell's wild pitch.

Carolina rallied desperately in the last of the ninth. Three pinch hitters were put in. Lewellyn

At a meeting of the basketball squad Monday, Raby Tennent was elected captain of the basketball team for next season. Tennent has played a consistent star game at right guard for three years and has now been chosen to lead the team in his fourth year. The class of '17 is peculiarly gifted in the art of basketball. The varsity team of their freshman year is practically the same team as now. Johnson, Tandy, Tennent and Andrews secured a place on the team at the very start and have successfully held it three years. Davis made his letter in his Sophomore year and has played good ball this season. The class of '17 would probably have boasted of every man on the team from their class next year, if Andrews had not withdrawn from college at the end of the fall term.

Johnson and Tennent, both of this class will have the distinction of not only making the team for four years but also of leading it a season apiece.

Fire at Mayor Robinson's

The placid calm of campus life was smashed to pieces early Wednesday afternoon when the Chapel Hill fire department was called out to extinguish a blaze that had been discovered in the roof of Mayor Robinson's house. The big truck created no little excitement as it tore down the street, swerved around "busy corner," and slowed down in true municipal form before the scene of the disaster. The hose was immediately connected to a nearby hydrant and the work of the rescuing crew was on. Head chief Herndon wielded the nozzle while Roy Homewood with his bucket brigade administered aqua pura to the flames. By hard and persistent fighting some headway was soon made and in due season the flames gave up and the Chapel Hill Fire Department as well as its entire municipal corps was king of the day. The danger from the fire was, however, replaced by the danger of a flood, for nobody could turn off the hose. Somebody finally had to make a trip to the hydrant and cut off the flow there.

The damage wrought by the conflagration to the Carraway-Robinson Corporation estimated as not more than $3.13, was partly covered by insurance and surety bonds.

HARD SURFACED ROAD FROM HERE TO DURHAM

Building of Splendid Boulevard Proposed

A scheme was launched for splendid hard-surfaced boulevard between Chapel Hill and Durham at a well attended meeting of representative business men of Durham with the local board of trade in the Masonic Hall last Friday night in Durham. The present wretched condition of the highway is felt to be a disgrace to Orange and Durham counties. This road, which is twelve miles long, has a strategic location which demands that it should be one of the best in the state. Over it travel students from every part of North Carolina. Every year at the Road Institute in Chapel Hill it is observed by road engineers and commissioners from all quarters of the state. As a model road it would thus have a great educational influence.

The rapidly increasing traffic between the towns demands good road constantly kept in first class condition. A hard-surfaced road would increase the transportation facilities, perhaps to half-hourly service. The meeting was unanimous in its approval of the project. Hearty cooperation was promised in speeches by Mr. K. O. Everett of the Durham Chamber of Commerce, Mr. I. E. Bugg of the Durham Rotary Club, Mr. W. H. Muse of the Durham Retail Merchants' Association, and Col. John S. Cunningham, a delegate-at-large. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, Dr. L. A. Webb, and Mr. R. L. Strow spoke for Chapel Hill. President A. S. Wheeler, of the Chapel Hill Board of Trade, will appoint a committee at once to confer with a committee in Durham with a view to pushing the project. This joint committee will next week meet in Durham and start a vigorous campaign.

It is planned to build a 16-foot boulevard with a roadway on either side. Dr. Pratt outlines plans for the boulevard, announcing that seven manufacturers of road materials had each agreed to furnish free material for paving one mile of the road. The only provision is that the county lay the road material.

ELISHA MITCHELL MEETS

Meeting is to Honor the Memory of J. A. Holmes

"A memorial meeting in honor of Joseph Austin Holmes" was the nature of the meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society in Chemistry Hall Tuesday night. Dr. F. P. Venable, who was in school with Holmes at Cornell and roomed in the same building, sketched in an interesting way, the life of his friend who assisted in founding the Elisha Mitchell society. Dr. Venable emphasized the energy and ability to lead that Holmes showed especially when he was young man. When the Geological Survey was in danger of being abolished some years ago, it was Holmes who saved it for the State.
