BASEBALL TEAM INVADES NORTH, WINNING TWO GAMES, LOSING FOUR Defeats Washington & Lee and Delaware Col- lege; Loses to Georgetown, Catholic Univ., Virginia, and Navy

In a long, but intensely interesting game, Carolina downed Washington and Lee by the score of 7 to 4.

Washington and Lee started the scoring in the fifth when Currie, pitching for Carolina, lost his poise for a few minutes and allowed four men to cross the plate. Powell, taking his place, held the opposing team down for the rest of the game.

In the eighth Pierotti, in the face of two errors, went to pieces and allowed Carolina four runs. Neither side scored until the fourteenth when three hits, a sacrifice fly, and a walk gave the Tar Heels 3 runs. Powell retired the Generals in one, two, three order thus ending a fourteen inning contest in favor of Carolina.

HOPKINS WINS DEBATE, CAROLINA MAN HELPING Carolina Wins From Virginia but Loses to Hopkins

Johns Hopkins won out Saturday night in the triangular debate by defeating Carolina at Charlottesville and Virginia at Chapel Hill.

Carolina represented by F. F. Bradshaw and T. F. Ruffin won from Virginia at Baltimore by the unanimous decision of five judges, but lost at Charlottesville in spite of the hard work of Crouse and Edney. The query was: "Resolved, That our Federal Government compel every able-bodied citizen, between the ages of 18 and 24 years to take under adequate provision, one year of military or naval training."

The debate on the Hill Saturday night was close and spirited.

Homewood, Webb, Farthing, Rand, and Blue Star for Carolina

In spite of the drizzling rain which dampened the spirits of contestants and spectators alike, Coach Brown's boys in their usual style, piled up enough points to enable Carolina to win the State Track Meet in a walk. Carolina scored 74 1-2 points, A. & M. was second with 33 1-2, Trinity obtained 22, and Wake Forest 14. Davidson and Elon did not enter the meet.

Four Carolina men obtained the track meet monogram by securing first place. Blue won the low hurdles with ease, Rand took the two mile, and Webb showed the way in the half mile. Frathing, although not feeling well, ran a good race in the 220 yard dash, finishing with his accustomed sprint.

Fairly good time was made in four track events, but the most noticeable were the performances of Rand, who ran the two mile in 10 minutes, 22 seconds, and Millwee, who broke the state record for the mile, stepping it off in 4 minutes, 31 seconds.

McDougall, of A. & M. was the highest individual scorer, making three firsts, one second, and two fourths, for a total of 20 points. Homewood of Carolina came second with two firsts to his credit.

The Junior Week girls with all their Easter-colored dresses came to dance with us three days and now have left till commencement. Filled with gay chattering, bright colors and shouts for encores Bynum Gym has been since Wednesday a different place.

The whole thing began Wednesday night. Some strange, some familiar, everybody was there for a good time. For four hours rainbow ruffles and fluffy frills flitted over the floor to music that could make a back-fence dance. Thursday morning (and not around 8:30 either groups of twos, gan one-half in gay colors, be-to appear on the campus. Every floor in the entire village that was smooth enough for gliding and with room enough for a victrola, or the Chapel Hill Orchestra, was a scene of dancing; 1:30 came as quickly as it did the night before and still nobody wanted to stop. That evening everybody came to Gerrard Theatre to witness the last performance of that tear-distilling, semi-tragic romance of the affections of that much known and loved dramatic character, Dr. Doaff. The cast, an able one, was especially selected to support the work of Mme. Adam Thorpe and Mme. Claibe Royal, those two well-known emotional actresses of the Theatre Francaise, who have left the enraptured Parisian audiences for an indefinite series of farewell tours in America. It was a dramatic moment when the dainty and petite Marie Celeste flitted down the stage as graceful as a gunboat only to be confronted by the outraged Mrs. Hasher. And there were other

CAROLINA LOSES CLOSELY CONTESTED GYM MEET

One Point Gives the Meet to Virginia

In an interesting and spectacular Gym Meet Monday night Carolina lost to Virginia by a margin of one point. Throughout the contest the score was very nearly even. The stunts of both teams brought frequent cheers from the crowded gallery and side lines. The dare-devil cut-off-and-catch feat of Crowell and the high dive from the horizontal bar by Clarkson were the features of the meet.

This is the first gym meet in which Carolina has taken part in three years. It served to show some excellent material which has been developed lately. This phase of athletics—so seriously neglected in the past few years—promises to be an important part

SENIOR STUNT PRESENTED IN PLEASING MANNER

Charlie Coggin Plays Vampire to Perfection

"Dr. Doaff's Dilemma"—somewhat out of the ordinary, yet a splendid entertainment, was presented by the Seniors to a packed house Thursday night in Gerard Theatre. It contained three acts with a plot—a love affair between a doating old manicurist in the person of Robert House, whose stage name was Dr. Doaff, and a jealous boarding mistress, Mrs. Frances Hasher, known on the campus as Adam Thorp. Although his voice was a little croaky at times, she let us say she this time—put the part over the boards to a queen's taste.

The stunt was out of the ordinary in that it contained no slaps at the faculty, and the plot was out of the ordinary in that it harbored no villian, but a charming villianess was there with the charming figure, the sparkling eyes and winning smiles. She was Miss Charlie Coggin and his stage name was Marie Celeste. How she can play the part of a vampire and at the same time be rehearsing the character of Sir John Falstaff is a subject that should furnish entertainment for some of our progressive psychology students. However, Charlie played the part and there is no one who is acquainted with his histrionic ability to deny that he will play Sir John according to order when the time comes. Others who must be mentioned before we get to the next paragraph are, H. V. Johnson as Persepolis Wiggins, W. B. Pitts, as Beverly Tish, and W. C. Rymer, as Hortense Hasher (petite and vivacious), G. C. Royall as Mrs. Quincey, R. M. Homewood as Lilly, R. N. Page, Jr. as the Barber, and so on down to the dog, but get a program and read it for yourself.

The plot seemed to be laid in a Carolina atmosphere, for there was a Dr. There was a boarding house with a landlady, who was a widow; there was a barber-shop; a student; a dog; some boarders; some richly gowned, women with aristocratic in-steps; and a Y. M. C. A. Where can they all be found except at Carolina?

The first scene was laid at Mrs. Hasher's boarding house. Here it is learned that the Y. M. C. A. is to give a hop and that Dr. Doaff is in love with Mrs. Hasher, who reciprocates, but keeps it a secret from the Doctor; also, that there is a strange and fasci-

VIRGINIA WINS THE SERIES

Last Game of Annual Series Played at Charlottesville

By winning from Carolina Tuesday afternoon Virginia secured the annual series for the season. The game, which ended in the final score of 8 to 3, was an easy victory for Virginia.

Calloway pitched a steady game, allowing Carolina only four scattered hits. Aycock, pitching for Carolina was replaced by Powell in the sixth, after having yielded 11 hits. Powell then managed to hold Virginia to one hit for the remainder of the game.

Virginia scored in the first inning. Berkley walked, Stearnes singled to right, White drove the ball over the fence for a home run. The next three men went out in easy order.

In the fifth Virginia scored another run. With one man down, Stickley singled to left, stole second and scored on Morton's drive to right.

In the sixth Berkley singled, took second and scored when Patterson let Stearnes' liner get by him.

Three more runs came in the seventh when with two men down Morton drove a difficult one to Herty and was safe; Smith was safe on Herty's error; C. White walked; Calloway walked forcing Morton in; Berkley was hit-forcing Smith in; Stearnes hit to right scoring White (in the midst of the merry-go-round Powell replaced Aycock); J. White struck out.

In Carolina's half of the seventh Zollicoffer opened with a single; Barnes walked; Lewis running for Zollicoffer scored on Herty's sacrifice; on a squeeze play Barnes came in home.

Powell walked in the ninth and scored on Hart's triple to right.
