TAR HEELS OVERPOWER STRONG V. M. I. ELEVEN

CAROLINA COMES BACK STRONG SECOND HALF, SCORING 4 TOUCHDOWNS

FIRST HALF V. M. I. 13, N. C. 3

Bertschey of V. M. I. Runs 70 Yards for Touchdown—Leech Runs 45 a Few Minutes Later and Scores Another

In a fast game featured by long runs Carolina defeated V. M. I. last Saturday 38-13. Carolina made her first touchdown in the first two minutes of play, Folger carrying the ball 30 yards for the score. Two minutes later V. M. I. scored, Bertschey twisting through the whole Tar Heel team for 70 yards and a touchdown. Carolina kicked off. Gray was downed on the 45 yard line, and on the next play Leech slipped through tackle for another touchdown. Tandy's field goal in the second period closed the half.

Bertschey opened the second half with a 37 yard end run from kick formation, but the Cadets then lost the ball on a fumble, and a forward pass, Folger to Tennent, followed by line plunges by the latter, resulting in another touchdown for Carolina. In the fourth quarter two 30 yard runs by Folger and two line plunges by Tennent carried the ball over for two more touchdowns. After this the Tar Heels tried the throwing game, (Continued on Page Six)

THREE PLAYS SELECTED FOR THE DRAMATIC CLUB

The three plays which have been selected for the first performance are: "Old Cronies," "The Glittering Gate," and "Food." "Old Cronies" which is of a humorous nature, presents the old sea captain who has fallen in love for his first time, coming to his old bachelor friend, a dictionary maker, to write the letter of proposal to his future wife. Though the friend has every word of the dictionary at his command, he is not able to put them to this purpose.

"The Glittering Gate" is more of a serious nature. Two thieves meet at the gate of heaven, after death; the one a pessimist, the other an optimist, and try to find some means of entering. They (Continued on Page Six)

OVER 80 HIGH SCHOOLS NOW IN DEBATING UNION

The enrollment in the High School Debating Union has more than doubled in the last ten days. Among those that have recently entered the contest for the state championship are: Asheville, Charlotte, Burlington, New Bern, Warrenton, Oxford, Monroe, Morton, Nebo, Laurinburg, Columbia, Graham, Gastonia, Troy, Mooresville, Spencer, China Grove, Mantoo, Newton, Bessemer City, Faison, Wallace, Tarboro, Cedar Grove, Mount Pleasant, Cherryville, Belhaven, Siler City, Blandenboro. The enrollment now includes over 80 high schools.

MANY ALUMNI ON HILL FOR V. M. I. GAME

An unusually large number of alumni attended the V. M. I. game Saturday. R. M. Hanes, Winston; A. H. Carr, Durham; R. H. Lewis, Oxford; J. W. Umstead, Greensboro; G. B. Phillips, Oxford; W. C. Harris, Raleigh; M. E. Robinson, Goldsboro; E. B. Borden, Goldsboro; H. Jernigan, Gorman; H. V. Bailey, Cedar Grove; E. J. Hill, Durham; John Tillet, Thomasville; D. C. McRae, Thomasville; McDaniel Lewis, Kinston were among those who saw Carolina defeat the Cadets from Virginia.

CHAPEL HILL 13—CARY 0

In an interesting game Chapel Hill High defeated Cary High 13-0 last Saturday.

The two teams were almost evenly matched, and each showed greater strength on the offensive play than on the defensive. Chapel Hill High managed to score their first touchdown in the first quarter, after marching down the field by a series of end runs and forward passes.

The second touchdown was scored in the third quarter, on a series of line plunges, end runs, and passes.

LATIN AMERICAN CLUB

"The geographic position of South America as adapted to trade," was the subject of the paper delivered by E. A. Kendall before the Latin American Club at its meeting on Monday night. He pointed out the fact that in South America we find our greatest necessities, and that because of its position it is the logical market for our manufactured products.

P. B. Eaton read a paper on "Comparative Areas in Latin America and the United States," which contrasted very effectively the sizes of the countries and pointed out several popular misconceptions as to distances and the positions of the South American republics.

D. E. EAGLE LEADS DISCUSSION

"Friendship" was the subject of discussion last Tuesday night at the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting which was held in the reading room under the leadership of D. E. Eagle.

A lively discussion ensued as to what real friendship is, and as to what value friendships formed in college would be in later life.

N. C. TENNIS TEAM WINS IN MATCH WITH TRINITY

COMBS LOSES IN SINGLES TO YOUNG—HERTY WINS FROM LARKIN

The Carolina tennis team, consisting of Alvan H. Combs and Holmes Herty, defeated Young and Larkin of Trinity in a very spirited contest before a large crowd of spectators here Tuesday. The first set of doubles was won by Trinity, 2-6, but Carolina braced and won the other two, 6-4, 6-3. After the first set it looked bad for Carolina but the crowd was not long in suspense, for the team soon began to exhibit unusual form.

The first singles were played between Combs and Young, which were interesting throughout. Combs did excellent work but was defeated by the exceptional playing of Young, 6-4, 6-4.

The second singles, between Herty and Larkin, were not so interesting for Herty won two sets, 6-1, 6-2. He outplayed Larkin at every stage of the game.

The good playing of Combs and Herty throughout the entire series indicates that Carolina will have a most successful tennis season. By winning from Trinity in Durham last week Carolina secures the series.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE CROSS-COUNTRY RUN OUT

Carolina men are now training for the four-mile cross country run which will be held at A. and M. College, November 25. Teams from the leading colleges in the state will participate. Captain Farthing of the track team, is confident of a good showing. Upchurch, Rand, Nims, and Gant are back in good condition, and are training for the event. Some freshmen have also reported. It is urged that more come out as they will be eligible to compete in the preliminaries and finals.

The managers in charge of track are working out a stiff schedule for the team this year. Meets will be held with Washington and Lee, and V. P. I. and negotiations are under way to secure a meet with Georgia Tech.

FIRST GLEE CLUB TRIP SALEM COLLEGE FRIDAY

The Glee Club gives a performance on November 9 at Salem College. The members expect to remain in Winston on the 10th and witness the football game between Carolina and Davidson. The programme to be rendered this year is an especially attractive one. The carefully selected chorus numbers will be supported by orchestra selections, solos, "string band" numbers and quartet selections.

Director J. Earle Harris announces that those who have made the club are as follows: Pace, Martin, McKie, S. Travis, J. A. Howell, Geo. Greene, Wimberley, Lashmit, Lupfert, G. Travis, Harris, Jordan, Holloway, Lindsey, Rondthaler, Dalton, Parker, Stephenson, Hester, Prince, Poag, Brinson, F. Thompson, Kinlaw and Hartshorn.

FIRST FALL DANCE A GREAT SUCCESS

Doubtless rumors of that dance, last Saturday night have reached the ears of even the most sedate professor as well as the most reclusive freshman in Chapel Hill. But that's no reason why we shouldn't write it up:—it just goes to show what an important event it was. Everyone was in high spirits as a result of the game that afternoon, even before the banjo and saxophone started to plunk and moan, with obligato by the rest of the orchestra.

As was predicted, the girls we had were all prize stock, and after putting them through their paces from eight until twelve, it was still impossible to decide upon any one queen of the hop. With only four hours in which to have the dance, there was no time to be lost, and every minute was utilized by doing away with intermissions, and changing from one-step to fox-trot, to waltz, to lame cow, to kitchen sink, etc., without stopping.

Due to the beauty, attractiveness, and popularity of the girls, as well as to the large number of stags, no dance programs were necessary; in fact, they would have been impracticable since the whole thing was just one long dance. The ball was not a full dress affair either, although some of the faculty blossomed out in dress suits, thus helping along with the decorations. We must admit, however, that we were wrong when we stated in last week's Tar Heel that the faculty would furnish the decorations as wall flowers.

The beautiful girls, in their dainty and exquisite habiliments enhanced the splendor of the affair even as much as the faculty in all its grandeur. Of course, it (Continued on Page Six)

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK IS NOT DISCOURAGING

The basketball outlook for this year, though not especially bright, is nevertheless, far from discouraging. The loss of Long and Johnson will be keenly felt, but Tandy will probably be at his old position at center, and Captain Tennent will be the mainstay of the guards. There will probably be a close fight from the forward positions.

Shepard, whose work attracted considerable attention at forward during the latter part of last season, will probably make the strongest bid for one of the forward positions.

Manager Tanner has not yet completed the schedule, but from all indications the Virginia game will be played here. Several other games will also be played here.

Penn. State and the Navy will probably be on the list. These games will be played at Baltimore, and Annapolis. The entire schedule will be published when completed.

TAR HEEL TEAM IS IN PERFECT CONDITION

V. P. I. HAS UNUSUALG STRONG LINE, BUT A LIGHT BACKFIELD

V. P. I. has a strong team this year. Here are some of her scores: Yale 19-V. P. I. 0; West Va. 20-V. P. I. 0; N. C. A. and M. 0-V. P. I. 40.

In last Saturday's game with the Aggies, V. P. I. made 16 first downs while her opponents made none.

Carolina has played a number of games with this strong team but has only won two—the other games, strange to say, being a tie each time.

V. P. I.'s line is an unusually good one this year—four men weighing over 190 pounds, and the rest weighing over 170. The back field does not present such a heavy crew. The full weighs 194 but the quarter only 125. These are some of the facts in regard to the opposing team.

On the other hand the Tar Heel eleven is not to be forgotten. The team is in perfect condition and working smoother than ever before. Tayloe, Ramsay, Grimes, Harrell, Proctor, Crawford and Tandy are all right there. In the backfield Folger, Tennent, Black and Williams still remain.

The team got a taste of real machine-like playing in the last half of the V. M. I. game. No injuries were received. If it plays in such form today Carolina may well expect to win.

MR. W. B. SPILLMAN TALKS ON VALUE OF BIBLE STUDY

In a speech characterized by an abundance of humor and a striking delivery, Mr. W. B. Spillman on Friday night discussed college Bible study as a factor in education before 200 students assembled in Gerrard Hall. Laying down the theory of Herbert Spencer that the function of education is to prepare one for complete living, he proceeded to discuss the elements that enter into a liberal education. He declared that the office of education is to develop not only one's physical, social, and mental natures, but also one's religious nature. "No man," said he, "can have a well-rounded education who does not have a working knowledge of the world's greatest text book."

Pat and Mike were crossing the ocean. Mike fell overboard, and cried out, "Pat, drop me a line!" Pat—"Huh, there ain't no post office where you're going."—A. and M.

At Agricultural Club: Benbow—"How was my speech?"

Walker—"Fine? Why, when you sat down every one said it was the best thing you ever did."—A. and M.
