TEAM PLAYS DAVIDSON TODAY--WINSTON SALEM

DAVIDSON HAS THE STRONGEST TEAM PUT OUT BY HER IN MANY YEARS

THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Carolina Players in Good Condition for Today's Contest—Large Number Carolina Rooters Will be There

Carolina's game with Davidson today at Winston-Salem will decide the state football championship for 1916.

Davidson has a fast, snappy bunch, though not very heavy. The two teams which are about matched in weight, have been showing their mettle this season.

The Presbyterians held Virginia 12-0, Georgia Tech 9-0, and tied the Citadel. But the Citadel always has a good team as last year's team can testify. Davidson won overwhelmingly from Furman, who play Carolina here on November 18.

If Carolina can get the jump and her old fight in today's game there can be but one result, it is felt throughout the University, but if not there will be a hard fight to down these plucky opponents.

At a meeting of the Gym squad Tuesday evening, B. A. Siddall, '17, of Somter, S. C., was elected captain of the 1916-17 team.

The team is expecting a most successful year as nearly all of last year's team is again in school. The meet this year with Virginia will be held at Charlottesville, but it is hoped that other meets may be arranged to be held at Chapel Hill.

TAR HEELS LOSE GAME TO STRONG V. P. I. TEAM

Carolina's failure to start the first half with the usual punch and drive enabled V. P. I. to obtain two touchdowns and victory over the White and Blue at Roanoke last Saturday.

V. P. I. scored in the first and second periods on end runs. None of the runs by the Virginia backs amounted to large gains, but their interference enabled them to gain when necessary. Folger and Coleman outkicked the Tech punter, and our ends showed improvement in getting down the field under punts.

The Tar Heels' touchdown came in the second period when Lancaster dropped one of Folger's long kicks and Ramsey picked up the ball and ran forty yards for a touchdown. Tandy kicked goal.

The forward pass was used but infrequently and then with no success. Four trials by Carolina

Patterson's drug store has been the center of attraction for the past week. From early morning until late at night anxious followers of Woodrow and the Judge have stood before the window waiting for new bulletins to be posted.

HAWAIIAN QUINTETTE HERE DECEMBER 19

The Y. M. C. A. Lyceum department announces that it has secured the Hawaiian Quintette, said to be the foremost quintette of its kind in America, for a performance here on December 19.

An evidence of the wide reputation of the Hawaiian players is the fact that they were engaged to play in the Horticultural building at the Panama Exposition.

The committee in charge of the Lyceum course believes that this performance will afford much pleasure to the students and townspeople.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN TO BE LAUNCHED BY Y. M. C. A.

STANDING OF TEAMS WILL BE POSTED EACH DAY ON BULLETIN BOARDS

The Y. M. C. A. has just completed its plans for conducting a membership campaign on a more extensive scale than ever before. Its goal in this campaign is to double its membership, and it hopes to do this by having every man to secure at least one member instead of placing the work of enlarging the membership upon the shoulders of four or five men. The members of the Y. M. C. A. are to be divided into 25 teams of eight or ten men to a team. Each team is to have a leader, and these leaders are to be divided into five groups with a leader to each group. Eugene Eagle, Ralph Stockton, William Steele, Ray Armstrong, and Hermas Stephenson are the five group leaders, and E. W. Duncan is head of the entire organization.

The campaign is to be competitive. To the team which secures the most members by Wednesday at 6 P. M. the Y. M. C. A. will serve a supper. The standing of the teams will be posted on the various bulletin boards each day.

PROFESSOR J. E. SPINGARN OF COLUMBIA HERE DEC. 20

WILL DELIVER SERIES OF LECTURES ON SOME PHASE OF LITERARY CRITICISM

Professor J. E. Spingarn, formerly Professor of Comparative Literature in Columbia University will during the week beginning November 20 deliver a series of lectures to those students who are candidates for degrees of Honor. Prof. Spingarn is the author of "Literary Criticism in the Renaissance," "The New Criticism," various essays in "The Cambridge History of English Literature," and editor of "Seventeenth Century Critical Essays," and many more interesting works.

These lectures will be held from four to six p. m., and the subjects will be as follows: (1) Greece and Rome; (2) From the Middle Ages till the Eighteenth Century; (3) The Romantic Period; (4) The Nineteenth Century; (5) The New Criticism. These lectures will not be open to the public but will be conducted as a course for which all candidates for Honors in the Division of Language and Literature will be expected to register, but others desiring to attend these lectures will first have to secure the permission of the Committee on Degrees with Distinction of which Dr. Greenlaw is the chairman. Those registering for the course will be expected to do some preliminary reading since it is expected that students will take part

FRESHMEN ELEVEN WIN FROM GUILFORD 44-0

In a game rather slow and devoid of spectacular playing, the Freshmen overwhelmed Guilford last Saturday, 44-0. Guilford made only two first downs while the Freshmen were making twenty-one. The Freshmen also succeeded in completing five forward passes. The work of Captain Blount and Robbins in the Freshman line, and that of Bristol, Herty, Spruill, Tayloe and Spaugh

IMPORTANT NEW BOOKS BY FACULTY MEMBERS

Important books by faculty are: Radio-Activity, by Prof. Francis P. Venable. This is a new book of its kind, and represents some of Dr. Venable's original findings in a field in which he already ranks high as a specialist.

Dr. Edwin Greenlaw: An Outline of English Literature of the Renaissance. The book contains about 165 pages and covers the field from the beginning of Humanism to Death of Milton. Some of the work is based on his former syllabus but he has added extensive introduction, bibliography for advanced students and problems for research.

Prof. Toy's new edition of Die Journalisten. First edition was published in 1889, been in constant use since, circulating at rate of 3000 to 4000 copies yearly.

THE WEIL LECTURES IN AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week, the distinguished publicist and orator, Dr. James A. MacDonald, editor of "The Globe," Toronto, Canada, will deliver in Gerrard Hall the Lectures in American Citizenship on the Weil Foundation. The general subject of this series of lectures, which constitutes one of the leading events of the year, is "The North American Idea." The subjects of the individual lectures are as follows: "The North American Idea in the American Republic;" "The North American Idea in the Canadian Dominion;" and "The North American Idea and America's Internationalism."

THE NORTH CAROLINA CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

"SOUTH SHOULD BE RID OF TICKS AND POLITICS" SAYS DR. BRANSON

"The prayer I am continually praying is that God will rid the South of ticks and politics," declared Dr. E. C. Branson in an address to the North Carolina Club last night. Dr. Branson said that the genius of the Southern people had never been sufficiently economical. We are continually in the strut and fret and fever of politics. We have not more than half a dozen economists in the South today.

"We are poor," the speaker affirmed, "not because we do not create the wealth, but because we do not keep it. And of what use is it to sweat out wealth when it won't stick to the palms that sweat it out?" Our per capita wealth is only $794, next to the lowest of any state in the union. And we are not only poor financially, but "pore" in spirit and thought toward our institutions. We have little wealth and less willingness. The North Carolina problem is two-fold; to lower the cost unit of production and so contribute to a surplus and then to distribute the wealth we create so as to hold it down. "If we have not intellect enough to figure that out, we must admit to being sodden in incurable stupidity."

"Here we are," Dr. Branson continued, "fumbling with the paper pulp industry while Mississippi and Georgia with nothing like our material, establish million dollar factories and make the profits. We sleep and doze."

The purpose of the North Carolina Club is to agitate a reasoning

DATE OF FALL DANCES DEFINITELY DECIDED

The time of the fall dances has at last been definitely fixed. It was necessary to postpone them a week later than usual on account of the newspaper men's convention in Chapel Hill, and the dates now settled upon are Thursday and Friday of the second week in December, or Dec. 14 and 15.

The first dance will be given by the Order of Gorgon's Head, and the second by the German Club. Meyer Davis' Orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

ORANGE COUNTY RALLY DAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

CAMPUS THROGGED WITH VISITORS FROM EVERY PART OF THE COUNTRY

FARM PRODUCTS ARE EXHIBITED

Picnic Dinner—Pictures in Chapel Singing Contest—Potato Races—Wheelbarrow Races and Other Athletic Contest

A fair day, large crowds, a variety of exhibits, numerous prize contests, and a spirit of good-will and gayety all combined to make Orange County Rally Day on Friday the third, the biggest and best that has yet been held.

Early in the morning buggies and carriages began pouring into the campus, and by ten o'clock, when the automobile parade started from the post office, the field back of the South building was covered with horses and vehicles. Every hour of the morning was filled with exercises for the entertainment of the visitors,—a band concert at Memorial Hall, a musical performance by the students in Chapel, and a basket picnic under the trees. In addition to these exercises on the campus free moving pictures illustrating different phases of farm work were shown at the Pickwick during the morning and afternoon.

The exhibits this year were more varied than ever before. Vegetables and fruits, cakes and candies, embroidery and fancy work, and many other articles of interest were displayed in Memorial Hall. Several of the local merchants had set up booths for the display of their goods, and the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey exhibited pic-

SOPHOMORES CELEBRATE WITH BIG CLASS SMOKER

With a tinge of political suspense pervading the air, on the night before the big election 100 members of the class of 1919 crowded into the Y. M. C. A. lobby to hear Professor Cobb and Turlington talk in their usual sad and melancholy manner, and to relieve the buying committee of numerous articles of consumption commonly known as "eats."

The smoker began at nine o'clock with a speech by Professor Cobb urging the students to give the political questions before the country their most careful consideration instead of following blindly the dictates of parties. Professor Turlington, after reading his own version of Bacon's essay on truth as applied to smokers, proceeded to discuss the value of smokers in developing class unity. Ralph Williams concluded the talks by calling upon his classmates to "put out some of the things that are in and put in some of the things that are out."

The advice was unnecessary, for soon the committee came in bearing waiters heaped with eatables, and in less than ten minutes the wisdom imparted by the faculty members had been put out and a goodly quantity of fruit and sandwiches had been put in.
