CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

RITCH'S VETERANS TOO STRONG FOR CHAPEL HILL HIGH ELEVEN

Fully 2,000 people saw Charlotte decisively defeat Chapel Hill last Saturday in the final game for the High School Championship, 36-0. While Charlotte was clearly the favorite before the game, no one expected such a sweeping victory. Chapel Hill had been steadily improving, but were too inexperienced for Coach Ritch's seasoned veterans.

"Chuck" Pharr proved himself to be an able general and managed the team like an old hand, besides carrying the ball well. Most of Charlotte's advances were made around the ends. Aided by perfect interference both Templeton and Pharr were able to circle the local flanks for substantial gains.

Forward passes were a big factor in aiding the Western attack, Austin receiving one behind the goal line.

Chapel Hill showed rather a weak offensive. Tenney was unable to gain because of the loose interference he was given, the Charlotte secondary defense tackling cleanly and allowing but small gains. The local team registered only five first downs to 27 for Charlotte. Toward the end of the first half, Chapel Hill seemed to have almost secured a touchdown. Sparrow caught the kickoff and ran it back to the 40-yard line. Chapel Hill then for the first time during the half showed real fight and fairly rushed the Western champions

E. E. BARNETT

EUGENE BARNETT SENDS REPORT OF YEARS WORK

CAROLINA'S PILOT ON MISSION FIELD ACTIVE

Eugene Barnett, an alumnus of the University and for six years Carolina's representative in the mission field of China, has just sent in his annual report for the year ending September 30, 1916, to the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Barnett, on a return visit to Chapel Hill last year, addressed a large audience of students on his work and prospects in China. Since he resigned his position here as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. to accept the secretaryship of the Y. M. C. A. in Hangchow, Mr. Barnett has been supported almost entirely by voluntary subscriptions from the students of the University.

In commenting upon the success of mission work in China he says: "The old skins are giving way" (Continued on Page Six)

GLEE CLUB ENDS A WEEK OF ACTIVITY

Being inspired by the picked beauties of the State, who were attending the fall dances, the Glee Club was able to cover itself with glory on Friday night, when it gave its last concert before Xmas, in Gerrard Hall. From the opening chorus to the "grand finale" each number was applauded with the enthusiasm worthy of a "Broadway Star." Hester expressed the universal feeling of the club when he said, "Who could not sing when he looks into the broad, beaming countenances of so many Old North State beauties whose eyes seem to say, 'George you are doing well and I'm for you'."

Luther Lashmit was again a star with his violin work, while J. Earl Harris continued his good work at the piano. The orchestra and mandolin club were also outstanding features and received more than their share of applause not only here but wherever the club played.

On Friday 8, the club was in Salisbury where they played to a small but appreciative audience. After the concert they were given a dance and showed every attention which made the evening very enjoyable to them.

On Saturday night the club played before the State Normal College to one of the largest audiences that it has ever played to.

UNIQUE FALL DANCES NOW IN FULL SWAY ENJOYABLE SUCCESS

FIRST DANCE GIVEN THURSDAY NIGHT BY JUNIOR ORDER GORGON HEAD

This week is one of the three most eventful in the fall semester. It is hard to decide which is the most momentous; Thanksgiving, the Dances or Christmas. There seems to have been a sentiment in favor of Thanksgiving heretofore, but a change has been evident since Thursday night. For then the dances began. The first was given by the Junior Order of Gorgon's Head. Frank Shamburger was the dance leader. Wilson Dalton and Bruce Webb, assistants.

Friday night the German Club gave its annual Fall hop with Henry Stevens leader, and Piggy Parker and Priestly Conyers as assistants.

Most of the week decoration committees were at work fixing up the gym with evergreens and festoons of bunting. A different decoration scheme will be followed for each dance. While speaking of decorations we might say that (Continued on Page Six)

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN FOR EXCELLENCE IN ENGLISH

The English Department has just announced two prizes to be given this year for excellence in English. A copy of Dr. Battle's History of the University is offered to the freshman who does the best work in English. Dr. Battle will be asked to autograph the copy. Also ten volumes in the World's classics series (Oxford University Press) are offered to the undergraduate who publishes the best verse in the University Magazine during the year. The volumes are to be chosen by the winner.

In addition to these the regular prizes will be awarded as usual. The Mangum Medal will be given to the senior who delivers the best oration at commencement. The Bingham Prize will be given for the best Junior speaker in a contest held commencement week. The Early English Text Society Prize will be given for advanced work in Anglo-Saxon and Middle English. The Preston Cup will be given for the best work done of a journalistic nature.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ELECTIONS SAT. 2:30

The election of a football manager and two assistant managers for the varsity team will take place Saturday in the Chapel at 2:30 o'clock. Important business is to be taken up. Ray Armstrong and Bruce Webb are the candidates for manager.

Donald Cobb, Walter Feimster, Jack Powell, and Tom Wood are candidates for assistant manager by virtue of their services as sub-assistants this year. Any other member of the present Sophomore class is eligible for assistant managership.

Election of a manager and two assistant managers for the Freshmen Baseball squad will also take place.

CAPTAIN FOLGER

FOLGER ELECTED CAPTAIN CAROLINA FOOTBALL TEAM

WILL PILOT TANDY'S FAMOUS CREW NEXT FALL

Probably one of the most interesting questions in the minds of the student body was decided last Wednesday afternoon when the captain of next year's football team was elected. Only two candidates for the honor were named; one being a man who has worked faithfully on the team for three years and who may rightly be said to have been one of the main stays in the line; the other being raised to a stellar position both as a football (Continued on Page Six)

MUSIC SERVICE AT CHAPEL OF THE CROSS

Last Sunday afternoon, "The Holy City," an oratorio by A. R. Gaul, was given at the Chapel of the Cross by the regular choir and Miss Harris, of Henderson, soprano, and Mrs. Burdick, of Chapel Hill, contralto. The University orchestra played the accompaniment.

The performance was very enjoyable and, in places, approached the artistic. The chorus of twenty voices showed a surprising amount of volume and reflected much credit on Mrs. Winston, the director, by the precision and accuracy with which they sang.

Miss Harris, in solo work, sang with much expression. The tones of her upper register were very clear and true, though her lower notes were a trifle hoarse.

The "Holy City" is one of the most popular of the easier oratorios. The words are from the Bible, hymns and Milton's "At a Solemn Musick." The music is comparatively simple though there are a few elaborate contrapuntal and antiphonal effects in the biggest choruses. For the most part there is a pleasing melody throughout and in no place is the harmony unpleasantly close.

The performance of this oratorio is the first of a series of Sunday afternoon music services the choir has planned.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAYS TO APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

"OLD CRONIES," "THE GLITTERING GATE" AND "FOOD" PRE- SENTED BY CLUB

The Little Theatre regime was inaugurated on the Hill last Thursday night when the Dramatic Club gave three sketches, "Old Cronies," "The Glittering Gate," and "Food."

In "Old Cronies" Wimberley poses as Dr. Jacks, who is a sufferer from Dictionary-making bacteria, and Dumpy Green as Captain Pigeon, a middle-aged, blustering English squire, who is in love with the money of Olivia Jones, and desires to marry the lady. But how to propose? The matter is settled by Dr. Jacks, and a telegram is sent. The lady had, however, accepted another lover in the meantime, and Pigeon is mercifully permitted to remain a bachelor. The sketch was played well, throwing the audience at times into roars.

"The Glittering Gate" of Heaven is assaulted by two deceased burglars, one of whom, impersonated by McClamrock, drinks beer from empty bottles while the other dip attacks the gate of gold with a "can-opener." His efforts are fruitless, and the sketch closed dramatically with them gazing at the impenetrable wall.

Do you think about posterity? Then do not eat so much, for soon only billionnaires will be able to afford eggs. "Food," the last sketch on the program, brought before the audience the probable scarcity of food in 1962. A sumptuous supper of a cracker and a glass of water diluted by a drop (Continued on Page Six)

HAWAIIAN QUINTET WILL PERFORM HERE TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Chapel Hill will receive the first Hawaiian quintet that has ever visited this part of the country. This will be the first of the delightful entertainments to be given under the auspices of the Lyceum Bureau of the Y. M. C. A.

Throughout the country, the several Hawaiian troupes have been creating wide excitement. The talking machine companies are finding it quite difficult to supply the tremendous demand for records of Hawaiian music. Therefore, it is doubtful if the South will be entertained by a more popular number this season than the Waikiki Hawaiian Singers and Players.

A popular program will be rendered, including the songs of Hawaii sung in native tongue. The company will appear in native costume.

This quintet was booked by the Lyceum Bureau through the Alkhest System of Atlanta, an agency widely known for the high type of its feature attractions.

Tickets will go on sale at Eubanks' on Saturday.

H. S. Willis, A. B. 1914, Assistant in Biology at Johns Hopkins 1914-15, has recently published a paper in the Biological Bulletin entitled "The Influence of the Nucleus on the Behavior of Amoeba."
