EAT AT THE ROYAL CAFES

Chapel Hill as Well as in Durham
Where Sanitation Prevails and Your Patronage is Appreciated

We tip our tile

BRITISH FRIGHTFULNESS
The Host—"I thought of sending some of these cigars out to the front."

The Victim—"Good idea! But how can you make certain that the Germans will get them?"—Tit-Bit.

THE HUNGRY MOTH
A certain father, who is fond of putting his boys through natural history examinations, is often surprised by their mental agility.

He asked them to tell him "what animal is satisfied with the least nourishment?"
"The moth!" shouted one lad confidently. "It eats nothing but holes."—Country Gent.

Wimberley—"Say Chap., how do you spell receive?"
Chapman—"R-e-c-e-i-v-e."

Wimberley—"Thanks that's the way I had it." (A moment later.)
"Lend me your ink eraser, will you, please?"—Ex.

Soph—"Freshman, have you a minute to spare?"
Fresh—"Yes, why?"
Soph—"Tell me all you know."
—Exchange.

At Princeton they tell of a freshman who, as he blithely went his way whistling on the streets one day, was accosted by a classmate: "Whither away?"

"I'm going up to Doctor Smith's to be examined for appendicitis," said the other.

"Great Caesar!" exclaimed the classmate. "You don't seem to be very much worried about it."

"Oh, no," said the freshman, "there won't be anything doing. I've never been able to pass an examination the first time, in all my fair young life."—Everybody's.

Dr. Greenlaw—"Have you read Shakespeare?"

Ignite—"No, sir."

"Have you read Tennyson?"

"No, sir."

"What have you read?"

"I have red hair, sir."

Worry causes wrinkles, say the men; wrinkles cause worry, say the women.—Wichita (Kan.) Beacon.

Dr. Gulley (on Law I, after several had failed to answer his question)—"Now gentlemen, here I am in the wilderness with no one to help me out. Mr. Moses, will you lead me?"—W. F.

Now that the "straw vote" is no longer needed, the straw may be used for the ousted elephant and bull moose (as a consolation).

The Chicago Herald complains that a Chicago bookseller is advertising the "Life of Daniel Webster (President U. S.)."

Bob Cook says there is nothing to love except nature around Chapel Hill.

"What a relief," said one student, as he came off his last exam, "no more studying until next May."

Senior—"I am indebted to you for all I know."

Prof.—"Don't mention it, it's a trifle, I assure you."—Ex.

AT THE HOP
She, looking ruefully at her gilt slipper—"John, I wish you would learn to dance on your own feet."
—Exchange.

Mac—"Here it is two weeks and I haven't heard from her yet."

E. P.—"Why worry, you know she doesn't love you."

We cannot endure the anxiety much longer—Dr. Tommie please tell us something, even if it is sad news.

By the time Billy Sunday gets through with Boston—perhaps Beacon Hill will have learned how to pronounce American English.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Yes, SENSIBLE—because it's comfortable

There are other good tasting cigarettes. Fatima isn't the only good one. But when it comes to comfort—there is probably no other cigarette in the world quite the equal of Fatimas. Fatimas are a blend of such pure tobaccos, so delicately balanced, that they leave a man feeling keen and fit even after a long-smoking day. You could prove this for yourself.
