In the Jury Box

A case with plenty of local color will be tried before Judge McIntosh in the Moot Court next Saturday night. John Black, colored, of Chapel Hill, is accused of petty larceny consisting of the crafty purloining of one perfectly good suit of clothes from the South Building. The crime was committed in broad daylight, conclusively proving that some body in the South has two suits of clothes.

Messrs. Bumgardner, Rendleman, and Leatherwood are attorneys for the State, while the defense is represented by Messrs. Candler, Cooly, and Ross.

In last week's case, the jury, that is: 7 of them, could not see why Mrs. Clarence B. Elmore should have a divorce just because Hubby fell off the water wagon occasionally, so the case resulted in a mistrial. The attorneys for prosecution were: Thomas, Jordan, and McCullar, while Messrs. Fowler, Leatherwood, and E. Mason were the counsel for the defense.

It was by far the best trial yet argued by the embryo lawyers in the moot court.

Messrs. D. E. Darden, T. W. Folsom, S. R. Taylor, F. C. Smith, R. O. Lyday, were initiated into Phi Chi on Monday, October 15.

Math Club Elects Officers

The Mathematics Club, of the University of North Carolina, met in Chemistry Hall, Wednesday, October 10th for the first meeting of the year. Officers as follows were elected: Major William Cain, president; Dr. Archibald Henderson, vice-president; Mr. J. W. Lasley, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

Dr. A. W. Hobbs presented to the society a paper on "The Principle of Duality." The secretary of the society gave a discussion of several problems that had been proposed to the society for solution.

The dancing classes over the post office have shuffled into activity again and the latest Hula and Loola steps may be imbibed to the tune of Jo Ohny. It is a weird sight to see aspirants for the terpsichorean act go gliding by with all the ease of a brewery wagon going over cobblestones. Some of them prefer to dance a-lone. They can get along so much better when no opposing pedals persist in trampling on their inalienable right to have corns.

Fresh Beeds (trying to carry his point by means of a maxim)—"Birds of a feather live in glass houses."

LOCAL ASSESSMENT IS FULLY SUBSCRIBED

"The Y. M. C. A." he declared, "has been more instrumental in keeping up the moral standard in this camp than any other agency. That is, it provides for the social, education, and religious lives as does no other organization with which the soldier comes in contact. Show me the soldier that speaks with contempt of the Y. M. C. A. and I will show you one that is a detriment to the army."

He closed by making an appeal to those who are left at home to make a sacrifice, if it need be, and contribute to the Association that is doing so much for those who are fighting and who are training in fight.

Dr. Stair is only one of several men who have this week been presenting this very vital problem to the men here at Carolina. Their message has been one right from the "line," and has exerted great influence over the men here who are anxious to do their bit.

Everyone is familiar with the careful canvass that has been carried on this week by a committee of students, and the chairman of this committee has given the public leave to believe that Carolina's assessment has been willingly subscribed.

An optimist is a man who doesn't care what happens just so it doesn't happen to him.
