TEAM LEAVES ON SOUTHERN TRIP WITH GOOD PROSPECTS

WILL PLAY AGAINST EXPERIENCED MEN FROM CAMPS SEVIER AND JACKSON

With a game against Guilford today in Greensboro the team started on its southern tour this morning. Coach Hearn reports the team in fairly good condition. Pippin was called into service this week, but has been granted a leave of absence till the end of his term. Coach Hearn also says that in spite of criticism, the team played very well against Oak Ridge on last Saturday considering the fact that it was their first game. He says that considering the lack of material and shortage of time in which to practice, they have made remarkable progress. The team hopes to secure much benefit from the trip, especially as it is to meet excellent teams from the Camps where there are many stars from the big leagues. "Coach" thinks this is an especial advantage, and an opportunity for great profit. He hopes to have the club in excellent shape for the Virginia games. The men making the trip are two from Younce, Adams and Spaug, catchers; Powell, Joyner, and Swift, pitchers; Bryant and Henry, first base and utility man; Cordon, second; Herty, short; Feimster, third; and Harden, Boreas and Grandin in the outfield.

The permanent schedule for the rest of the season follows:

- March 30—Guilford College at Winston-Salem.

Big Campaign for Books Closes With 1568 Total

The campaign for books for our soldiers closed gloriously last Saturday afternoon with a grand total of 1568 volumes. And more are coming in all the time, the librarians say. The books are classified as follows: Fiction, 525; non-fiction, 434; and texts (mostly French), 609. Chapel Hill and the University contributed the majority of these. Hillsboro and Cedar Grove gave less than 200 to the pile.

Many students took a shot at the prize by entering the guessing contest. When the contest closed there were 1495 books in the pen. J. M. Robbins was the winner, having as his guess the number 1497. L. H. Hodges and E. E. Groves came next with 1942. Four hundred students entered the contest. The winner was allowed to select five dollars worth of books to add to the collection.

The results of the campaign compare most favorably with those in other towns. Greensboro gave 700 books, and Raleigh contributed 1700.

The library takes this opportunity for thanking all for their generosity and co-operation in securing reading matter for our soldiers. No one knows how much these books will be appreciated in camps and trenches.

Battalion Pays Respect to Late Jack Cramner

The Battalion, serving as a military escort, paid its last respects to Jack Cramner last week. The companies formed up at 4 o'clock and marched to the Cramner home where the funeral services were held. As the remains were borne from the house the student-soldiers, with bared heads, stood at attention. The Battalion marching at the head of the funeral procession, passed slowly through town and down to Strowd's hill where it formed up on each side of the road. While the funeral party was passing through the ranks each company stood at parade rest, and as the cortege passed over the brow of the hill the bugler sounded taps.

"Rudy" Barnes, of former Carolina baseball fame and captain of last year's team, was on the Hill the past week.

Material for the last issue of the University Magazine must be in the hands of the editor by midnight April 15. Hand your article, poem, or short story to one of the editors or drop it in the box at the Y. M. C. A.

Professor Collier Cobb has recently delivered his illustrated lecture on "France" at Currituck, Moyrum, and Poplar Branch.

Oh, Joy, Oh boy, Handy with his lively musical, tuneful contingent has at last wired that he will head this way in time to be present at the beginning of the Terpsichorean festivities next Wednesday night, provided some irresponsible corporation wires him railroad fare in advance. He at first wired that the strong draft had his band in its clutches and he would not be able to be present, but later wired that the storm had blown over. As a result of a casualty in his list, however, Handy, the original, will brave the storm and lead his gang to the Hill next week. His music is said to be super-peppy.

As for the girls—well, they bring on more talk. Over 50 of the graceful beauties have already signified their intention of adorning the Hill next week, and several others have not been heard from, including "Peck" Norris' seven. There will probably be the largest number that have ever honored Carolina men with their presence. And it's no wonder; everything is so Handy. Raleigh, as usual, will furnish its full quota, while Durham, Charlotte, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Asheville, Tarboro, Wilson, New Bern, Winston, Greensboro, Oxford, Henderson, Washington, and Chapel Hill will also be well represented.

Hard-boy khaki uniforms will give way to delicate dress-suits—Durham has already been bom-

Y. M. C. A. Officers Are Nominated for New Year

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Tuesday night, Billy Steele reported the nominations for next year's officers made by the nominating committee. The nominations, which are to be voted on next Tuesday are as follows: For president, T. E. Rondthaler; for vice-president, J. C. Bynum; for secretary, L. H. Hodges; for treasurer, N. G. Gooding.

Hermas Stephenson then spoke on the "Good Egg." He began by giving Marcus Aurelius' definition of a good egg, a man who is strictly honest and sincere. He then defined a good egg by stating what a good egg should do. He should adopt himself to all kinds of men and conditions, attempt all great and good things; and achieve what he knows to be the right thing.

A short discussion followed.

THE SENIOR STUNT

Thursday night at 7:30 the Senior stunt will be presented in Gerrard Hall by the class. The play is said to differ from the general type of senior stunts and has met the approval of the faculty committee.

State Bridges Discussed at North Carolina Club

Ninety-five per cent of the bridges in North Carolina are unsafe for all kinds of traffic, according to W. S. Fallis, of Raleigh, head of the State Highway Commission, who fully discussed bridge building before the regular fortnightly meeting of the North Carolina club Monday night.

Mr. Fallis urged that for the sake of economy and safety great care be taken to secure adequate designs made by independent and competent bridge engineers (those not connected with any bridge company or any contractor proposing to build the bridge), and that careful supervision of bridge construction by competent men be undertaken in every case. He placed special emphasis on the foundations on which the bridges are built.

"One of the greatest crimes permitted against the people in an economical way by the county authorities having charge of the bridges is their failure to properly maintain them, both by keeping the floor smooth and in safe condition and by keeping the bridges painted. Steel bridges should never be permitted to go more than three years without being thoroughly cleaned and painted," he said.

"A large number of bridge failures in the country have been due to improper designed abutments

Battalion May Take Part In Parade at Greensboro

Capt. Allen announced in the Chapel Wednesday morning that a committee in Greensboro, at the instigation of the Rotary Club, had already almost completed plans for bringing the whole battalion there on April 13 to hold the place of honor at the head of the huge parade preparatory to the third liberty loan that begins on the 15th. All the schools in the immediate vicinity, Normal, G. C. W., and the high schools and county schools, besides the Red Cross, and other organizations in the state will march in this mammoth procession to aid Uncle Sam. The line of march will lead to the Normal, where a big patriotic song service will be held.

Negotiations are under way with Mr. J. O. Jones, district traffic agent, for the Southern, to obtain a troop train to run from here and return for $1.50. Mr. Woolen thinks that this plan is almost certain to succeed, and states that the whole affair will be a tremendous success and will show the whole state what we are doing for our country.

It is planned to leave here at 8 in the morning and, after seeing the Virginia game, return at an agreeable hour, arriving here somewhere around midnight.

OAK RIDGE 3—CAROLINA 4 IN INITIAL GAME OF SEASON

HOLY CROSS WINS IN RAGGED GAME MARKED BY LISTLESS FANS AND BAD PLAYS

In a typical first of the season game, listless and replete with errors, Carolina defeated Oak Ridge last Saturday 4 to 3. Jack Powell was on the firing line for the home defenders and clicked seven casualties in the opposing batsmen. Burrus, pitching for Oak Ridge, was strong at times.

The game started with a snap but when Powell tossed an easy grounder over Bryant's head in the second inning allowing Pegram to score, things went wrong and the game moved with a drag until the end. A cold slow drizzle setting in about the fifth inning also helped to slow things up considerably.

Earle Holt's proteges scored again in the fifth when Norwood slashed a drive into center for three bases and scored when Herty threw over Feimster's head on the relay in. They crossed the plate again in the ninth when Barnes hit to right for three corners after Norwood had singled.

Carolina's big show occurred in the fifth and eighth innings. In the fifth Powell walked, Herty fouled out to the catcher but Grandin singled and Powell scored, Cordon taking third on the throw to the plate. He scored when the catcher threw wild in an effort to catch Grandin at second. In the eighth Herty walked, Grandin sacrificed, and Adams, running for Herty, scored after Pippin singled. Feimster singled, stole second and scored when Bryant's hot grounder to third bounded away.

The features for Carolina were the hitting of Cordon and Pippin while Norwood featured for Oak Ridge with his stab of Powell's terrific line drive.
