

Phi Debates Public Ownership Utilities

At the regular weekly meeting of the Phi Society the affirmative won the debate on the question, Resolved, That the United States Government should own and control the telegraph, telephone, and cable lines of the United States.

Mr. Teu made the best speech, while Mr. Womble deserved honorable mention. Mr. Abernathy made the best oration with Mr. Brooks deserving honorable mention. The reading of the newly revised constitution was commenced by Mr. Kittrell, who was appointed to carry out that duty. A motion to allow any member of the society to wear the society pin aroused a heated discussion and the motion was referred to a special committee. The query for February 22nd is Resolved, That the American troops now in Russia should be withdrawn as quick as possible. For March 1st, Resolved, That the United States Government should adopt the policy of encouraging and subsidizing the Merchant Marine. The regular election of officers for the remainder of the school term will take place Saturday night, February 22nd.

CO-EDS TAKE GYM INSTRUCTION

Realizing their need for some form of physical exercise, the women students of the University at the beginning of the year asked that some form of physical training be provided for them. Owing to the S. A. T. C. and the influenza epidemic the class was not started until January 27, when Dr. Lawson gave the first instruction. The class meets in the Association room three times a week and consists of about fifteen minutes of floor work without apparatus. This work will fill a need which has been felt for the physical development of women in the University.

Dr. E. C. Branson lectured in Kingston on Friday night, January 31, under the auspices of the alumni and several women's societies. His subject was "Come, Let us Live with Our Children."

TAR HEEL HORSEHIDERS TO PLAY TRIANGULAR SERIES WITH VIRGINIA

May when the Cub team tours the United States. A return game with the North Carolinians at Havana is desired by the Cubans. There is also some talk of a baseball carnival during the Christmas holidays, 1919, at Havana, where ten or twelve of the leading institutions of the Southern and Eastern States will be represented.

Thus it is seen that with the return of most of last year's squad and the abundant material found in last year's first year squad and the new men that Carolina will be able to put out one of the snappiest and most truly representative teams this spring she has produced for many seasons.

among former students of Carolina. In the majority of localities the preliminary plans have already been completed, and actual work on the Campaign has been begun. Local chairmen have been appointed in each town and community as general managers of the Campaign in their respective centers. Upon them the responsibility of the Campaign will devolve, and their position is a most responsible one.

Next week's Tar Heel will carry a full statement of the result of the Campaign, giving in details the amount subscribed by the different classes and organizations on the campus.

for the generals. Both teams played unusually clever basketball.

The Tar Heel quintette was again victorious Tuesday night over V. M. I. at Blackburg. The game was not so closely played, Carolina routing the cadets by superior team work. Carmichael, Lynch, and Liipfert were the Tar Heel stars, while Bunting and Lee were the redeeming features for V. M. I.

The line ups for the Virginia, Washington and Lee, and V. M. I. games are as follows:

Carolina, 29	Virginia, 40
Carmichael	Hatcher
Lynch	R. F. Dunn
Liipfert	L. F. Pettaway
Cuthbertson (Capt.)	C. Jennings
Morris	R. G. Hawkins
	L. G.

Summary:
Field goals, Carmichael 5, Lynch 3, Cuthbertson 3, Morris 1, Hatcher 5, Dunn 4, Pettaway 7, Jennings 1.

In order to have the advertising matter of this year's annual more widespread over the State, the business managers are offering the following proposition to the county clubs, since they are the really representative ones from their counties.

Any club which gets $100 worth of advertising matter for the book may have a page free. There are probably some clubs which could get only a part of this amount. Credit will be given to these at the same rate as the terms mentioned above. All are encouraged to get advertising matter, for every dollar gotten will mean a better book.

UNIV. LIBRARY ENRICHED BY ACQUISITION OF MANY VALUABLE COLLECTIONS

He not only collected books written by North Carolinians, but many books which are interesting and valuable for some passages relating to the State. The instinctive feeling of the collector and historian are shown in many volumes which at first seem to have no connection with the State, such as the records of different Union regiments stationed in North Carolina during the Civil War. The collection is especially valuable as affording original sources for the study of North Carolina history. It is being placed in the North Carolina room and in the main stack. The special book plates which serve as a memorial to Dr. Weeks are being placed in the volumes, many of which will be available for circulation in the next few months.

In his report of the Library Dr. Wilson especially calls attention to the use of the Freshman shelves to stimulate general reading among the students, to the co-operation with the American Library Association in collecting books for soldiers and to the extension work of the Library. "It prepared thirty-five package libraries and assisted in the publication of an Extension Leaflet entitled 'What to Read Concerning the War.' Titles mentioned in the leaflet and the package libraries were extensively loaned throughout the State." The Library sent out 3,219 books and pamphlets and 1,258 letters relating to extension and library activities.

Miss Cornelia Love and Miss Rachel Harris, both graduates of the New York State Library School, have been serving as assistant librarians since the resignation of Miss Strudwick last June. Miss Lillian Long and Miss Kennette have been added as secretary to the librarian and assistant in
