Miss Love, of the University Library staff, is a sister of the young veteran.

BIBLE STUDY GROUPS MEET

Much interest is being manifested in the Bible study groups which are being held under the auspices of the "Y" in the different dormitories. The meetings are held each Sunday at 12:15, and last for about one half an hour. As a guide in the study, the men are using the little books "About Jesus" which were written by Dr. Edward Bosworth and used in the religious activities in the American Army camps. The every day life and problems of the Christ are being discussed and compared with those of people in the world today.

CAROLINA LINES UP AGAINST DAVIDSON

When Carolina lines up against the basketball quint from Davidson College in Charlotte Saturday night, sideline enthusiasts are promised one of the best exhibitions of the tossing game seen in the State this year.

Trinity College has already been defeated by Washington and Lee, which latter team was overwhelmed by Carolina. Thus, Davidson and State College are the only remaining obstacles in the way to the State title. Two games will be played in Charlotte, the first with the Charlotte Y. M. C. A., on Friday night, and the second with Davidson on Saturday night.

The probable line-up will be as follows: Carmichael and Lynch, forwards; Captain Cuthbertson and Morris, guards; and Liipfert, center.

ENROLLMENT REACHES 814

The number of students which have registered for College work this quarter is 814, according to the latest figures. This number surpasses by about 200 the number of students which most of the members of the faculty were expecting back on the Hill. However, the more optimistic were inclined toward the belief that the loss of many former S. A. T. C. students would be counterbalanced by the return of many old Carolina men who had recently been mustered out of service. This has proved to be the case, and at present retired second lieutenants are found in great numbers about the campus, as well as former navy, marine, and army men. Twenty-one graduate students are on the Hill pursuing courses in the graduate school. The number of Medical students is 50, a number which is just about equal to the registration of last year. Figures for the registration in Law and Pharmacy have not been accurately compiled. The Pharmacy School is holding its own, and has fully as many students as in past years, while the number in the Law School is greater than ever, as many academic students have entered the first year law school this quarter.

Their lips did move in sweet accord
Although no words could come—
Their feelings were too much for words,
For they both chewed chewing gum.

"And now, Mr. Green, what kind of a fellow thinks he knows everything?"
"22 (brightly): "A Professor."

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION MEN ADDRESS CABINET

what is known as the Belgian Congo or Congo Free State. The speaker told of the entirely illiterate people of this district, and the missionary workers' efforts to, at least plant the roots of education there. He stated that the people there are lazy for a lack of something to do, and that they have a very small outlook on life. As a result, they are not ambitious.

Where fifty years ago the life of a white man would be in great danger in Africa, now he is welcomed and given the best of treatment. This, stated the speaker, is a result of the slow Christianizing of the natives, for this is really, he said, the only effective means of civilizing this great country.

In conclusion, Dr. Mumpower made a plea for more volunteers in order to help carry on this great work. He said the fact that there is only one physician for areas as large as the two Carolinas combined is a challenge for more medical missionaries.
