Just Gossip

THE DEVIL IN THE BELFRY

(With profuse apologies to Mr. Poe and the carpenter that fixed the bell.) When Mr. Poe wrote the Devil in the Belfry he described the confusion and chaos that reigned when one day the town clock failed to chime out the hours. And such a confusion it was. Dogs forgot that they were dogs, cabbage growing in the garden turned pink from embarrassment and things even went so far that some of the inhabitants noticed the difference and began to wonder what could the matter be.

From the time that the oldest and most wrinkled bat in the belfry atop of South Building, first saw daylight the old bell has been the perpetrator the old bell has been the perpetrator of the sound that announces every-thing from "time to get up" to "hash is ready." It has been this bell that like some remorseless demon drove the persecuted students into the lairs of the "Profs", that also announces to the one student in the class who does not go to sleep on war issues, that it is time to wake up the other and more fortunate members of the class. Then it was this bell that anclass. Then it was this bell that an-nounced to the crowd, that gazed from the classroom window, hoping against hope that the instructor would not come, that a "Grat" was theirs. It is also the same old bell that always is also the same old bell that always persists in ringing "Get up" about ten seconds or so after you go to sleep. Grand old time honored, dust covered, mellow toned bell! Small wonder then the confusion you create when you insist on remaining silent.

GOING, GOING, GONE

Tune "Good-by girls, I'm through." Good-bye food, I'm through With almost all of you. I say good-bye to you Without the least regret. I'm on the road to thinness, That fascinating slimness, And to candy all I say, Good-bye "sweets," good-bye "meats" I'm at the diet table now.

CAROLINA QUINT ENDS SEASON WITH BIG END OF PERCENTAGE COLUMN (Continued from Page 1)

down before the Tar Heels to the tune of 42-28. But the tide turned and Carolina suffered defeat at the hands of V. P. I. twice, once on their home floor and again the following home floor and again the following night in Roanoke, where a fifty-fifty game was played. Thus the Carolina quint ended her most successful trip thru Virginia. Travelling each day, playing each night, she broke fifty-fifty, three won, three lost. From the standpoint of pleasure it was a most congenial trip, and very successful from a financial view.

"On to Raleigh" became now the slogan of not only the team but the entire student body. "Vengeance is mine," sayeth Carolina, and the stu-dent body moved on Raleigh en masse. The first half of the game was one of the best played games witnessed in these parts in waars ending 14.14 these parts in years, ending 14-14. The Orange and Blue came back strong in the next half and for the second time this season Carolina went down before her ancient and greatest rival. But with a new determination the team started on the last lap of the season, the southern trip. Meet-ing one of the strongest "Y" teams in the Sate, Carolina nosed out a victory, 51-46. Davidson, contrary to her usual form and "rep", was easy meat. The team received a wire from graduate manager Woolen to journey to Camp Jackson, and return-ed with her scalp as the last trophy of the season.

In all sixteen games were played, ten of which were victories for the Carolina quint. Only three teams de-Carolina quint. Unly three teams de-feated them, these being Durham "Y", Virginia, and V. P. I. each, one taking two games, the last game in each case being very close and hotly contested. Unbeaten by any college in the State, Carolina claims that she has at least Carolina claims that she has at least an equal claim with any other State quint for the championship honors of the State. Financially it was the best season any N. C. quint ever had, also the prospects for next season are very bright. Carlyle Shepherd, formerly forward and captain-elect of the 1917-18 quint, now serving in foreign fields, will return to complete his course. Douglass, of Trinity, and Lipfert, Morris, Carmichael, of this year's squad will be on back, and after winning the State championship for '19 Carolina intends to go out for bigger game next year in the shape of bigger game next year in the shape of the South Atlantic honors.

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS PRESENT FIRST PROGRAM FRIDAY AND SATURDAY (Continued from Page 1)

Bill, Frances' suitor-Albert Oettinger. Mr. Sanderson, Professor of So-ciology, in love with Barbara—Arthur Spaugh. Rosetta, the maid—Sally Vick Whit-

Potter, the man—Chester Burton. Dr. Moss, the parson—John Lasley. Minerva—William Goforth. Cupid—Edward Kidder Graham. "The Return of Buck Gavin"—by

Thomas Wolfe. Buck Gavin, a mountain outlaw-

Thomas Wolfe. Mary, his sister-Mrs. James Moffat.

The sheriff-Frederick H. Cohn. "When Witches Ride"-by Elizabeth A. Lay.

Uncle Benny, owner of the crossroads general store—George McKee. Ed. his son—W. H. Williamson. Jake—George Denny. Phoebe Ward, witch—Mrs. S. C.

Leavitt.

Production Department

Producing Committee: Professors McKie and Bernard, Mrs. S. E. Leavitt.

Director of Stage-Craft: Professor P. H. Daggett.

Director of Lighting: Professor Lear.

Director of Construction: Professor Rankin.

Director of Scene Painting: Miss Pritchard. Mistress of Wardrobe: Mrs. J. H.

Pratt. Stage Settings and Properties: Professor Lasley, Mrs. Dey, Miss

Love. Business Manager: Mr. C. T. Wool-

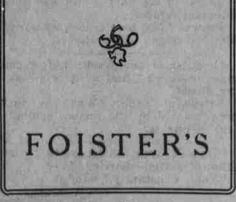

House Manager: Prof. Wheeler. Ass't Stage Manager: Chester Bur-

Director of Orchestra: E. S. Lindsey.

BIG ASSORTMENT OF MOULDINGS

Director of Publicity: W. R. Wunsch,.

Scene Painting: Misses Pritchard, Lay, Thornton and Kennette. Messrs. Thornton, Sumner and Coker.

CAROLINA VICTORIOUS OVER DAVIDSON; CLAIMS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP (Continued from Page 1)

Substitutes: Hodges, Griffith. Carolina, Brown,

Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee: Foul, of Charlotte Y. M.

C. A. Carolina defeated the Charlotte Y" team in a fast and exciting game of basketball Friday night by the score of 51 to 56, the first half end-ing 29 to 23. Billy Carmichael, scor-ing 21 points, played exceptionally good ball for Carolina, while Marsh and Wyatt played well for the "Y" team.

Following was the line-up and points scored: Carolina Carolina Carmichael (21) R. F. Charlotte Wyatt (18) Lynch (14) Marsh (18) L. F. Liipfert (6) Kirby (4) C. Morris (4) ... Mason (6) Cuthbertson (6) L. G. R. G. Cunningham Substitutes: Brown for Lynch. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

HAMLIN GARLAND SCORES HEAVILY IN INITIAL TALK TO LOCAL STUDENT BODY (Continued from Page 1)

grace, and subtlety as the main points to be borne in mind by the young writer.

While not disparaging local pa-triotism, Mr. Garland entered an earnest plea for a greater exchange that leadeth to fuller understanding between the North and South. Theor-etically the North and South are the same. Actually such is not true, he declared. We have got to grow to-ward this full unity. The world war just passing, which brought the North and South together on the bat-tlefields, found in the brothers from the two ground in the brothers from the two great sections of the coun-try many similarities and identical enthusiasms. Speaking to the students in chapel

Friday morning, he urged them to arraign themselves as a counter-bal-ancing power to check the present tendency toward Bolshevism.