High School Football Championship to Be Played Here This Fall

High school championship of the state will be decided here early in December when the successful team in the western half of the state meets the aggregation representing the eastern half.

The contest will be held under the joint auspices of the Bureau of Extension and the General Athletic Association of the University of North Carolina. The committee in charge being N. W. Walker, Chairman, E. R. Rankin, Secretary, C. T. Woolen, T. J. Campbell and Donnel Van Noppen.

Any team representing a high school, city or rural, that has played and won up to November 15th, as many as three games with teams representing schools of similar rank and lost none is eligible to enter the championship series. Any team that has played four games under similar conditions and had won three of them is eligible provided the manager notifies the committee on or before November 17th of his desire to enter to contest and has sent in the record of his team.

Raleigh high school won the championship in 1913, '14 and '15, Charlotte high school in 1916 and '17.

Much interest is being shown by the high school students throughout the state, in the coming contest which is expected to be a hot one.

New Medal Endowed To Two Literary Societies

Mr. P. E. Wright, of Landis, North Carolina, has recently endowed the two literary societies with a handsome award to be known as the Mary D. Wright Memorial Medal to be given for work in debate. This year the contest for this medal will be held on December 6th in Gerrard Hall. Any member of either of the societies who is an undergraduate is eligible for this contest. The preliminaries will take place on November 18 in the two society halls.

The query to be discussed is "That employers should concede employees collective bargaining." Of this question the Phi Society has the affirmative and the Di Society has the negative. Entrants should hand their names to any member of the Debating Council who is from their society. The Council is composed of G. D. Crawford (Di) President, Daniel L. Grant (Phi) Secretary; John H. err, Jr. (Phi); R. B. Gwynn (Di); W. H. Andrews, Jr. (Phi); and W. H. Bobbitt (Di).

This award is made to further stimulate interest in forensic contests, and should provide ample opportunity for training the men who will be representing the University in inter-collegiate debates in the winter and spring quarters.

The first issue of the Sprunt Historical Publications since the war has just come from the press. The issue deals with the life of Bartlett Yancey Malone.

Class Football Games All Even in a Tie

As we go to press the standing of the various classes on the roll of gridiron honor is rather uncertain. The Professional school team has lost one game and failed to show up for the other, much to the disappointment of the Senior team—which was also absent. It seems then, that the struggle will be only between the academic classes.

The Seniors hold that dignity, hand in hand with much learning, must eventually win the laurels; while the Juniors have no ephemeral hopes but one constant purpose—to carry off the bacon. The Sophomores, on the other hand, declare that the force of their traditional bloodthirstiness—especially with Ratty on the job—must open the way to the goal; but the Freshmen, with that unconquerable confidence of youth—and freshness—are coming out in larger numbers than all of the other teams combined.

The games played thus far have by some coincidence ended each time with a tie, thus giving hope to all, but victory to none.

Mr. Adolph Topperwein Demonstrates before Students Keen Shooting Ability

Demonstrating the exceptional shooting qualities of the Winchester rifle, Mr. Adolph Topperwein today, below the cemetery, gave one of the most marvelous exhibitions of fancy shooting ever seen in this part of the country. Mr. Topperwein used rifle, shot gun and pistol and shot from every conceivable position in his performance.

Mr. Topperwein shot with pistols and hit small rubber balls in rapid succession, bursting as many as three thrown in the air at the same time. With the rifle, he carried an Indian chief's head at a distance of about twenty feet in a piece of sheet tin, shooting as fast as he could load his rifle. He made some remarkable shots too, using a mirror and shooting over his shoulder or between his legs. Three targets thrown in the air at the same time were shot to pieces without seming effort. After the exhibition by the world famous shot, anyone who wished to show his ability as a gun man, was given the chance with clay pigeons as the target.

A. & E. Show Pictures For Benefit of Elec. Students

The A. I. E. E. gave for the benefit of the electrical students and others interested a picture entitled the "Queen of the Waves" in Gerrard Hall, Monday evening.

The picture, which featured the development of navigation from the canoe up to the modern electrically-driven superdreadnought, was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

Between the reels, the juggling fiend Burton entertained the audience with many weird and wonderful tricks.

Southern Oratorical League is Organized

Plans have recently been perfected by the seven leading southern universities for a Southern Oratorical League. Its purpose is to bring together annually the representatives of the member institution to engage in a discussion of our economic, social, religious, or political affairs. The winner of the contest will receive a handsome award. The contest will be held in the early spring of each year at the seat of one of the member universities. The first contest will be held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, on March 5, 1920. The preliminary to select Carolina's representative will be held during the latter part of January next. Entrants should hand their names to Grant, Secretary of the Debating Council as early as possible. This is to be one of the big inter-collegiate events of the collegiate year in this section of the country, and the interest manifested in it here should be unbounded.

The League is composed of the University of Kentucky, the University of Virginia, Johns Hopkins University, Vanderbilt University, the University of Tennessee, the University of Alabama, and the University of North Carolina.

FIVE THOUSAND EXPECTED TO BE PRESENT AT GREAT THANKSGIVING BATTLE

ginia, and one from the state yet undetermined. Plans to assure to alumni and students first choice of seats have been worked out, it was stated, and each alumnus will be sent detailed account of the arrangements and a form with which to apply for tickets. It was especially emphasized that all seats will be reserved and only by purchase before the game can spectators be certain of seats.

For those who come in auto, and it is estimated that there will be many, parking arrangements are being made, and it was stated that in consideration of the special parking places to be designated, no parking will be permitted in the vicinity of the field. Arrangements for the sustenance of the mortal man have been consummated, it was announced, and for the day of the game, Swain Hall and the Inn will discontinue their regular meals and serve buffet lunches and coffee the entire day. Several of the Fraternities have announced their intention to serve lunches to their alumni the day of the game. Concessions will be sold to men who desire to run cold drink and hot-dog stands under the stadium, the University announced.

In anticipation of a crowd from five to ten thousand in number, special police protection will be insured by the addition of several men to the regular force. Programs of the game, detailing the history of the feud-like series of contests between Carolina and her ancient enemy Virginia will be on sale the day of the game, it was announced.

Law School Organizes New System of Law Clubs

Departing from the old custom and form of holding Saturday night moot courts, the Law School has organized itself into a group of law clubs which, in the place of these Saturday night moot courts, will discuss at the meetings of the different clubs all questions which are naturally of interest to law students. The Clubs are named after L. P. McGehee, Thomas Ruffin, M. H. Stacy, James Iredell, and Chief Justice Clark. A more detailed report of the plan will appear in next week's issue of the Tar Heel.
