CAROLINA MAN IS CHOSEN FOR ALL SOUTH ATLANTIC

BLOUNT PICKED FOR CENTER ON ALL SOUTH ATLANTIC TEAM

HOMEWOOD OF A. AND E. END

Coleman and Tenney and Grimes Are All Very Highly Mentioned

End—Homewood, N. C. State.
Tackle—Hall, V. P. I.
Guard—Dudack, Georgetown.
Center—Blount, University N. C.
Guard—Crisp, V. P. I.
Tackle—Bethel, W. & L.
End—Daves, W. & L.
Quarterback—Maloney, Georgetown.

Halfback—McQuade, Georgetown.
Halfback—Leach, V. M. I.
Fullback—Kuyk, University Va.
William Blount, center on the football team last season has been put on Charles A. Bernier's All-South Atlantic football team which was published in the Richmond News-Leader of January 17.

"Nemo" Coleman, "Ed." Tenney and "Bill" Grimes receive favorable mention.

Mr. Bernier, who is director of athletics at V. P. I. shows a noble restraint in his selection which deserves the warm commendation of all the colleges in the South-Atlantic section. Charles has only put two V. P. I. men on his all star team. In view of the fact that he had eleven positions to fill and since he might have put a V. P. I. player in each position, Mr. Bernier exercised a temperance in his selection that puts the Greek idea in the shade. Homewood, State's left end this past season and Kuyk, Virginia's fullback find places on the team also.

Mr. Bernier's comment on Blount follows:

Blount a Roving Center
For a pivot man, Blount, of the University of North Carolina, played the most consistent game, and was by all odds the best passer of the mediocre array of centers. On the defense, he played a keen, alert game. He had a tendency to play the roving game a little too much, perhaps, but, with Crisp and Dudack flanking him, this fault might be termed as an advantage.

THE JUNIOR CLASS HOLDS "GOOD FELLOWSHIP" SMOKER

Meeting as a class for the first time since Christmas holidays, the Juniors set a precedent in the life of the University Friday night by holding a "Good Fellowship" smoker. The smoker, which was held in the reading room of the Y. M. C. A., was planned primarily as an informal get-together meeting of the members of the class. Never since the fall of 1917 when the present class entered as verdant Freshmen has it enjoyed a smoker to the same extent that the last one was enjoyed. It did not have the air of formality that the previous ones have had, and the class spirit received a considerable boost thereby.

President John Kerr, acted as toastmaster, and in a most appealing talk to his classmates urged them to lay aside any prejudices or hindrances to a better class understanding that they might have and to get together as a unified, compelling force that through its group spirit would set a standard of excellence for the entire campus. His theme was that there was an ever-increasing need for greater class cooperation, which will in turn, he declared, lead to a greater University spirit. He frankly talked about the fraternity question, which heretofore has been a question that has been dodged by most speakers at Carolina. In dealing with this subject, President Kerr urged the fraternity men and the non-fraternity men to get together, explaining to them that it was the privilege and

PROFESSOR CLARK GIVES INTERPRETATIVE READING OF "GEORGE WASHINGTON"

PERCY MACKAYE'S FAMOUS PLAY RENDERED WITH MARKED ABILITY

Certain it is that Percy Mackaye himself would have been delighted with the rendition of his "George Washington" on last Wednesday night by Mr. S. H. Clark, Professor of Public Speaking at the University of Chicago. Professor Clark's reading was another of the University Lecture Series which is being arranged for by the University.

After a few brief and pointed words of introduction by Prof. H. M. Dargan of the English Faculty, the speaker, in a brief preliminary talk, made the point that while admittedly "art is international," nevertheless we are just human enough to appreciate our own national art more than foreign art. He then took up the life of Washington, following it on through his boyhood days at Mount Vernon, his adventures in the military field, his glorious record in the war and during the first days of our republic, and his later life at the old estate at Mount Vernon. The interpretative reading of the different characters was exceptionally well done all through, and was appreciated by the small but interested audience that heard him. Especially was the part of the play which deals with the entrance of France into the Revolutionary War well handled, having an unusual modern application in the late war.

Phi House Opposed to Intervention in Mexico

House resolution entitled, "The establishment on the part of the United States of order in Mexico by armed force," was defeated by a vote of 46 to 25 by the General Assembly of the Phi Society last Saturday night. This resolution was introduced by I. J. Stephenson of Harnett and P. E. Greene of Edgecombe.

The supporters of the bill contended that the people of Mexico were slaves of a greedy government which was unable to maintain peace in Mexico. They also pointed out that Mexico was committing injuries against the citizens of the United States, and the only way that further outrages could be prevented would be by armed intervention. The affirmative was willing to release the country from the domination of the United States as soon as the people showed they were able to govern themselves.

The opponents of the measure declared that the damage Mexico had done the United States was greatly exaggerated. They claimed that intervention would cost not only a great amount of money, but also the lives of many United States soldiers. They counselled economic aid as one of the greatest forces for restoring peaceful conditions in Mexico.

Another resolution which resulted in warm debate was one that would open the doors of the Phi Assembly to the public after the regular routine business. This is the second time this resolution has been offered and both times it has been voted down.

Tonight house bill number four entitled, "A bill to establish a law in the state of North Carolina that would compel all persons male or female to pass a medical examination before securing a marriage license," will be discussed.

An English regiment on its way to India stopped at Aden, but noting how arid the place looked few went ashore. An officer observed an Irish sergeant of his company leaning over the ship's side, gazing intently at the town.

"Well, Pat, and what do you think of Aden?" the officer inquired.
"Well sorr," was the unexpected answer, "what Adam an' Ave iver saw in such a place bates me."

Carolina Up-to-date Even When it Comes to Wireless

Receiving the news by wireless every night before going to bed, is one of the few modern conveniences which are enjoyed by the dormitory students.

In one of the rooms of a certain one of the temporary homes of the seekers after "4's" and other numerals, there is an up-to-date wireless receiving instrument. To the curious, it might be added that this aforesaid building is not very far from the old well. The operator-owner of the apparatus is a former service man who saw duty as one of Uncle Sam's radio operators.

Just before retiring every night, the above mentioned student puts on his receiver and gets in communication with civilization. Soon he is picking up news from Arlington, ships off our coast, Key West, and other stations. The maximum distance from which messages are received is about 1,500 miles.

Recently some very interesting bits of news have been picked up. The calls from vessels at sea have been caught on a few occasions. Associated Press reports which came out in the newspapers the following day have been received before bedtime.

FRESHMEN PUT OAK RIDGE OUT OF THE RUNNING

The Freshmen played rings around Oak Ridge last Saturday night, and easily won by a score of 41 to 7. From the first minute of play the first year men had their opponents outplayed and outclassed. The playing of the entire Freshman team was fast and sure. In the second half, a new five went in for Carolina and this team was replaced by a third outfit.

The line-up for the first half was as follows:

Carolina	Oak Ridge
MacDonald	Curring
	right forward
Carmichael	Rouse
	left forward
Williams	Corbett
	center
Hanby	Caton
	right guard
Graham	McGirt
	left guard

A. F. WHYTE, NOTED JOURNALIST, TO SPEAK HERE ON PARIS CONFERENCE

WAS PRESENT AT SESSION OF THE WORLD PEACE CONFERENCE

The coming of one of the most important and interesting lecturers who will come to Carolina this year has been announced by the University Lecture Committee. Mr. A. F. Whyte, distinguished British Journalist, and editor of "The New Europe" will speak here at an early date on "What Happened at the Peace Conference in Paris." Mr. Whyte is peculiarly fitted to handle this subject because of the fact that he was present in Paris during the memorable sessions of the Peace Conference. The exact date of the lecture will be announced later.

Sunday Afternoon Musical Programs to Be Given Soon

Announcement is made of a series of Sunday afternoon musical programs to be given under the joint auspices of the Community Club and the University Department of Music. The first of these programs will be given on Sunday, February first; those following will occur on the first Sunday of each month during the remainder of the school year. The time and place and the exact nature of the first program will be announced next week. It is planned to utilize a number of local musicians in these musical afternoons, and to make the programs as varied as possible. The recitals will be an hour in length and will be entirely free to the public, there being no admission fee and no collections. It is hoped that both the student body and the towns-people will take advantage of this opportunity of hearing the presentation of good and attractive music. Watch for the definite announcement next week about the first of this series.

Fraternities Initiate Twenty-Two Men

With a student body of 1,350 men, 450 of whom are Freshmen, and 50 of whom are co-eds there is a fraternity membership of approximately 200 men. Thus out of 850 students who are eligible to join fraternities, 200 or nearly 25 per cent are members. This is the largest percentage for a number of years. Besides this fraternity men are active in all phases of college life: five of the eight members of the student council are fraternity men, four of the six active members of Phi Beta Kappa, and five of the seven taken into Golden Fleece last spring. Thus it goes through all the phases of college activity.

The fraternities increased the total number in recent initiations by twenty-three men as follows: Kappa Alpha—Hagood; Kappa Sigma—Eller; Phi Delta Theta—Thompson, Litch, and Crawford; Beta Theta Pi—Lineberger and Rankin; Pi Kappa Alpha—Williams, Yokeley, Patrick; Delta Kappa Epsilon—Paraham and Bowen; Sigma Nu—Aycock, Stevens, McNeil; Pi Kappa Phi—Harrell, Dautridge; and Alpha Tau Omega—McKnight, Booe, Underwood, Guthrie, Millikin.

State Aid For Tenant Farmers Club's Subject

Urging State aid as one of the remedies for tenant farmers, a committee of the North Carolina Club with Myron Green, of Marshville, as chairman, made its report before the Carolina Club January 11 in connection with the work of Governor Bickett's State Reconstruction Commission. Assisting Mr. Green on this committee of Home and Farm Ownership were W. R. Kirkman and R. R. Hawfield.

VARSITY RETURNS FROM FIRST TRIP OUT IN STATE

CONTESTED WITH GUILFORD, DAVIDSON, AND CHARLOTTE

SHOWS UP WELL FOR FIRST TRIP

Only After Hard Fight did Carolina Lose to Her Opponents

The basketball team of the University left last Thursday on its first trip of the year. On Thursday night they played the strong Guilford team in the Y. M. C. A. at Greensboro. The girls were waiting for Captain Carmichael and his men in front of the Y. M. C. A., and gave them a joyous reception. The team upon arrival went directly to the floor, where the Guilford team was waiting in readiness.

The first half saw the score held very low, and neither side had any particular advantage, both teams playing an excellent game. The last half saw the Carolina men go to the front, as is her custom, and during which time they outclassed the Guilford team in every respect, winning easily, 51 to 23.

The features of the game were the excellent goal shooting of Liipfert, and the all-round passing of the entire team.

The line-up was as follows:

Guilford	Carolina
Raiford	Shepard
Frazier	Carmichael
	forwards
Zackery	Liipfert
	center
Smith	Douglass
Cox	Rourk
	guards

Substitutes:
Guilford—Anderson for Cox.
Carolina—Morris for Rourk, Griffith for Shepard.
Goals—Liipfert, 9; Carmichel, 7; Shepard, 3; Douglass, 3; Rourk, 1; Frazier, 3; Zackary, 3; Smith, 1; Anderson, 1.
Fouls—Carmichael, 4; Frazier, 7.

Davidson Game

The team journeyed from Greensboro to Davidson where they played on Friday night. After winning so handily from the Guilford aggregation, a very hard game was not looked forward to. To the surprise of all concerned our team went down to defeat at the hands of the scrappy Davidson five, 31 to 20.

In the first half all went nicely, and Carolina showed a slight advantage over the Davidson team, but the second half saw an entirely different game, Carolina lacked the drive and endurance that has been customary in the previous games played. Davidson immediately took advantage of this let-up on our part and ran up a safe score, in a very short time, as a result.

The game was featured by the uncanny goal shooting of Roberts, of Davidson, and the foul shooting of Carmichael for Carolina.

The line-up:
Davidson
 Carolina || Hall | Shepard |
Roberts	Carmichael
	forwards
Steinbeck	Liipfert
	center
Chalmers	Douglass
Schenck	Morris
	guards

Substitutes:
Davidson—Brice for Schenck, Shepard for Brice, Romefelt for Steinbeck.

Famous Chow Emporium Will Move at Early Date

Sim-Jim's justly celebrated chow emporium will move this week into the old post-office building, recognizing that the principles of high finance and abnormal growth demand a greater floor space.
"We hope to gradually evolve into the cafeteria class," said Mr. Howell, the "Jim" part of the firm. "We need the room, anyway."
