

General Assembly
Inaugurate Officers

"I urge you all to come here at every possible opportunity to reap the benefit of that proper combination of silence and speech which is offered in no other department of the University activities," said T. S. Kittrell, newly elected speaker of the general assembly of the Philanthropic society, in his inaugural address before the assembly last Saturday night.

Mr. Kittrell reviewed the activities of the assembly for the year. He also pointed out various ways in which the society should handle the new men at the beginning of the year. Mr. Kittrell contended that it was doubtful at first whether the society would be successful under its new plan, because it was thought that the freshmen and sophomores would not take an interest in the work. In regard to this point the speaker added: "Everything possible was done to safeguard against this, and we have met with a success, and I believe that this success is due, not so much to the machinery as to the personal touch of the members. Every old member made it his personal duty to speak to every new member with whom he was acquainted and to impress upon him the importance of speaking whenever he had anything to say—and that it was important for him to have something to say."

The regular order of business was dispensed with, and the business part of the meeting was held first. The regular election of the business manager of the Yackety Yack was held and D. L. Grant was elected. The other business manager, J. W. Erwin, represents the Dialectic society on the Yackety Yack board for the next year.

Discussion was then continued on the new constitution which the assembly is adopting. This discussion was brought to a close by a motion of adjournment so that the members could hear John J. Parker, republican candidate for governor, speak in Gerrard hall. The other officers who serve with Mr. Kittrell for the remainder of the year are: D. L. Grant, speaker-pro-tem; W. A. Gardner, sergeant-at-arms; A. M. Scarborough, reading clerk, and A. L. Purrington, reporting clerk.

For the first time since 1915 Rutgers met the University of Pennsylvania in baseball and after a struggle on the Franklin field diamond last Saturday afternoon, which lasted over two hours, the Quakers emerged victorious by the score of 8 to 1 despite the fact that the scarlet batmen out-hit the winning aggregation eight to seven.—The Targum.

HORSEHIDE VARSITY
ARE BAPTIZED 8 TO 1

A comedy of errors in nine acts well expresses the exhibition of the national pastime that took place on Emerson field Monday between Wake Forest and Carolina. The team showed an entire reversal of form from that exhibited in the A. and E. game. The curves of the Carolina pitchers lacked their usual effectiveness, and the infield its usual tightness. And as a result, Wake Forest had a great day of rejoicing, winning easily by the score of eight to one.

Barnes pitched an excellent game, allowing only six hits and keeping these well scattered. Tight was his middle name in the pinches. Twice Carolina had a wonderful opportunity to score, and twice Barnes proved invincible. In the second he retired the sides after the bases had been filled and no one put out and in the fourth he prevented a score with a runner on third and none out.

Joyner, who started for Carolina was taken out in the second inning, and Llewellyn, who took his place checked the Baptists temporarily, but was hit hard towards the end of the game.

Wake Forest scored in the first and second innings, twice in the sixth and four times in the ninth. All of these runs were the results of hits coupled with errors. It seemed that the Baptists hit always at the right time.

For Carolina the hitting of Lewis and Graham was a feature, while the work of "Runt" Lowe at first was excellent throughout the game.

Carolina's only run came in the eighth inning in which Graham tripled and was sent home by Younce's sacrifice fly.

PRESTON CUP CONTEST
TO BE HELD MAY 1

It was announced last week by the English department that all material to be entered in the journalism contest must be in May 1. The contest is for the Preston cup, which is awarded each year to the undergraduate, who does the best work of a journalistic nature. If the cup is won three years in succession, it becomes the property of the winner. Otherwise, the name of the winner is engraved on the cup.

Material this year will take the following form: First, either a special article, a special news letter, or a general news letter, the approximate length of which is to be 25,000 words; Second, either an editorial, or informal essay, or a book review, of from 500 to 1,000 words in length, and third, verse, a descriptive or narrative sketch, or miscellaneous, no article exceeding 200 words. In the third, all three classes may be entered; but in the first and second, only one article from each will be allowed.

A student does not have to have taken journalism to be eligible for the prize. Material should be handed either to Dr. Greenlaw or Mr. Hibberd.

Winners of the cup so far are: 1910, Stephenson; 1911, L. W. Morgan; 1912, J. W. Orr; 1913, J. L. Chambers; 1914, W. P. Fuller; 1915, R. L. Vaughn; 1916, C. L. Snider; 1917, W. T. Polk; 1918, R. L. Young, and 1919, W. D. Carmichael.

Track Team Meets
Va. and V. M. I. Today

The track team left on Friday morning for a cinder contest between Virginia and V. M. I. in Charlottesville today. The opposing teams have both done some very good work this season, and will make the fight for points a hot one. Carolina has had only one meet this year—the one with Trinity during the Easter holidays—which was easy meat in comparison with what is expected today from the boys from "Ole Virginia." In the Trinity affray, the team showed some good work, but as a whole it was not up to its standard, as several of the men were not in the best of condition.

The Virginia teams have an exceptionally good set of sprinters, who don't mind throwing the cinders in the other fellow's face, provided the other fellow keeps up with them. Coach Brown has devoted a large part of the week, and thinks his men will give the Virginia boys a good time.

With Nichols back, the field events are showing up very well. Captain Spencer is going up with the hope that he will find some one who will at least make the vault interesting for him, or he fears that he will get out of practice.

The team is in much better shape now than at the Trinity meet, and the chances are very good that it will come back with the big end of the score.

During the holidays Prof. F. H. Koch lectured at Flora MacDonald College on Folk Playmaking in North Carolina.
