CAROLINA VARSITY STATE CHAMPIONS; TITLE UNDISPUTED

VARSAITY PLAYED NINETEEN GAMES; WINS 8, LOSES 9, AND TIES 2

SCORES SEVENTY-THREE POINTS

Four Games Lost By One Run and Three Games Go Over Nine Innings Virginia Games Were Close

Carolina has won 8 games, lost 9 games, and tied 2 games.

This is the resume of North Carolina's champion baseball team that closed its season Wednesday with a 2 to 1 victory over Trinity that came in the twelfth inning when "Lefty" Wilson crashed out a two-bagger and won his own game when he was squeezed in with beautiful sacrifices by Sweetman and Captain Feimster. To the casual observer it would seem that the Tar Heel aggregation had been in a slump, since it has come to the end of the season holding the little end of an 8 to 9 won-lost column, but upon looking at the schedule it is a cinch that he will change his mind. Carolina has played nineteen games, and in these games has scored 73 points to her opponents' 65. She has played nine games with colleges in the state and has won seven of them, leaving her the undisputed champion of the state. One of these games was lost by one lone tally, after it seemed that we had things sewed up. The score in college games of the state is 38 to 21 in Carolina's favor. Four games during the season were lost by one point. Three games went over nine innings—the last Trinity game and both Maryland State games. Carolina won of these, the 12 inning Trinity game and the last Maryland State game, that went for ten innings. The first Maryland State game also was a ten inning affair and ended in a tie.

Of the games won, Carolina scored 36 points to her opponents' 10, and of those lost the Blue and White team scored 31 to her opponents' 49. Several of the games lost stand out as bright spots in the schedule, notably the Penn game, which was said by a Philadelphia sports writer to have been the best contest seen there this season, and which gave the Quakers a decided shake-up that made them fight to the last ditch, a thing said to be against their religious tenets. Both of the Virginia games were extremely close, as shown by reference to the score board.

Taking the season as a whole it has been one of achievement. The team, although it has been a little "off" at times during the earlier part of the season has come back and has demonstrated that it had the goods. It has ended its season well, and Captain Feimster and "Jo Jo" Younce, who finished their college baseball career Wednesday, have walked off the diamond in a blaze of glory with the winning of the Trinity contest.

Glee Club Returns From Eastern Trip

The Glee Club returned a few days ago from their trip to five cities of the eastern part of the state. They gave concerts in Raleigh, Dunn, Goldsboro, New Bern, and Wilmington. The club was given a very warm welcome and a good attendance at the concerts in every place they visited. This was particularly the case in Raleigh and Wilmington, Professor Weaver reports.

The especial features of the concert, Professor Weaver added, were the solos of Legrand Everett, the excellent guitar work of Mike Newman, Jimmie Howell's Yodelling, and the violin solos of Julian Turrentine.

As a whole the trip was a remarkable success and the places visited look forward to an annual concert by the club.

Dr. E. W. Knight is attending an Educational Conference in Berea, Ky., this week.

New Baseball Captain Elected For Next Year

Lawrence C. ("Lefty") Wilson, of Dunn, the varsity pitcher whose brilliant work has featured the latter part of the season for the Tar Heels, was recently elected captain of the 1921 Carolina baseball team. The election, which took place at a dinner given the team, has been hailed with high favor on the campus where Wilson has always been a great favorite.

Within the past 12 days Wilson has pitched 5 games, winning from Maryland State in 10 innings, losing to Pennsylvania 2 to 1, and winning from Wake Forest, A. and E., and Trinity, the latter in 12 innings. He allowed 8 runs in these 5 games. He has unusual control and fields his position with coolness and sureness. Because of his hitting ability Wilson has played the outfield frequently this year when not in the box. He has played 3 years in Carolina, though his first year he was not used often.

Of the Tar Heel regulars Captain Feimster, who has completed 4 years of playing, catcher Younce, and Joyner and Llewelyn, pitchers, will not return, and Saunders and Stewart, outfielders, are doubtful. Lowe, McLean, and Pharr from the infield, and Sweetman from the outfield will return, and a lot of promising material from Fred Patterson's crack freshman team will be available.

TRACK TEAM CLOSES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

NICHOLS WINS FIRST PLACE IN THREE EVENTS. HIGH POINT WINNER OF MEET

The track team closed a successful season on Saturday, May 8th, when with only eight men entered, and only six participating in the finals of the eighth annual South Atlantic intercollegiate track and field meet they captured the 4th place, defeating Johns Hopkins and Catholic University and being only 2½ points behind Washington and Lee and only 9½ behind V. P. I., on whose grounds the meet was held and who consequently was able to enter her whole team.

The Carolina representation was drawn from the best that we had and our deficiency was not in quality, but rather in quantity. With twenty men of the same quality as the eight we had we would have had little difficulty in walking off with the honors of the day.

In the preliminaries of the first day, Spencer, Nichols, and Norris qualified in their respective field events. Royal qualified in the 440, while the mile and two mile in which Ranson and Rand were entered, respectively, were run the second day, no preliminaries being held. Purrington, Harden, and Ranson, in very fast beats of the 220 hurdles, the 440 and the 880, respectively, were eliminated from these events on the first day.

On the second day in the finals Nichols covered himself with glory by winning first place in the shot, discus, and javelin, putting the shot (Continued on page six)

New Dorm Contract Awarded to Salmon

For the sum of $132,500, the firm of John T. Salmon Co., builders and contractors, of Durham, was awarded a contract to build a new dormitory for the University. At a meeting of the North Carolina State Building Commission in Raleigh on May 7.

This building is the first of a group which will form a new quadrangle back of the present South Building. Construction will be of hollow tile with stucco finish and tile roof. It will be three stories in height with twelve rooms and two baths on each floor, and will be fire proof and thoroughly modern.

The contract calls for the completion of the building in time for the opening of the University's fall session in 1921.

SOPHIE BRASLAU GIVES WONDERFUL PROGRAMME

Carolina music lovers were regally entertained by Miss Sophie Braslau on Monday evening in Memorial Hall. Here in our little secluded seat of knowledge it is not often that we are permitted to enjoy such great artists as Miss Braslau, in fact she is the first great singer to visit the Hill in recent years. Yet Carolina has shown that she can appreciate these great musicians by giving Miss Braslau the select audience which she held captivated throughout her programme.

Miss Braslau's surprisingly strong voice carried to all parts of the hall completely filling it with its volume and beauty. The range, beauty and sweetness of her superb contralto voice lifted up and held the soul of her audience through the entire programme.

The programme was divided into four parts, a copy of which follows:

- Part I
A. "Che Faro Senza Euridice" from Orfeo et Euridice — Gluck
B. Furibondo — Handel
C. Nature's Adoration — Beethoven
- Part II
A. On the Dynepr — Moussorgsky
B. La Girometta — Sibella
C. Carnaval — Fourdrain
D. Eili, Eili — Schallitt
- Part III
FOLK SONGS
A. All Through the Night — Welsh
B. The Lover's Curse — Irish
C. The Lanthorn — English
D. Old Folks at Home — American
E. Gypsy
- Part IV
A. Consecration — Manney
B. Greatest Miracle of All — Guion
C. It is Only a Tiny Garden — Haydn-Wood
D. "Robin Woman's Song" from Shanewis — Cadman

Miss Braslau was recalled a number of times and sang three encores among which selections was "Sweetest Story Ever Told." This and the folk songs were rendered with such beauty and originality that they stood out distinctly in the programme.

The three latest plays produced by the playmakers were presented. "Dod Gast Ye Both," Heffner's moonshine comedy made a particular hit with Greensborites. Yea, verily, the memory lingers. A still for the play was furnished by Sheriff Stafford, of Guilford County. The plays were given under the auspices of the District Nurse and Relief Organization.

TWELVE INNING GAME AWARDS VICTORY TO TAR HEEL DEFENDERS

ENDS SEASON BY DEFEATING TRINITY WITH SCORE TWO TO ONE

"LEFTY" WINS THREE IN WEEK

Caviness Allowed Only Eight Hits During Entire Game. Bunt and Sacrifice Settle It

Carolina ended a glorious baseball season last Wednesday afternoon by winning over Trinity's strong team 2 to 1 in a fast twelve inning game. The playing was excellent on both sides, only one error being credited to each team. The work was fast and snappy throughout, and it seemed to be a "one-two-three" affair until the fifth inning when Feimster scored on his walk, his steal and Younce's single. The Bull City lads now began to sit up and take notice. Only twice did they threaten to score, and then "Lefty" Wilson's brilliant work robbed them of their chance.

Pitching his third game in five days, "Lefty" allowed only four scattered hits and helped to win his own game by opening the twelfth inning with a long two-bagger to the left. He was sacrificed to third by Sweetman and scored when Captain Feimster's perfect bunt rolled safe.

"Lefty" Wilson's brilliant pitching was declared to be the most remarkable ever seen at the University. In twelve innings he pitched only seventy balls. For the first nine innings he threw fifty-two balls, and in the entire game only thirty-eight batters faced him. In ten of the innings only three men came to the bat and the other two only four each. "Lefty's" performance was considered the more remarkable because he pitched last Saturday and against A. and E. Monday, winning both games.

The Carolina support was almost perfect both in the infield and outfield. Pharr robbed the visitors of several sizzling grounders which looked as good as gone. Stewart, Sweetman and Saunders captured any that ventured their way. Some were long and heavy hit but would always get connected with one of the fielders. Lowe on first was like clock-work, out of his twenty-two chances there was not a bobble.

Trinity fielded well, and Chandler drew a long cheer from the Carolina rooters when he tore in from right to catch Saunders fly at his shoe tops, falling and turning a somersault but holding to the ball.

Caviness pitched good, steady, strong ball for Trinity, and only allowed eight hits during the twelve innings. A tie came in the ninth. Carson attempted to bunt and hit over Wilson's head, reaching first safely. He went to second on Caviness' sacrifice and scored on Neal's timely single to right.

Carolina threatened several times, notably in the tenth when the bases were filled with one down, but Cavi- (Continued on page five)

Seniors Plan to Break World Record

The seniors this year are planning to break the record. They will show Chapel Hill just exactly what's what in the banquet and will furnish the music. Mrs. Swain will furnish the eats, and the people will be the best that the country can afford. All the seniors with their girls will be there to take part in this, the most spectacular cabaret-banquet that has been released in these parts since the days of the old plantation. The mothers of the seniors will all be there, and we rejoice in glorious expectation of this gala occasion. There was a south of hospitality and chivalry, and that south, thank God, is living, growing, breathing every hour. When you see this senior cabaret, you will certainly see the Old North State at its best.

And this is to happen on Tuesday night, the night before the final dances begin, and fittingly so, for it will be an extremely appropriate beginning of the good times that are
