BASKETBALL SQUAD HAS HARD SCHEDULE LONG NORTHERN TRIP

EIGHT GAMES TO BE PLAYED HERE, FOURTEEN AWAY FROM HOME

TO MEET DURHAM Y TONIGHT

The Basketball schedule, although not yet completed, will have about twenty games this season. The first game will be played with Durham Y in Durham tonight followed by a game with Raleigh Y on the "Hill" Wednesday night. There will be another game on the "Hill" with the Durham Y December 13.

The collegiate schedule starts after Christmas. The first game will more than likely be with the University of South Carolina on January 14, followed by games with Elon, Trinity and Wake Forest. The team starts its trip on the first of February, playing the University of Virginia for the opening game. This trip includes games with some of the best teams in this section of the country. Washington and Lee, and V. M. I. are always hard to beat. Georgetown will be played in Washington with a game with the Army on the following night in West Point. Captain Boye is an old Army player and Captained that quint, therefore he is especially anxious to beat them but it is always hard to beat the Army. Last year Rutgers was runner up in the Basketball World's Series that was played in Atlanta, playing N. Y. U. for the World's Championship. The Navy will be played again this year. The trip will end in Lynchburg where the Elk's Athletic Club will more than likely be taken on.

There will be games on the "Hill" the latter part of February. These will be with state teams, Davidson, State and Trinity.

The University of Virginia will be met in Raleigh on February 26 as will N. C. S. on March 2.

The schedule follows:

Team	Place	Date
Durham Y. M. C. A.	Durham	7 Dec.
Raleigh Y. M. C. A.	Chapel Hill	8
Durham Y. M. C. A.	Chapel Hill	13 Pending
		Jan.
Univ. of S. C.	Chapel Hill	14 Pending

WRIGHT DEBATE WON BY PHI SOCIETY MEN MOORE TAKES MEDAL

BONDURANT AND KISER REPRESENT DIALECTIC SOCIETY IN MEMORIAL DEBATE

HORNER MEMBER OF PHI TEAM

By a unanimous vote the Philanthropic Society won the Mary D. Wright Memorial debate, and C. L. Moore was awarded the Mary D. Wright Medal as the best speaker on the winning side.

The query of the debate was as follows: "Resolved, that the policy of the United States in requiring its ships to pay Panama Canal tolls should be maintained." The affirmative was represented by S. C. Bondurant and H. L. Kiser, of the Dialectic Society, while the negative was upheld by the Philanthropic Society's team composed of C. F. Moore and W. E. Horner. The judges were Professors J. H. Hanford, D. D. Carrol, and C. A. Hibbard.

The affirmative presented two main arguments for maintaining our present policy, the first a legal and moral argument and the second an economic one. Mr. Bondurant contended that to grant our ships exemption from tolls would be a violation of the treaties under which we came into possession of the Canal Zone. Mr. Kiser claimed that it would be an unwise economic policy, as the exemption of tolls to our ships would mean that the American people at large would pay the great cost of the maintenance of the Canal which is used only by the shippers. He asserted that it would be unjust legislation in favor of a group at the expense of the people at large.

The negative approached the question from an unexpected angle. Instead of merely making it an issue of whether or not our own ships should pay tolls, they prepared a plan whereby the ships of all nations should be granted free passage while the cost of the upkeep of the Canal should be borne entirely by the United States Government. Mr. Moore claimed that the toll system is a fast disappearing relic of the feudal ages and is giving way to more modern and progressive means. Mr. Horner gave his reason for stating that it would be both a wise move and economic policy. (Continued on page four)

The students of the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro held an enthusiastic mass meeting last Friday evening at which the present crowded conditions in the college of the state were stressed, and a committee was appointed to help bring conditions before the people. Miss Gladys Wells, of Clinton, was elected as the representative of that college to confer with students representing other state institutions, and to cooperate with committees from other colleges in an extensive campaign to show the imperative needs of state institutions of learning.

MECKLENBURG AND METHODISTS LEAD REGISTRAR REPORT

ALL EXCEPT FIVE COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED HERE THIS YEAR

FARMERS' SONS ARE LEADING

The Registrar, presenting his annual report, taking up the period from Nov. 30, 1919 to Nov. 30, 1920, reveals some interesting things.

Considering the student body as a whole—he finds that 92.9 per cent are from our own State and 7.1 per cent from other states—and foreign countries. There was a slight drop in the number of students from N. C. as compared with those of the preceding year. There are 37 from S. C., 18 from Va., 7 from Ga., 4 each from Ala. and Tenn., 3 each from Fla., Mass., N. J., and Pa., 2 each from Conn., D. C., Ill., and Ky., and 1 each from the Canal Zone, Cuba, Idaho, Ind., Japan, Md., Miss., N. Y., Ohio, and Texas.

Only five counties of N. C. are not this year represented in our student body. These are Caswell, Clay, Graham, Mitchell, and Yancey, four of them up in the mountains and one along the Virginia line. Last year there were 8 counties not represented. Mecklenburg leads all counties by sending 77 students to the University. Guilford follows with 69, Buncombe with 58, Orange with 48, Wake with 46, Wayne with 45, Forsyth with 37, Rowan with 36, New Hanover and Iredell with 31, and Alamance with 28. Others with more than 20 are Cabarrus, Catawba, Edgecombe, Gaston, Lenoir, Pitt and Wilson.

The Methodists lead the religious organizations with 478 students in the University. The Baptists follow with 356 students, Presbyterians with 235, Episcopal with 159, Christian with 39, Lutheran 33, Jewish 17, Roman Catholic 16, Moravian 10, Reformed 8, Universalist 7, Friends 5, Christian Science 3, Disciple 2, Congregational 1, Reformed Jewish 1, and Unitarian 1.

Classifying the students according to the business or professions of their fathers he finds that the farmer's boys lead the student body with a total of 375, merchants following with 119 and manufacturers third with 98. The business or professions of the fathers of the other students are given as follows: Lawyers 71, Doctors 69, Public officials 69, Railroad men 51, Ministers 48, Salesmen 30, Bankers 28, Teachers 28, Contractors 28, Real Estate dealers 28, Insurance men 23, Druggists 20, Mechanics 19, Tobacconists 18, Lumbermen 17, Hotel Managers 14, Engineers 13, Brokers 10, Bookkeepers 10, and with numbers less than 10, Automobile Dealers, Editors, Jewelers, Stock Brokers, Millers, Fishermen, Dentists, Bar-

CHAPEL HILL TAKES ALL STATE HONORS FROM MONROE HIGHS

MONROE HOLDS CHAPEL HILL SCORELESS FOR FIRST THREE QUARTERS

GAME HARD FOUGHT THRUOUT

Chapel Hill won the state football championship Saturday, but it took the fight of her life to do it. For three quarters the game resulted in a deadlock. Both sides were able to register good gains, and both team's goals were threatened, but the elevens were too evenly matched for either to score. It was a clean and well played contest, and it was the opinion of many who witnessed the game that it was one of the best ever staged on Emerson Field.

Chapel Hill entered the contest considerably the favorite, but before the timekeeper's whistle had ended the first quarter it was clearly seen that in the lads from Monroe she had a worthy opponent, and that the outcome of the contest was by no means certain. In fact, to glance at the summary of the first three periods it would appear that Monroe had a marked advantage over the local aggregation; they making 13 first downs to Chapel Hill's five, and completing two forward passes out of four attempts as against Chapel Hill who failed in her sole attempt. It was not however the summary of play that won the game, and the long run by Sparrow just at end of the third quarter that paved the way for a Chapel Hill victory.

The first half ended with ball in the center of the field, after it had see-sawed back and forth with neither team able to gain an advantage. The second half opened in much the same fashion, and bade fair to end likewise in a 0 to 0 tie, until the end of the third quarter when Monroe's center got off a bad pass, the ball going over the kicker's head and was not recovered until it had rolled to 45 yard mark. There it went to Chapel Hill on downs. In the next play Sparrow got away for 25 yards, placing the ball on Monroe's 20. Merritt broke through for 16, and two more attempts through the line carried it over, Merritt kicked goal.

The next touchdown came as a result. (Continued on page four)

DR. CHASE SAYS CAROLINA SPIRIT IS STRONG AS EVER

READS ARTICLE COMPLIMENTARY TO CAROLINA STUDENTS IN VIRGINIA PAPER

Dr. Chase spoke on the morale of the student body Friday morning in Chapel. He began by reading an editorial from the news paper of the University of Virginia. It related the splendid conduct of the Carolina students on Thanksgiving Day at Charlottesville, and of their high standard expressed in the words "Carolina never cheers penalties."

Dr. Chase contradicted the statement that the spirit of the Carolina student body on the athletic field was not the expression of the spirit on the campus. It is only a concrete expression of that spirit. He used as a metaphor to illustrate his point "Green branches do not grow out of a dying tree."

When a group of people get self-critical, in the majority of cases it underestimates its own virtues. "Have you as much faith in your own spirit as the University of Virginia has in you? Have you as much confidence in your-self as your rivals have in you?"

If Carolina students have confidence in themselves they can lift North Carolina and this University above anything it has ever been before. Everyone should make opportunities of his difficulties; he needs only courage in the heart. "Carolina is what you make her. Do you love her? Have you the loyalty to her that Virginia says you have? Then cherish her, cleave to her, and love her while life endures."

FACULTY STILL AT WORK TO PREVENT GRATS OF STUDES

TYRE TAYLOR AND "SCRUBBY" RIVES REPRESENT STUDENTS ON COMMITTEE

The faculty in its last meeting appointed a committee to consider the question of holidays for the next collegiate year. The committee appointed is composed of the Executive committee, the Registrar and the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics. The Executive committee is composed of Dr. Wagstaff, Prof. Dagggett and Prof. Graham, with Mr. Bradshaw, Dean of Students, acting as ex-officio chairman. This committee held a preliminary meeting last week and considered several tentative proposals, among which the most outstanding was that all one day holidays be abolished because of the inability of the students to get off the Hill and back in time and that in their place a holiday of at least three days in each term be substituted. Attention was called to the fact that since the A. & E. game will be played in Raleigh next year and the Virginia game on the Hill, and since each game will alternate after next year, only one major game will be played off the Hill each year hereafter.

The committee considered at a preliminary discussion the subject of class attendance, the chief result of which was a definition of class attendance as a problem in scholarship and not in discipline. The committee will hold a second meeting this week at which representatives of the student body will be invited to sit with the committee. (Continued on page two)

ANNUAL DANCES DELIGHTFUL BEST GIVEN IN MANY YEARS

GHINGHOULS, GORGON'S HEAD, AND GERMAN CLUB STAGE DAZZLING EVENTS

The dances have come and gone. So have the bewitching gir-ruls. Nothing save cherished memories, not even to a hang-over. Just as we sadly predicted that night to one of the goddesses of terpsichore, from the celestial we have descended to the terrestrial. But it can be safely said that Carolina can again take up her position and claim her reputation of having dances that are unexcelled by any Southern University. The 100 girls, from all parts of North Carolina, and from South Carolina and Virginia, upon whom we might observe in passing, one could squander scores of adjectives dear to the heart of Broadway press agents, together with their chaperones and many alumni agree that the annual fall dances of last Thursday and Friday were among the best and most delightful given in Chapel Hill in the last decade.

Perhaps their singular success over similar affairs of the past few years was due to the ruling of the German Club that no invitations be issued to outsiders and other steps, which seemed a bit drastic, but were necessary owing to the over-crowded conditions.

The two big night Germans were given by the Junior Order of the Gorgon's Head and by the German Club. Ben Wimberly, with Miss Molly Ruffin, of Winston-Salem, led the Thursday night Gorgon's Head dance, assisted by John Shaw, with Miss Katherine Wiley, of Lancaster, S. C. (Continued on page four)
