LETZ QUARTET COMES HERE MONDAY EVENING WITH GOOD PROGRAM

One of Country's Foremost Musical Organizations in Gerrard Hall Monday Night.

PRICES TO BE POPULAR

The Letz Quartet, which was so well received by a large audience here last year, is to appear in Chapel Hill again on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Gerrard Hall.

This quartet is one of the foremost American music organizations. It is firmly established in New York, and each time it appears there is met with large and enthusiastic audiences. It has appeared in all the larger Eastern cities under the auspices of the leading musical and educational clubs and from the press comments following its appearance it is widely heralded as a leader in its field of work.

Many student and faculty members remember with pleasure the appearance of the Letz quartet here last year, and will be glad to know that it is to return.

The local management of this new visit has cut the price way below the usual prices for its appearance. Unreserved seats in the balcony are to go at 50 cents. All the lower floor will be reserved at seventy-five cents and a dollar a seat.

In finding out the merits of the quartet the best means were found to be in the press comments from various leading papers of the east. Mr. Letz and his associates are at present appearing before all the leading colleges on their route. Only extracts from these press comments can be given. The New York Sun had this to say about them after a performance there:

"Mr. Letz and his associates gave a good concert. Their playing has a smoothness and a well-balanced ensemble to commend it. In their performance there is sincerity, to which is added sound musicianship, aided by good taste."

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger is a splendid tribute to the work of these artists, as follows:

"Mr. Letz and his comrades by dint of talent and hard labor have won their way to the highest pinnacle in their profession."

Many Southern newspapers have added their praise to that of the others on the quality of this organization. The Atlanta Journal speaks in high regard of it, and from Tampa Times is found the following comment:

"New York has heaped praises on this quartet, and for Tampa to follow would be empty honor, but the quartet has that honor, however empty it may be, for before the four finished the 'Andante Cantabile,' almost at the close of the evening, the entire house was wishing it were only the beginning."

Carolina Quint Looks Good For 1922 State Championship Honors

Team Has Best Chance By Good Odds—To Enter Southern Tournament at Atlanta February 24-28—Changes in Schedule Made in Order to Do This.

The Carolina basketball schedule has been materially changed, the northern trip having been cut short, the City College of New York dropped from the schedule in order that the Tar Heels may enter the Southern Collegiate Tournament in Atlanta February 24 to 28, at which time a Southern champion will be picked.

The entering of Carolina in the Southern tournament will mean much to the University, in the opinion of athletic authorities, the tournament for the last several years having been the method of picking champions for all southern states. Carolina will enter the games there with a brilliant outlook, and will be picked, no doubt as one of the chief contenders for the blue ribbon.

With the victory over State Monday night, the Tar Heels took another step toward the State pennant which came to Carolina last year. Only Elon is to be handled before a claim can be extended, and while Elon is looking better every game they play, the general opinion is that the University still has the edge on any other team in the state.

Elon took Wake Forest and State into the fold with hard fought victories. Monday night she blighted Trinity hopes by winning, 39 to 38, practically eliminating the Methodists

PLAY TRY-OUTS SATURDAY

Tryouts for parts in the three new plays which have been selected for the Carolina Play-makers' winter quarter production will be held in Peabody auditorium Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There has been a misunderstanding among freshmen in regard to these tryouts. Many think that freshmen are not eligible, and have therefore failed to come out even though they are interested. Professor Koch is anxious to have all first year men who care for dramatics come out and see if some of the parts do not appeal to them, and have them try for character work or anything else which comes out in the plays.

INDOOR TRACK MEET IS ARRANGED BY FETZER

Freshmen to Have Track Team For First Time This Year—Tentative Schedule.

The first state indoor track meet in North Carolina will be staged by the University with the aid of Durham Y and Trinity College, on March 10th in the Star Brick warehouse in Durham if Fetzer's plans succeed. Though the coach is not yet certain whether colleges in the state will enter, yet a meet will be held, he says, between the classes if the schools do not enter.

There will be four high school, three grammar school, five Y. M. C. A. and four militia events besides the college events. The events in the indoor meet will probably be: Fifty yard dash, 50 yard low hurdle (three hurdles), 440 yard dash, 880 yard dash, one mile run, standing broad jump, running high jump, shot put (12 pound), one mile championship relay (four men-440 each), one 7-8 medley relay (220-440-880-1 mile), freshman championship relay, freshman 50 yard dash, freshman 50 yard low hurdles.

Coach Fetzer said in a track meeting this week that in order to have a good track team here, that the candidates must be interested in track themselves, and must persuade their fellow classmates to come out for it. "Track is no mollycoddle affair, and it requires as much sand to win in track as it does in football," he continued.

For the first time, the freshman class will be represented by a track team. The Athletic Council has appropriated money for its support. Though some difficulty may be experienced in finding teams in the state to have meets with, yet Fetzer thinks that he will be able to get a schedule for it. The number of freshman events will be increased if

WORK ON NEW BUILDINGS IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Some Hundred and Twenty-five Men Are Living in Rented Dwellings and Homes.

The cold weather and snows have hampered considerably work on the new dormitories.

No work at all could be done during the first snow but a few laborers are now placing in window frames and laying brick tile in the one building that is nearest completion. The roof and covering have been placed on one of these dormitories to make possible work in rough weather. Also the brick wall has been raised near the eaves of the roof. If some unforeseen difficulty is not confronted, the contractor expects to have this dormitory and one other ready for the summer school students.

About a hundred and twenty-five carpenters and laborers were engaged daily in this work prior to the first snow. These workmen, as generally supposed, have not been transported from the north but practically all are from different towns over the state. The construction company has a camp accommodating about a hundred laborers a mile from the campus on the Pittsboro road. Some have families and are rent a dwelling in the village and others have quarters in private homes.

The completion of the new railroad is an added facility to getting the building material when it is needed and also in preventing damage and breakage in transporting it by truck from Carboro. All materials that will not damage by water is being shipped in and stored up for future use and the other only as it is being used. Ten car loads of tile brick are now standing on a track ready to be unloaded. The company will have no difficulty in the future in having plenty material on hand at all times.

A new ten-ton rock crusher has recently been placed west of the cemetery to prepare rock for building purposes. This will be another added facility when work, full-fledged, will be resumed after the rough weather.

FRATERNITY MEN LEAD GRADES FOR QUARTER

Non-Fraternity Element Fall Below Fraternity Average During Last Session.

In averaging up the grades made by the different classes, organizations and schools of the University for last quarter it has been found that fraternity men made a slightly higher average mark than non-fraternity men.

This is not very unusual—fraternity men excelling non-fraternity men about every third or fourth quarter. For the same quarter last year, however, the general fraternity average was slightly lower than for this year.

The grades made in the fall of 1921 are as follows: general fraternity average, 3.6052; general academic average, 3.6458; general non-fraternity average, 3.6542.

The grades for the fall of 1920 are as follows: general fraternity 3.7006; general academic average, 3.5828; general non-fraternity average, 3.4858.

DR. BERNARD MAKES TALK ON JEWISH RELIEF FUND

Doctor Bernard addressed the students in chapel Monday morning, speaking in behalf of the Jewish Relief movement. He pictured vividly the famine-stricken condition of the Jewish people in Russia and other European countries and made an earnest appeal to the students to contribute liberally to the cause.

"There are at present in Eastern Europe," said Dr. Bernard, "300,000 children who are slowly starving to death. To care for them there are no hospitals, no fathers and mothers, no physicians, no nurses. In addition to these, there are 400,000 homeless, wandering Jews in the Ukraine and Southern Russia, driven from their homes, dying by the thousands."

Dr. Bernard made it clear that the only possible salvation for these people must come from America and called attention to the striking phrase used in advertising the relief movement, "We save them or they die."

COMIC OPERA GREATLY PLEASES IN MEMORIAL

"Chimes of Normandy" Proves Splendid Entertainment—Good Singing and Acting.

Before a large audience that watched and listened attentively from beginning to end of the performance, "The Chimes of Normandy" was presented in Memorial Hall Wednesday evening under the direction of the University Department of Music.

The voices were unusually good, the chorus of girls attractive and daintily costumed, the chorus of men effective in their work, the orchestra wonderful, the lighting effects well handled, and the entire performance an astounding success.

The cast of principals could hardly have been improved, everyone of them doing splendid work, and some of them reaching very near perfection. The cast in order of their appearance was as follows:

Gertrude ..... Aline Hughes
Jeanne ..... Marguerite Ghent
Suzanne ..... Martha Hamilton
Serpolette ..... Beatrice Barton Risley
Notary ..... John Glenn Barden
Registrar ..... John Earle Baker
Bailli ..... Frank Edw. McLaughlin
Gaspard ..... LeGrande Everett
Jean Grenicheux ..... Albert C. Hewitt
Germaine ..... Dorothy Russell
Henri ..... Charles Nathaniel Siewers

From this excellent group of actors and voices LeGrande Everett is worthy of first mention in the honors of the performance. He did to perfection the difficult character part of Gaspard, the old miser, and was called back time after time by the pleased audience for his singing.

Less effective in his acting but drawing more applause for his singing was Albert Hewitt as Jean Grenicheux. His voice was wonderful and he was encored repeatedly. Frank McLaughlin, who took the part of the Bailli, only a few days before the performance due to the leaving of college of the first man selected to play it, could not have been bet-

ATTENDS MEETING NORTH CAROLINA MATH TEACHERS

Dr. A. W. Hobbs, Former President of Association Succeeded By Gastonia Woman.

Dr. A. W. Hobbs has returned from Greenville where he attended a meeting of the North Carolina Association of Teachers of Mathematics, which was in session at the Eastern Carolina Teachers' College February 3 and 4.

Dr. Hobbs was president of the association during the last term of office, and was succeeded at the meeting last week by the election of Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, of Gastonia. In addition to the election of officers the chief feature of the session was an address by Mr. Raleigh Schorling, principal of the Lincoln School of Columbia University, which is under the control of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' College.

It will also be of interest to alumni readers of The Tar Heel to note that it was decided at this meeting to affiliate the state association with the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

SCRUBBY RIVES' CONDITION IMPROVING VERY SLOWLY

Well Known Campus Personality Operated on For Appendicitis After Passing State Bar.

The condition of the well-known campus personality, "Scrubby" Rives, who underwent an operation for appendicitis about two weeks ago, is very unfavorable, according to reports brought back from Watts hospital in Durham where he is confined.

Coming as it did immediately after his return from Raleigh where he successfully took the state bar examination, the news of "Scrubby's" illness was a distinct shock to the Carolina student body.

America he likened to the good Samaritan, who would not hesitate to help the man fallen among thieves.

In conclusion, Dr. Bernard mentioned the debt which the world owes the Jewish race, from which it has received a monotheistic idea of religion, the greatest moral code on earth, the Psalms of David, and the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth.

CAROLINA SWAMPS N. C. STATE AND MOVES ONE GAME NEARER STATE CHAMPIONSHIP THIS YEAR

SOCIAL COMMITTEE STILL OPEN FOR SUGGESTIONS

Nothing Definitely Settled at Meeting—Many Suggestions Offered But No Conclusion Reached

Since the social committee could not reach any definite conclusions as to recommendations in its second meeting Friday evening, Dr. Chase is asked to attend their next meeting Saturday and to advise them as to methods used in other colleges and universities to meet their social problem. The committee feels that it has not sufficient knowledge of the problem to make proposals for social betterment.

They, however, discussed many forms of recommendations. W. E. Horner insisted on using the "Y" next year for the social center of the campus, furnished with pool tables, lounges, a dancing hall and Victrola. He further suggested that courses in dancing be given along with social etiquette.

C. J. Williams mentioned the fact that no feasible plans could be arranged by which the "Y" could offer better social advantages, due to the lack of funds and room. Robert Frasier, who was absent from the last meeting, suggested that formal dinners be given during the year to which any one could come, and also that more social fraternities be formed.

W. D. Carmichael again contended that the University is not confronted with a fraternity problem, but with the question of giving the entire student body more social "vener" and poise. He strongly insisted on the fact that the fraternity man did not get this training, but rather lost what he already had if any change is made in him. He added that Washington and Lee had thirty fraternities and was confronted with the same problem as the University.

The members discussed at some length the feasibility of offering a one-hour course in social etiquette to Freshmen. Some instructor would give a practical lecture on this subject once a week in Gerrard Hall, a course similar in form to the General course given to Freshmen two years ago.

The members of the committee are still anxious for suggestions from students and faculty members. If any one has a suggestion, it is asked that he mail it to any one of the following men on the committee: T. L. Warren, W. E. Horner, C. L. Moore, J. Y. Kerr, C. J. Williams, Jonathan Daniels, W. D. Carmichael, and Robert Frazier.

Fetzer's Quint Plays Prettiest Game This Year on Local Floor..

SCORE: N. C. 49—N. C. S. 19

Sixth Straight Victory for Tar Heels, Who Have Not Been Defeated By College Team.

Carolina swamped N. C. State here Monday, 49 to 19, throwing that team out of the running for State championship and strengthening Carolina's claim to the honor. Elon is the only team remaining in the state to be defeated.

Monday night's victory is the sixth straight for Carolina. With only Elon in sight the quint bids fair to take the state championship two years in succession.

The State game was a hard one, and the score does not indicate the high pitch at which interest ran during the playing, or the roughness of the melee. State had nineteen fouls called on her, "Cart" Carmichael shooting seventeen of the free chances. Carolina drew 13 fouls, Park shooting 11 of them. The fouls shooting of both men were among the features of the game.

Billy Carmichael walked away with honors when it came to chalking up field goals. The big guard shot almost at will, some of the five shots he caged being from difficult angles and drawing enthusiastic applause from the packed gallery. S. Johnson for State was possibly their best man, and had it not been for the close guarding of McDonald would have run up the State score to a much higher figure. As it was State was able to secure only two field goals during the first half, and only three during the last period. Goal shooting was not a State specialty, the forwards, and all the rest of the State team missing easy shots time after time, and several times the ball almost went in the basket only to roll around the hoop and drop back down to Captain Carmichael.

Near the end of the last quarter a change was made in the line-up, Captain Carmichael going to forward, Neamon to center and Mahler to guard, Perry and McDonald going out. The new team played a good game and Carmichael looked mighty good as a forward. He is undoubtedly the fastest floor man seen in the state this year, and one of the finest looking basketball players in the South Atlantic conference. He has what the sport writers call "form." Perry came back strong in the State game, getting three field goals and played a hard and fast floor game. Green was off in his shooting, Johnson the State guard hanging on him like a leech most of the time, while Billy Carmichael did the shooting.

About the only features to the

Carolina May Lose Several Men Counted On For Baseball Squad

Fred Morris and Captain Llewellyn May Not Return and Roy Morris and Shirley May Also Leave—"Red" Johnson Will Be In Shape to Play This Spring.

Two of Carolina's best bets for the coming baseball season, Fred Morris, third baseman, and Llewellyn, pitcher and captain of the 1922 team, have left school. They however may return before the opening of the baseball season.

It has been rumored around the campus that two, or possibly three others may leave, on account of financial difficulties. The rumor, however, cannot be verified. Morris and Captain Llewellyn have gone. Llewellyn left the Hill to attend the Theta Chi convention in Richmond, and returned to Winston-Salem. He may come back to school before the quarter is finished. Morris went to Gastonia on a business trip, but has not returned, and will likely be away for the rest of the quarter, if not the rest of the year.

"Red" Johnson, star football player, and one of Fetzer's main outlooks for varsity baseball, has returned to school after being in Watt's hospital for three weeks. He was suffering from blood poison caused by an abscess on a tooth. He is back in condition and will go out for baseball in the spring. He is attending classes this quarter and will register next quarter, and is expected to play somewhere in the infield.

Bryon, one of Carolina's best pitchers, is back, and will be out for the team. He was one of the mainstays of Fetzer's team last year, and will be depended upon to start several of Carolina's major games this season.

Spruill, last year's first baseman, has in an application for coaching freshman basketball. He will not be out for the team according to his own statement, although he is eligible.

The freshman team last year had some promising material on it, and practically everyone will be out for the varsity this year. Regardless of the several of last year's crack nine leaving, Carolina promises to have a strong team.
