

BASKETEERS LEAVE ON NORTHERN TRIP FACING A DIFFICULT SCHEDULE

V. M. I. Is First Game—Team to Go to Atlanta For Southern Tournament.

W. & L. HAS GREAT TEAM

The Carolina basketball quint will leave here Thursday night on the northern trip, and faces a long, hard grind, before returning to the Hill. V. M. I., Washington and Lee, University of Virginia, and the Army will be played on the tour, after which the team will go direct to Atlanta for the southern tournament.

The Elon victory Saturday night made the seventh consecutive inter-collegiate victory for the Tar Heels, the team having defeated every team played in the state. Going at this rate, every indication is that Fetzer's aggregation will acquire themselves well on the northern trip and in the southern tournament.

State championship honors seem practically cinched, though of course it cannot be called a certainty until the Trinity game on March 6 in Durham, which closes the season. Trinity still says that she has a chance for the championship, and Carolina will have to win this final game from her in order to have a perfectly clear title to the rag.

On the northern trip the first game to be played will be with V. M. I. in Lexington on Friday. Last year V. M. I. had just about the best basketball team in the south, and defeated the crack team that represented Carolina by a 15 point margin. Little has been heard from the cadets this season, though it is known that several of the men that formed their wonderful team last year is back, and Carolina will have a big fight on her hands.

The following day Washington and Lee will be played. This will be one of the hardest games of the entire trip, and Carolina faces a tough job in an effort to win from this quint. Washington and Lee has the strongest team in years, and word comes that it is after the southern championship, and that the students there believe that the team will have little trouble in coping it.

The first of the Virginia series will be played Monday, while Tuesday the team will leave for New York, where they will play the Army on Wednesday. Directly after this game the Carolina team will leave the metropolis for Atlanta to enter the southern tournament. The results of this tournament will be watched with considerable interest. Local followers are of the opinion that the Tar Heel quint will figure prominently and will be far from the first one to be eliminated.

Fetzer has not yet decided the men that he will take on the trip besides the regular first team of the two Carmichaels, McDonald, Perry, and Green. Probably eight players will go, accompanied by Coach Fetzer and Manager Jacobi or one of the assistant managers.

Fifty Five Schools Have Entered Race For High Championship This Year

Others Expected To Enroll This Week—Schedule For Elimination Now Being Formed—Promises To Be Great Race Between East and West For State Honors.

Fifty-five schools have entered the contest for the high school championship of the state and fifteen others are expected to join this week, smashing all records in this work which the extension bureau is carrying on. Last year only 44 schools entered. Schedules for the different teams will be made out during this week.

Of the 55 schools already officially entered in the contest, 29 are from the East and 26 from the West. With practically the same number of schools from each section of the state, the final contest which will be held about March 10 in the gymnasium, should be a close one.

Schedules for the Eastern schools are to be made out at a meeting of managers of various teams in the Yarrowburg Hotel tonight. Those for the Western will be made out at a meeting in Greensboro tomorrow night. No schools will be allowed to enter the contest later than tonight, according to a statement issued from the office of the bureau of extension. The method of elimination will be

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB TO PUBLISH YEAR BOOK

The North Carolina Club year book for 1920-21 has now gone through the final stages of editing and will go to press in a few days. This year book will be one of the most elaborate and comprehensive productions the club has ever undertaken. It will contain well-prepared dissertations on various phases of city life and problems, all of which are based on thorough research studies.

"North Carolina, Undisturbed and Urban," will be the title of the year book, and, as the name implies, it is devoted entirely to the studies of conditions and problems of all phases of city life and management. It will be a grand compilation of facts pertaining to existing problems and their remedy and solution. But it is far from being a dry collection of facts and figures, for these are used only as a working basis for the presentation of solutions to problems and new methods of conducting city affairs and governmental administration. The scope of the book includes everything from facts concerning the cityward drift to an explanation of the best methods of municipal accounting and the advantages of these.

Any one desiring a copy of this year book can secure it by notifying Prof. S. H. Hobbs, Jr., secretary and treasurer of the North Carolina Club.

DR. CAPEN TALKS TO FACULTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Noted Educator Discusses Vital Issues of Profession—After Speech Banquet Will Be Given.

Dr. Samuel P. Capen, secretary of the American Council on Education, and a leading authority on educational research, who returned with President Chase from an automobile trip in Florida as guests of President A. A. Murphy of Florida University, addressed the faculty Friday night on "Current Tendencies in Higher Education."

Dr. Capen stated that during the past decade the organization of the certificate system, entrance requirements, unit system, and curriculum in American colleges has tended to favor the mediocre student while the individual has been overworked. However, since the war as a result of intelligence tests and other causes, there has been a movement to allow the exceptional student to progress as rapidly as possible without being retarded by regulations governing the mediocre student.

Dr. Capen also brought out the fact that there is a tendency now to provide a broader scope of courses for the entering student, in order that he may select the profession best suited to him. A system to this effect being organized at Columbia was cited by Dr. Capen.

After the lecture, the first faculty smoker of the year was held at President Chase's mansion which was largely attended.

PRELIMS FOR INDOORS INTER-CLASS MEET TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

First Indoor Track Meet Ever Staged Here Arranged By Coach Bob Fetzer.

TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Preliminaries for the inter-class meet will be held in the gymnasium on Friday night, February 17, and advance dope indicates that competition will be keen. This will be the first indoor inter-class meet on record in the University.

The events in the inter-class meet will be: 25 yd. dash, 25 yd hurdles, standing broad jump, and running high jump. According to announcements made by Coach Bob Fetzer all entries must be in by 6 o'clock Wednesday.

Work on the outdoor wooden track began Saturday, and will probably be ready for use tomorrow. The track is located directly in front of Memorial hall, and is a 12 lap one. It will provide an ideal place to practice for the indoor state meet which is to come off on March 10th.

"N. C. State has already officially entered the State indoor meet," Fetzer said on his return from Raleigh, and "Wake Forest has verbally agreed to come in." Davidson is expected to enter soon, and with Carolina and Trinity promoting, every large college in the state will be represented.

The meet will be held in the Star Brick warehouse in Durham on March 10. The building which is a large one, will accommodate over 1,000 people. Seats to accommodate the spectators will be carried over by the Carolina team.

The team has been practicing during the week in Memorial hall and on

THREE NEW FOLK PLAYS CHOSEN FOR PLAYMAKERS

"The Lord's Will," "Dogwood Bushes" and "Blackbeard" Are Three Plays Selected.

The author's reading of new folk plays was held in Peabody auditorium Thursday evening and three new plays were selected for the winter quarter production. These plays are to be presented at the Play House on Friday and Saturday evening, March 10 and 11.

The new plays are "The Lord's Will," by Paul Green, "Dogwood Bushes," by Wilbur Stout, and "Blackbeard," by Paul Green written in collaboration with Elizabeth Lay. "Agatha," by Jane Toy was selected as an alternate to be used in case it was found to be difficult to produce "Blackbeard."

Seven plays were read. Those not selected were "Snuff Enough," a comedy by Ellen Lay; "The Junction," a serious play, by Charlie Parker, and "The Feud," a mountain tragedy by Hubert Heffner.

"The Lord's Will" is a tragedy of a man and his family who have gone to the extreme in religious beliefs to the neglect of material things. "Dogwood Bushes" is a brilliant little comedy written in the same vein as "Dixon's Kitchen" and is equally as good. "Blackbeard" is a play that the Playmakers have been wanting for three years and is concerned with the end of the life of the famous pirate of long ago who made terror for all the Atlantic coast of America. It is a melodrama and is going to be very hard to produce, but the directors feel now that it can be done. "Agatha" is a comedy with the scene laid in Hillsboro and is about an aristocratic old Southern father who wishes to change the names of his three daughters to those of the leading Confederate generals.

Tryouts for the parts have been held but the casts have not been selected in their final form yet. This will be done soon, however, and the announcement made.

Power Pumps Now Force All Water To Users In Village.

The University and town water is now being forced to its users by means of power pumps due to the cleaning process the stand pipe is being subjected to.

All the water has been drawn from it and workmen are busy scraping the sides and cleaning the bottom for all sand or mud that has accumulated within the past year. This work is done once every twelve months because it often happens

DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN FOR CAROLINA TEAMS IN FORENSIC CONTEST

Preliminaries For Triangular Debate Held; Moore, Horner, Harris, Grissett, Warren, Young, Chosen.

The first preliminaries for places in the triangular debate between Carolina, John Hopkins, Washington Lee were held in the Di and Phi halls Friday evening and the finals Saturday evening in the Phi hall.

Men for both sides of the query were chosen. Those trying for the place on the affirmative in the first preliminary were: C. L. Moore, W. E. Horner, H. C. Harris, and E. C. Hunt. C. L. Moore, W. E. Horner, and H. C. Harris were chosen for the finals.

Those going out for the negative were: F. A. Grissett, T. L. Warren, V. V. Young, S. O. Bondurant, A. W. Staley, Dan Byrd, and R. F. Marshall. Those chosen for the finals were: F. A. Grissett, T. L. Warren, and V. V. Young.

The finals were held in the Phi hall Saturday evening to determine which of the three already chosen would get first places. For the affirmative C. L. Moore and W. E. Horner got first places with H. C. Harris naturally coming as alternate. For the negative T. L. Warren and V. V. Young got first places with F. A. Grissett falling alternate.

The query is: "Resolved, That the government should own and operate the coal mines." The affirmative of this question will debate Washington-Lee at John Hopkins, the negative, John Hopkins at Washington-Lee, and John Hopkins and Washington-Lee will meet here March 4.

Those acting as judges in the finals were: Professors Frank Graham, J. B. Woosley, and Dr. W. B. McNider.

SHALL MINUTES BE READ? FEATURE OF PHI SESSION

After Motion of Adjournment By P. A. Reavis, Lively Tilt Results Between Him and Speaker.

Before adjourning for the basketball game on Saturday night the Philanthropic Assembly transacted some snappy and important business in the forty-five minutes allotted for the meeting.

John H. Zollieffer, of Henderson, was initiated into the Assembly, and the remainder of the business allowed by P. A. Reavis' motion for an early adjournment was gone through with. It being necessary to elect a Speaker for the third quarter, in order that his picture might be included in 1921-1922 group of the Assembly's chief executives, the Hall was thrown open for nominations for that office.

Messrs. W. T. Shaw, W. J. Barefoot, L. J. Phipps and Dan Byrd were nominated for this office. Mr. Shaw was the final victor from the group, leading Mr. Barefoot, his nearest opponent by ten votes. Mr. Shaw has been a member of the Assembly three years, being a Senior this year and eligible for the office. He has taken a real interest in the work of the Assembly, and is expected by his supporters and those of the other candidates to make a worthy presiding officer.

Under Mr. Reavis' motion for an early adjournment, the Assembly was open for adjournment after the election of the speaker. Mr. Reavis objected during the first of the meeting to the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, stating that he did not include them in his motion. Then a warm cross play developed between Mr. Reavis and the Speaker, the latter holding that in his statement of the motion for a vote, he included the minutes, and thus they were voted by the Assembly to be read. The Speaker admitted his misinterpretation of Mr. Reavis' motion, when he interposed an objection to their reading. After a period of tilting, with most of the Assembly in the dark, the meeting was declared adjourned, the contentions of the gentlemen remaining unsettled.

during the year that water has to be pumped directly into the pipe due to a case of emergency when there is a fire or shortage and the water has to be used as it comes from the creek.

The pipe has a capacity of 80,000 gallons, 1,000 gallons to the foot.

CAROLINA PLAYS BRILLIANTLY AND OVERWHELMS ELON IN THE MOST EXCITING GAME THIS SEASON

BOB FRAZIER SAYS CAMPUS NEEDS MORE FRATERNITIES

Frank Spruill Talks On Professional Fraternities and The Good They Do—Frazier Discusses Social.

Professional and under-graduate fraternities were discussed in Chapel Thursday morning by Frank Spruill and Bob Frazier in order that the students and especially the first-year men may judge the fraternities correctly by the good they do on the campus and the real purpose they serve.

Frank Spruill spoke on the professional fraternities at Carolina using as an example of what they are Phi Delta Phi, the legal fraternity of which he is a member. He stated that there were a good many professional fraternities here and made mention of the medical, journalistic, chemical engineering and pharmaceutical fraternities. Spruill showed that they did certain work in college and in the professional life in the State. He said, "In college the professional fraternities have meetings regularly and at such meetings papers are prepared covering subjects that pertain to the work of the men in the various professional fraternities."

The general idea of the professional fraternity, as he expressed, is to help the men in the fraternity to see the big side of their profession; and to also raise the standard of the profession to a plane above what it is now. The purpose of the fraternities is to do away with the "jack leg lawyers" and the so-called "quack doctors." This, it generally tries to do in an organized way, declared Spruill.

Bob Frazier, President of the Pan-Hellenic Council, spoke on the under-graduate fraternities by outlining the growth, purpose, origin and usefulness of fraternities at Carolina. The Phi Beta Kappa he stated was the very first national fraternity organized, and it was founded in 1776, and now he said there are fraternities in nearly all colleges and universities in this country covering all the land. There are over 370,000 men in fraternities today and a valuation of something over $16,000,000 up-to-date, he said.

The purpose of the fraternities is

FIRST YANKEE CLUB ADDED TO CAMPUS ORGANIZATION

Boys From "Above Mason Dixon Line" Band Themselves Together at Interesting Meeting.

The first Northern club in the history of the University was organized Thursday night, when 15 Yankees convened at the Presbyterian church, adopted a constitution, elected officers, and outlined plans for a club that is destined to become a permanent organization if the influx of Northern students continues at the present rate.

The purpose of the club is to establish a bond of union and friendship between the Northern students, and to foster the best ideals of the campus. The membership is open to all students living in the states generally considered as Northern states. The 15 members comprising about one-half of the Northern students here, represented seven states, New Jersey having the greatest number.

The officers elected to serve for the balance of the year are: C. B. Colton, Boston, Mass., president; O. W. Freeman, West Orange, N. J., vice president; G. H. Jarvis, Boston, Mass., secretary, and "Steve" Brody, New Haven, Conn., treasurer. Parson Moss, who was instrumental in forming the club, and Garland Porter, president of the students, were unanimously elected into honorary membership. Professor M. N. Paull and Garland Porter gave interesting talks, and discussed the possibilities of the club. Gooch's coffee and sandwiches added the necessary touch to a fairly productive evening for The Tar Heel Yanks, and after singing Dixie to the tune of Yankee Doodle, the meeting was adjourned.

Tar Heels Win Out 59 to 24 and Continue Long Winning Streak.

STATE HONORS SEEM SURE

Carolina Plays Best This Season—Carmichael Brothers Feature in Hard Fought Contest.

Brilliant offensive and defensive work, a dash and aggressiveness that was so characteristic of the famous basketball five of 1921, and a remarkable display of perfect floor-work and team play; enabled the Carolina quint to win its seventh inter-collegiate contest in Bynum Gymnasium Saturday night, overwhelming the fast Elon five by the score of 59-24. Elon sent down over two hundred supporters on a special train to witness her first defeat in six games.

STRIKES HER STRIDE.

The Carolina quint struck its stride in the Elon contest, and played a brand of basketball that has seldom been equalled on the local court. Elon started things rolling with such a vim that the Tar Heels were forced to put out the goods, and up against a scrapping team like the visitors had, the very best that the Carolina quint possessed was forthcoming. Elon was hopelessly outclassed after the first few minutes of the struggle, but the game fight that the five displayed, playing the far superior Carolina quint, made the contest the most exciting played here this season, and furnished the crowded gymnasium with thrill after thrill.

The game was abounding in features, both teams at times making sensational plays. For Carolina every man on the quintet was easily a star, the Carmichael brothers and Perry figuring most prominently on the offense, while Green and McDonald continuously broke up play after play for the visitors, and were a real bulwark on the defense. "Billy" Carmichael ran wild toward the middle of the game, and appeared to shoot almost at will and as fast as his team mates could feed them to him. He caged a total of nine baskets during the course of the game, many of which were tossed from long and difficult angles.

"Cart" Carmichael, aside from some almost perfect passing and floor work, shot six baskets from the court and made good nine out of fourteen tries for fouls. "Sis" Perry, after making only two court goals in the first period, found himself in the last

PARISH HOUSE CLUB MEETS OUTLINES PLANS FOR YEAR

New Organization of Faculty and Students of Episcopal Church Holds Interesting Meeting.

The first meeting of the recently organized Parish House Club of the Episcopal church was held last Saturday night. The club is an organization of the faculty and students of the church, being one of the first of its kind on the Hill. Its object is twofold: first to increase the social relations between the members of the church, both faculty and students, and second, to interest its members in the problems of the church and the community, so as to make both a vital factor of the University life, rather than conditions to be accepted without comment and left without improvement. The officers of the club were elected as follows: Dr. W. S. Bernard, president; T. J. Wilson 111, vice president, and R. L. Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was featured by the singing of Miss Aline Hughes, accompanied on the piano by Miss Lina Pruden, and also a delightful supper was served before the business for the evening was taken up. Dr. Bernard acted as chairman and set forth the tentative plans for the work of the club. The club is to meet at least once each quarter, and any special meeting may be called by the officers. Its work in the mean time is to be done mostly through committees which were appointed, as follows: Committee on Parish House activities, A. H. Patterson, G. M. Braune, T. H. Shepard, and C. E. Miller; on mission work, J. S. Holmes and H. D. Duls; on conference, W. M. Dey and the officers of the club; on publicity, R. L. Thompson, R. L. Gray and A.
