EMMINENT SCIENTIST TO MAKE SECOND ADDRESS HERE TONIGHT —HEAR THIS GREAT AUTHORITY

Dr. F. W. Aston to Speak on Scientific Subject—One of Europe's Greatest Men.

UNIVERSITY IS FORTUNATE

Dr. Aston Was Heard by Large Audience Last Night and Larger One Is Expected Tonight.

Dr. F. W. Aston, fellow of the Royal Society and one of the greatest scientists of Europe, will deliver his second address in this city tonight on "Atomic Weights and Isotopes." Dr. Aston was heard by a large audience last night, and doubtless an even larger one will turn out tonight to hear this great authority.

No lecturer that has come to Chapel Hill in many months bears the distinction that Dr. Aston does. He is author of many papers on the structure of the atom and methods of determining the weights of atoms by an electrical method. He is associated with Sir Ernest Rutherford at the Cavendish Laboratory, Cambridge, as Fellow of Trinity College.

This university was exceedingly fortunate to secure the engagements with Dr. Aston, and this is the only place in the South that he has spoken. He came to this country through the efforts of the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, and was brought to Chapel Hill through the influence of the scientific professors under the auspices of the North Carolina chapter of Sigma Xi, National Scientific fraternity.

School of Public Welfare
Issues Outline of Courses

The school of public welfare has just issued a bulletin or catalogue outlining the work offered by that division of the University. This school, during the two years of its existence, has developed so rapidly that there are now 35 courses in sociology and a wide range of other courses listed in the bulletin.

The plan of study as outlined by the bulletin is eightfold, the eight divisions being (1) general social theory, (2) the home and family, (3) the community and association, (4) the state government and public institutions, (5) the school and education, (6) industry and work, (7) methods of organization and administration, and (8) field work.

Season Opened Here Today With Carolina and Furman On Field

As Tar Heel Goes to Press Weather Is Favorable for Opening Game of 1922 Season—Carolina Team in Splendid Shape for Encounter with South Carolinians.

Baseball opened up strong here today, if there has been no mistake such as rain or a muddy field, for Carolina was scheduled to play Furman this afternoon in the opener of the 1922 season, and when the Tar Heel went to press, there was nothing to indicate that it would rain.

Coach Bill Fetzter has been exceptionally silent about the lineup for the opening day, but a supposition is that the infield mentioned last issue has been used, and Sweetman with the two Johnsons in the outer gardens.

It was generally understood that Captain Llewellyn would start the game with Furman with Wilson and Bryson in reserve in case the captain failed to hold the heavy hitting team, or in case he suffered from a sore arm or such. The fact that Llewellyn is the captain gave him first choice, as both the other men mentioned have shown all kinds of stuff.

Furman has finished up a queer week of baseball in North Carolina, winning from State and losing to Wake Forest. That the South Carolinians can hit is undoubted, and they certainly have a good pitching staff. If they fail to show up well today it was because Carolina simply outclassed any other team in the state, for the Sandlappers certainly have an excellent team.

The Carolina team has been looking good all week. About the only thing in doubt at present is the outfield positions. Fetzter didn't have much material for the outfield, Sweet-

PLAN IS LAUNCHED FOR UNION OF STATE SCHOOLS

A plan was launched by Governor Morrison a few days ago to consider the practicability of consolidating the three leading state colleges, the University of North Carolina, North Carolina State College and North Carolina College for Women, under a joint control and management to be known as the University of North Carolina.

The governor was to have appointed a commission last Saturday from each of the institutions for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the feasibility of such a change, but Dr. Chase so far has not learned of such a move being taken. However, he is expecting that this will be done at any time.

In the newspaper account of the arrangement, nothing could be learned as to the purport of the move or the benefits to be derived therefrom. The article did state that if such a consolidation be effected, this would place the University of North Carolina among some of the largest universities in this country.

An agitation for consolidation for the past 15 years has been bobbing up at different times, and it is therefore thought that the governor's object in appointing this commission is to ascertain whether or not there is any advantage in a union and if so report the matter to him.

Work Forces Harden to Quit
Track Team; Hits Squad Hard

Pressure exerted by the large amount of work he is carrying this quarter has forced Boyd Harden, Captain of this year's track team, to stop going out for track. In losing him the team loses one of the most valuable men out, and they will find it undoubtedly hard to replace him in the 220 and 440. It is not known when a new captain will be elected.

VIRGINIA SERIES DATES DEFINITELY ANNOUNCED

Greensboro Game on April 29 And Contest Here on May 1. Charlottesville Game April 22

The Virginia baseball game at Greensboro will be played on April 29 and the return game here on May 1. Carolina plays Virginia at Charlottesville on April 22, and plays Washington and Lee on April 20 and 21. These changes in the schedule were announced from Manager Woolen's office this week.

Inability to get back from the northern trip in time for the Washington and Lee game here on May 10, caused the date to be changed until May 11th, the State College game with Washington and Lee having been exchanged by the two institutions.

With the settlement of the date of the Virginia game and the other small details, the baseball schedule for the year has been completed. It looked like a poor year for Carolina in the earlier part of the season, but the tireless efforts of Manager Woolen and student manager of baseball Griffith have resulted in one of the best schedules in recent years, and the team feels highly elated over the matter of games scheduled and the excellent trips planned.

Arrangements will now go forward for the necessary special trains and other things that accompany the Virginia game each year in Greensboro. A number of dances will be staged in the city during the stay of the Carolina men there, and other social events, such as a reception at N. C. C. W. will make the week end one of the features of the spring quarter.

BOB FETZER APPEALS FOR FROSH MATERIAL

"We Are Going to Have Freshman Track Team," Says Carolina Coach, Regardless.

A plea for greater interest in class athletics, especially in track, was the subject of a talk by Coach Bob Fetzter to members of the freshman class during the latter part of the chapel period Tuesday.

"The one-year rule preventing first year men playing on varsity teams is a blessing in disguise," said the coach. "It is up to you men to take advantage of this rule and go out for the freshman events with a view to bettering your chances for the varsity. We are going to have a freshman track team if only two men besides myself come out. There is a great future for track in the South and it is up to you to get in on the ground floor."

INTERESTING PAPERS ARE READ TO CAROLINA CLUB

Both Papers Dealt With Self-Help Aids to Home and Farm Ownership.

The meeting of the North Carolina Club Monday night was featured by two interesting papers dealing with the solution of the tenancy problem, one by J. P. Trotter and the other by P. A. Reavis. Both papers dealt with self-help aids to home and farm ownership. Mr. Trotter discussing building and loan associations, and Mr. Reavis explaining the farm loan act and Congressman Kelly's proposed plan of revision of the postal savings system.

It was shown how all of these can be made valuable agencies for enabling renters to rise out of tenancy into home and farm ownership. Mr. Trotter explained the valuable service that the building and loan associations have rendered in the past and also the advantages that lie in their future expansion.

Mr. Reavis showed how Congressman Kelly's plan would greatly increase the postal savings deposits in the country and make a large sum available for building homes or buying farms. The value and use of the farm loan act to tenant farmers was also explained.

The principal advantage that all these institutions have over ordinary bank credit is that through them loans can be obtained for much longer periods than can be secured from banks.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED AT N. C. STATE'S REQUEST

Track at West Raleigh Institution Not Completed, and Meet is Postponed Till April 26.

The dual track meet with N. C. State has been postponed, and the event which would have taken place tomorrow will come off on April 26.

Track officials of State College sent in a request to Coach Bob Fetzter Saturday morning asking that the meet be postponed because their track which is now under process of construction had not been completed due to large number of rains recently. It is thought that officials here are not so disappointed over the postponement, since a number of the best track men here are in process of being ruled off on account of studies and new men will have to be trained to take their places.

Officials here wanted to bring the meet to Chapel Hill instead of postponing it, but State College men preferred to have it in Raleigh.

Training work for the Trinity meet which will be held here a week from tomorrow is going on at a rapid rate and the team bids well to make an excellent showing against the Methodists. Since the javelins have not yet arrived the team is being inconvenienced somewhat in this branch of the sport, but with Abernathy hurling it, there will hardly be no need for any extensive training before the meet.

RELATE EXPERIENCES AS A MISSIONARY TO INDIA

Dr. R. H. H. Goheen Speaks in Chapel on Things He Saw While in India.

Dr. R. H. H. Goheen, for 14 years medical missionary in India, spoke to the student body in chapel Monday morning on the spiritual and physical conditions of India.

Starting with twenty-six operations on the first day of his work in a missionary hospital, Dr. Goheen has had a long and varied list of experiences with the Indian people. Soon after his first work he was sent to open a new hospital in southern India.

Here he met with many difficulties, mostly in connection with the superstitions of the people, but he finally met with success and gained the confidence by a successful operation on a small boy who had been in great physical pain for several years.

After this he won the people to him, and established schools, and many institutions for the good of the district. He was principal of the high school in the town in which it was located for a year in 1912.

In conclusion Dr. Goheen said that he was much gratified to see what Christianity can do for a people and asked the young men of the University to think over the chance of doing similar work, and of going over.

SMALL SQUAD REPORTS FOR SPRING FOOTBALL

Too Much Baseball Keeps Many Away From Practice—Fine Prospects For Good Eleven Next Year

Spring football began at Carolina Wednesday afternoon, a small squad of men out for practice. The extreme heat and the fact that baseball is taking up much of the interest has prevented a large number of candidates from reporting, but a large number of men from the freshman squad of last fall were out and looked good.

Coaches Bill and Bob Fetzter are well pleased with the prospects of a great football team next year. The entire team of last fall will be back with the exception of Gilon and possibly Lowe. There are number of good men coming from the freshman squad and an unusually large number of men have registered for courses during the fall quarter and will be eligible for football next fall.

A good football schedule has already been arranged and announced, although a number of changes are planned, and the team for next year will have ample chances to prove its worth.

BUDGET PLAN TO BE PRESENTED TO STUDENT BODY APPROPRIATING FUNDS TO CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

VICTOR YOUNG RECEIVES ANOTHER NOTABLE HONOR

Durham Boy and Phi Society Member to Represent Carolina in Southern Oratorical Contest.

Victor V. Young, of Durham, was selected as Carolina's representative in the Southern Oratorical contest by the judges of the preliminary, held in Gerrard Hall last Monday night. The final contest will take place at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee on April 8.

Six contestants entered the preliminary. Their names and the subjects of their orations are as follows: Forest Hamrick, The Movies; T. L. Warren, Thought, Morality and Religion; V. V. Young, Milestones of Peace; C. J. Williams, Modern Christianity; F. A. Grissette, Rural Schools of the South; Dan Byrd, Potent Economic Pressure and the Attainment of an Ideal. The judges were R. D. Connor, W. B. McNider and W. J. Matherly.

The Southern Oratorical League was organized two years ago. Its members are Carolina, Vanderbilt, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, Kentucky and Johns Hopkins.

In 1920 W. H. Bobbitt won second place for the University and last year, D. R. Hodgin was awarded first prize, thus giving Carolina a better record than any other member of the league. "Vic" Young, the University's representative this year has already distinguished himself in a number of forensic contests, having won the Mary D. Wright debater's medal, the Junior Oratorical medal and a place on Carolina's winning team in the triangular intercollegiate debate.

Ten Schools Entered For High Athletic Program

Ten schools are entered so far in the high school track meet and tennis tournament to be held here April 6 and 7. Other schools are expected to enter between now and tomorrow night, which is the last chance for institutions to enter.

The tournament and meet promises to be the best held here thus far by the University division of extension. Extensive plans are being made for the entertainment of the 10 or more men who are expected to compete. According to a statement issued by Rankin the track meet will begin at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 7th, while the tennis tournament will be going along all the time.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team consisting of ten men and led by Scrubby Rives will leave next Friday morning for Raleigh where they will conduct a series of meetings for the week-end. The team goes to Raleigh under the auspices of the Raleigh High School and the Y. M. C. A.

GREENLAW RETURNS TO UNIVERSITY THIS WEEK

Dr. Edwin Greenlaw, head of the English department at the University, will return to the hill Thursday and resume his work after a three months leave of absence to the University of Chicago.

The library at this University offered excellent facilities for research work in the early Renaissance period of English literature on which subject Dr. Greenlaw is now editing a book. This book has not as yet been turned over to the publishers, and it is not known when it will come out.

A furnished home at this institution was left vacant by the absence of an instructor, and he was thereby enabled to get a convenient and comfortable dwelling for his family.

Dr. Greenlaw also has another book, "A History of English Literature," that is about ready for the press. He collected the material and data for this book during the latter part of last summer and early this fall. This edition will be used as a high school text.

Representative Men Discuss Feasibility of Plan for Paying Quarterly Fees.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Students Will Vote Their Opinion of Budget Plan—Would Eliminate Campus Canvassers.

A tentative plan for pooling the budgets of the Yackety Yack, the Y. M. C. A., the Tar Heel, the Magazine and the Debate Council was submitted by the campus cabinet on Monday night to a group of twenty-five representative students who met in Peabody Hall for the purpose of discussing the measure. Although some opposition was expressed and a few changes strongly urged, the opinion manifested was on the whole favorable.

By unanimous vote of the group special committees were appointed to work out the details of the proposition, after which it will be submitted to the vote of the student body. The committee to work out, after careful investigation, a fair apportionment for each activity is composed of L. J. Phipps, chairman, G. H. Leonard, W. D. Carmichael, C. K. Massey and W. E. Horner. Another committee to frame a plan for a centralized and efficient administration of the activities is composed of R. H. Frazier, chairman, Secretary Comer of the "Y", S. M. Cathey, Dr. D. D. Carroll and G. B. Porter.

The "Pooled Budget" has been tried at a number of southern institutions having conditions very much like those existing here. The tentative plan drawn up by the campus cabinet is, briefly, to extend all-student support to the three University publications, the Y. M. C. A. and inter-collegiate debating teams, to eliminate drives and campaigns for financial support for these activities, and to make the activities responsible to the student body as a whole instead of to a certain group as at present. The estimated additional fee in exchange for which each student would receive a Yackety Yack, Y. M. C. A. membership, subscriptions to the Tar Heel and Magazine, and the satisfaction of supporting the inter-collegiate debating teams is about three dollars per quarter. The tentative apportionment is as follows:

Yackety Yack $1.16 2-3, per quarter.
Y. M. C. A., $1.00, per quarter.
Tar Heel $4.12 2-3, per quarter.
Magazine $.33 1-3, per quarter.
Debating Council $.08 1-3, per quarter.
Total $3.00.

D. B. Jacobi was the first to respond to President Murchison's request for a general discussion of the proposition. He opposed it, he said, on the ground that it was an undemocratic step and that it was taking away the student's right to pay for what he wants and to do without the rest.

Secretary Comer stressed the cooperative nature of the plan, showing how each activity would be enabled to increase the quality of its service at a minimum cost per student. He cited many colleges, particularly Georgia Tech, where the system has been tried and proven so successful that there is no thought of repealing it. The unifying influence upon the student body would be very great, said Mr. Comer, a fact which may be readily verified by comparing the unity of the Georgia Tech student body, which has the pooled budget, and that of Vanderbilt, which has not yet adopted it.

The Y. M. C. A., said Mr. Comer, has always had the most opposition to face in getting a place on such a budget, because of its religious nature. At places where it has been given this all-student support, however, the "Y" has increased its service to such an extent that there has been no thought of putting it back on the old basis. On the contrary, the State College student body voted last year to increase their Y. M. C. A. fee from three to four dollars.

R. L. Ranson called attention to the economy of the plan and the money saved to the individual student. J. P. Trotter said that he favored the plan but wished to modify it by leaving off some of the activities which he thought would not appeal to a majority of the students.

G. B. Porter defended the propo-
