

INCOMPLETE REPORTS ON RED CROSS FAVORABLE

Variety of Causes Contribute to Keep Student Contributions Down—Expected to Reach Quota.

Reports on the Red Cross Drive among the students and in Chapel Hill were very incomplete when the Tar Heel went to press. The reports that were in late Saturday night, however, indicated that the canvassing among the students is to yield, not so much as has been hoped for, but fully as much as might reasonably be expected at this time.

Carolina men are giving to the Red Cross as willingly and as freely as they can; but a combination of causes seems linked against a drive for money just now. For one thing, Thanksgiving, and a costly trip into Virginia to see a football game, is at hand for the greater part of the students. For the others, there is a rather expensive trip home, for Thanksgiving; then it is not very long until the Christmas holidays, and after that, there are the winter quarter bills to be paid.

Another thing that helps to keep down the students' subscription is the fact that a good many students have preferred to have their membership extended in their home town.

Taking everything into consideration, the reports indicate that the students are doing their very best to aid the Red Cross. The post-office squad of workers has been turning in very favorable amounts, varying from $15 to $44 each day. The men working the dormitories and fraternity houses have not reported in full as yet, though the reports in give promise of a fairly good average.

As far as the town is concerned, so few returns are in as to make it impossible to foretell the result. Everything looks good, however, one worker alone, Mrs. Pat Winston, having turned in $71. The quota for the campus and town is $1,000, and while on account of unavoidable conditions, Carolina and Chapel Hill may not exceed its quota a very great deal, it is reasonably believed by the workers that it will reach its goal.

The names of the workers in various sections of the town are printed below:

F. J. Haronian, general chairman; S. M. Cathey, chairman of the campus, and sub-chairmen of committees in various parts of the town as follows: business section, Mrs. Dora Elliott; post-office, Miss Sallie Taylor, Miss Francis Venable, Miss Jane Toy, Miss Catherine Boyd and several others; East Rosemary Street, Mrs. I. H. Manning; Coker section, Miss Elizabeth Bran-

Phi Beta Kappa To Initiate In Spring

Only eight quarters of college work, or 24 courses, are now required for eligibility to the local chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa national scholarship fraternity. This statement which has been rumored on the campus for some time was confirmed by Dr. Thomas J. Wilson, Jr., registrar, when approached on the subject by a Tar Heel reporter.

"It was adopted last commencement," said Dr. Wilson, "and it simply means that students who, for the first eight quarters of work at the University, have made an average of 92 1/2 per cent and have not failed a single course will be received into Phi Beta Kappa some time during the spring quarter, and not have to wait until class day exercises at commencement, as has been the custom in the past here."

When asked how "92 1/2 per cent" was figured under the present system of marking, Dr. Wilson, who is a Phi Beta Kappa man himself, explained that a "one" is counted as 97 1/2, a "two" as 92 1/2, a "three" as 85, and a "four" as 75. Anyone who has received a five or a six, even though his average be 92 1/2 per cent, is ineligible for membership in the national order.

Under the new system of grading, which was recently adopted by the faculty and which has not yet been put into effect, there must be some new way of fixing the requirements for Phi Beta Kappa, for the new system, although it provides for grading in "A," "B," "C," "D," and "E," and yet it is not to be associated with any figures or percentage at all, such as the present system.

DEVEREUX PLAYERS TO COME HERE DECEMBER 8

Popular Actors to Present Two Plays in Memorial Hall—New Scenery Coming.

The Clifford Devereux Players will again visit Chapel Hill on December 8. Because of the pronounced hit made by this company of players at their performance here two years ago, the Carolina Playmakers have booked them for two performances, which will be given in Memorial Hall.

In the afternoon they will present Shakespeare's immortal love tale, "Romeo and Juliet," while the bill for the evening is Bernard Shaw's brilliant satire, "Arms and the Man."

The Devereux Players have several times presented this bill of plays in North Carolina this season, and have been universally lauded for the high quality of their work. A carload of new and up-to-date scenery materially assists in this success.

Both Mr. Devereux and his leading woman, Miss Zanita Graf, are well known and highly esteemed in Chapel Hill, not only for their brilliant acting but also for the charming personalities which they possess.

BLUE RIDGE DELEGATES HOLD LIVELY POW WOW

Bon Fire Gathering Decides to Form Blue Ridge Bank Account For Next Summer.

That a Blue Ridge bank account, of which John M. Foushee is treasurer, is to be opened and that all students who plan to go to the Southern Students Conference of the Y. M. C. A. at Blue Ridge next June may save money for the trip by depositing on this account, was the decision reached at the first gathering of the Blue Ridge Club since last June.

The gathering was around a huge bon fire near the Playmakers Amphitheater in the Battle Park woods last Thursday night, at which about thirty members of Carolina's record-breaking delegation to Blue Ridge last June roasted winners and toasted marshmallows to heart's content, recalling how "Turtle" Wilson and Alan McGee had won the baseball pennant for Carolina in the hotly contested series with Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt and Southern College as chief rivals; how "Poindy" Poindexter had run up to High Top before breakfast every morning, while Jim Bradley broke the ice off the swimming pool at 6 p. m. every day.

Secretary Comer, of the "Y," announced amid cheers that he expected to drown out the hated Georgia Tech by taking along 100 in the delegation next June instead of a paltry forty.

The club further decided to have a full page given to its picture in the 1923 Yackety Yack because "Georgia Tech did."

J. M. Saunders, chairman of the Blue Ridge committee of the "Y," announced that all snapshots taken at Blue Ridge or on any trip around there, such as to Mount Mitchell, Chimney Rock, High Top, Webb Tower or elsewhere, would be gladly received by H. D. Duls, 202 C, for the "N. C. C. W. U. N. C. Book" which the Blue Ridge club keeps.

Dean Tells Frosh Where to Get Off

"Broken Blossoms" might have been an appropriate title for Dean Bradshaw's talk in chapel Wednesday morning. Heretofore the dean has been loud in his praise of the class of '26 and with his prophetic insight has laid bare many of the future honors that await that class. But he ceased his ambrosial flattery of the frosh and simply convinced them that though they were roses, they were not without thorns.

To the freshmen he laid the honor of instituting several new customs that did not strike him as being desirable of becoming traditional. He assured the attentive audience that he was aware that the University had been victorious over V. M. I. and was even today painfully reminded of that fact whenever he went down to view the beautiful ivy-clad South, basking in

BRILLIANT SEASON WILL END THURSDAY WHEN CAROLINA MEETS OLD RIVAL VIRGINIA

Tar Heels Favored by Dopesters But Virginia Promises a Hard Battle—Attendance at Annual Classic Expected To Break All Records.

Captain Grady Pritchard's team, which is perhaps the fastest collection of gridiron warriors that have worn the "N. C." since 1900, if not in all time, will thrill thousands of frenzied spectators for the last time Thursday.

While Carolina has a slightly stronger eleven than Virginia, their combat it going to be too close for comfort on either side. Realizing that Coach "Tommy" Campbell will send a formidable eleven out on Lambeth Field to participate in the Turkey Day argument, the Tar Heels have worked hard and earnest and intend to play hard to the last regardless of the score.

Reports from the rival training camps say that every varsity man will be in shape to take his regular position when the annual conflict begins. Oppelman and Thesmar will probably get a chance to face Carolina after being on the injured list most of the season. Campbell has transformed the Orange and Blue team into a remarkably smooth running machine in the last three or four weeks.

The Fetzer brothers are almost sure to start their regular varsity line-up which has entered a majority of Carolina's games. The Blue and White coaches will take no chances during the Virginia game, and will substitute fresh men freely. In the matter of reserve strength, Carolina has an advantage over the Sorebacks, who have been short of capable substitutes in several games.

The largest throng in the history of Lambeth Field is expected from the way in which Virginia athletic officials are being swamped with mail orders for seats. Several special trains will carry an enormous crowd of Tar Heels to Charlottesville to cheer for their team and state.

Probable line-up:
Virginia Position Carolina
Thesmar Center Blount
Hall (C) Right Guard Poindexter
Fenwick Right Tackle Melver
Campbell Right End Cochran
McCoy or Foster Quarterback McDonald
Maphis or Oppelman Right Halfback Johnston
Wilson Fullback McGee

NO POST-SEASON GAME SAYS CHAIRMAN HOBBS

Coaches and Trainer Approve Decision to Abide by Conference Recommendation.

Carolina will abide by the declaration of the Southern Intercollegiate Conference against post-season football games, according to a unanimous decision arrived at in a meeting last week of the faculty committee on athletics. The decision meets with the approval of the coaches and trainer.

A. W. Hobbs, chairman of the committee, made the following statements concerning the declaration:
"In view of considerable discussion that has been taking place about proposed post-season football games, our committee thinks it proper to announce that they are in favor of carrying out the declared policy of the Southern Intercollegiate Conference with regard to such contests.

"Section J, Article 7 of the conference regulations says: 'The members of this conference agree with the recommendations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association that member institutions play no post-season games in any intercollegiate sport.'

"Although this does not absolutely prohibit post-season games, our committee has voted unanimously that the University of North Carolina should regard Thanksgiving Day as closing its varsity season.
"The decision of the conference in this matter was reached after careful consideration. It was the judgment of the delegates that from the standpoint of classroom duties, physical condition of players, and the general relationship between athletics and other collegiate activities, it would be unwise to prolong the football season into December. Aside from the fact that our committee regards this as a sound decision in itself, we do not believe it advisable to embrace a policy specifically disapproved by it."

HON. "PETE" MURPHY ALMOST ADMITS IT

Hon. Walter "Pete" Murphy, of Salisbury, president of the Alumni Association, was in Chapel Hill Wednesday. Mr. Murphy almost admits that the wonder team of 1922 is as good as his team of 1893, and he says he wants to see the entire student body at the Virginia game Thanksgiving Day.

FRESHMEN BREAK LONG JINX AND BEAT VIRGINIA

Score 12 to 6 Not Indicative of Closeness of Contest—Frosh Completely Outclass Opponents.

For the first time in the history of Carolina-Virginia freshman football the Tar Heel eleven completely outclassed the Old Dominion players and won 12-6 on Emerson Field Saturday afternoon. The score does not indicate the real difference between the two teams, for time after time the Carolina freshmen rushed the ball within striking distance of Virginia's goal, only to lose it by a bad break. The Orange and Blue team was able to make only three first downs, while Alexander's charges ran up a total of 14.

In the first quarter after Bruce's attempt to kick a goal from placement failed, Devin punted to Virginia's 35-yard line. Street recovered the fumble and on the first play Underwood went over left guard for 15 yards, and on the next attempt Devin covered the remaining distance on an off-tackle play. And in the final period when Devin's drop-kick was blocked a Carolina man

MUSIC CLUBS COME BACK TO HILL AFTER CONCERTS

Western Trip Is Decided Success—Six Towns Visited—Royal Entertainment By Friends and Alumni.

After a week's successful concert tour of the western part of the state, during which Winston-Salem, Hickory, Hendersonville, Asheville, Morganton, Charlotte and Greensboro were visited, the Music Clubs are back at Chapel Hill. The program was given in Gerrard Hall Monday night. That the future success of the Music Clubs is assured, seems evident from the large percentage of lower classmen included in the personnel.

"An evenly balanced program," says the Asheville Times of the University musicians, a sentiment echoed by all the audiences before whom the clubs appeared.

N. C. Gordon was well received in his solos, "At Dawning" and "Smiling Through." The saxophone quintet afforded much mirth to the audience. The orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Sheldon, was at its best in "Poet and Peasant Overture." The Glee Club was well balanced and made a fine showing. The quartet, composed of Cordon, Brown, Mendenhall and Monroe, received many encores.

The mandolin club, under the leadership of T. C. Cox, scored a big hit. The second part of the program, "The Flappers' Opera," kept the house in a continuous state of laughter. Isabel, the fat girl, played by John Mendenhall, was the outstanding feature of the performance.

The members of the Music Clubs were royally entertained by friends and alumni on the trip.

Blue Tornado Loses To the Sanford High

By romping on the Durham "Blue Tornado" to the tune of 6 to 0 on Emerson field Thursday afternoon the Sanford Highs won their way to the semi-finals in the race for the State High School football crown, and kept their record clean for the season as an undefeated eleven.

Sanford received the kick-off and when they failed to gain Holland punted to Cheek on Durham's 20 yard line. Cheek fumbled and a Sanford man fell on the ball. Six line plays and a five yard penalty for Durham put the ball on the one yard line. Then Cathell went over for the only score of the game.

The first half belonged distinctly to Sanford, but Durham rallied gamely and made nine first downs in the last half to only four made by Sanford. Both teams were able to gain in mid-field but when they would get within striking distance of the opponents goal their offense would collapse completely.

B. Hackney for Durham and Frazier for Sanford did good work and showed promise of developing into real stars.

CONTESTANTS FOR ANNUAL MARY D. WRIGHT DEBATE CHOSEN BY TWO SOCIETIES

Saunders and White Will Represent Phi, Duls and Bledsoe, the Di—Finals December 9.

The Phi and Di have chosen their representatives for the Mary D. Wright Debate, which will be held in Gerrard Hall on the night of December 9.

The query to be discussed this year is, "Resolved: That the Railroad Labor Board be given power to enforce its decisions." The Phi supports the affirmative while the Di defends the negative.

The men who were selected to participate in the final debate won out over a large field of competitors in each society. In the Phi contest J. M. Saunders and W. Dabney White, with Frank Essie as alternate, were selected to uphold the affirmative in the forensic tilt with the Di. Others competing for places were E. C. Jernigan, J. J. Beale, N. C. Barefoot, J. B. Allbrook, C. E. Spencer and A. M. Scarborough.

The competition in the Di was almost as great. Seven men went out for the negative. The judges finally decided that L. T. Bledsoe and H. D. Duls, with C. A. Peeler as alternate, should carry forth the standard of the Di in an effort to reverse the decision of last year. Other negative speakers were W. E. White, John Foushee, H. S. Capps, and E. L. Justice.

The judges in the preliminaries were H. P. Comer, Homer Hoyt and W. J. Matherly in the Phi, and R. D. W. Connor, C. A. Hibbard and F. F. Bradshaw for the Di.

There has been much rivalry over the winning of this debate, and the gold medal offered to the best individual speaker. Last year Victor Young, representing the Phi won the coveted medal.

The Mary D. Wright Debate is essentially a junior-senior affair, but this year a sophomore and a freshman, J. M. Saunders and L. T. Bledsoe, have won the honor of being the first of their class to make the Mary D. Wright Debate.

Tennis Team Also Invades Virginia

Manager Jernigan announces that the tennis team will play its last tournaments of the fall on the Virginia trip next week. The University of Richmond will be taken on Tuesday, November 28, at Richmond, and Wednesday, November 29, the annual tournament with the University of Virginia will be played at Charlottesville.

The men who have been showing up best and who will, in all probability, make the trip are: Cox, Bruton, Jernigan, and Johnston, with Smith running as fifth man. Each of these men has made a letter in tennis, and were on last years team which was one of the best in the country.

PHI SOCIETY HAS EXTENSIVE PROGRAM

The ninth meeting of the Phi Assembly on last Saturday night had a full and extensive program, including two resolutions in addition to the annual freshman intra-society debate. The meeting was opened by discussion on a bill introduced by the ways and means committee favoring the admission of co-eds into the membership of the Phi Assembly. This bill was defeated by a rather close vote. The second resolution was one endorsing President Harding's Subsidy Bill. This resolution was tabled until the next meeting in order that the Assembly could have time to better inform itself on this bill.

The Assembly was then thrown open to the annual intra-society debate on the query: "Resolved, That the recent Soldiers' Bonus Bill as passed by Congress should be adopted." The affirmative was upheld by R. P. Umstead and R. L. Hollowell, and the negative was upheld by H. M. Privette and M. M. Young. The judges, K. C. Frazier, R. H. Wetach and A. E. Whitehurst, voted unanimously in favor of the negative, selecting Malcolm M. Young as the best debater on the winning side.
