W. D. Clarke Dies After Long Illness

The death of W. D. Clarke at his home Saturday night at 10:45 brings sadness to his many friends. Mr. Clarke has been a resident of Chapel Hill for several years and was a very lovable character. He had been suffering with diabetes and pneumonia for some time recently and was brought to his home on the outskirts of Chapel Hill toward Durham Sunday night from Asheville. His case was pronounced very critical and he gradually became worse.

Mr. Clarke was born in Raleigh, New Jersey. He was in his forty-sixth year. Graduated from Yale University at an early age, he then devoted all his effort to the study of forestry, later receiving a master's degree from Yale. He later taught forestry in Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts. For some time he was an instructor at Penn State, then he served in the Government Forestry Service. At the time of his death he was connected with the Forestry Department of the State Geological Survey.

The deceased is survived by a wife and one little daughter, Eleanor, in addition to two brothers and a sister who live in the north. He was a Mason having belonged for a number of years to the Amherst Lodge before he came to Chapel Hill. Funeral services were held Monday at three thirty and his body was laid to rest in the Chapel Hill Cemetery. Parson Moss was in charge of the services.

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Lawson will entertain the "gym" team with a supper Friday night. Letters will be given this week.

offer an opportunity for American college students to travel in European countries with congenial groups, under scholarly leadership, and at lower cost than is otherwise possible.

The members of the Students' Tours in 1922 included representatives of 60 American colleges.

There will be three Students' Tours in 1923:

An Art Students' Tour, with an itinerary which includes many of the great galleries and cathedrals of Italy, France, Belgium, Holland, and England;

A Students' Tour to France under the joint auspices of the Federation de l'Alliance Francaise and the Institute of International Education; and

A Students' Tour to Italy under the joint auspices of the Institute and the Italy America Society.

Laundry Cleans Up Its Surroundings

Among the first of the new buildings to have its grounds cleared of building materials and to take a step toward beautifying the surroundings is the University Laundry. The manager of the laundry is doing this work on his own initiative and the laundry officials are bearing the burden of expense. Manager Paulsen thinks that planting flowers and shrubbery, after clearing away all debris, will place the surroundings of the laundry in a very pretty condition for the summer.

BUNCOMBE CLUB MEETS AND HEARS INTERESTING SPEECH

The Buncombe County club, at its meeting held last Saturday night, was very well entertained by a short speech given by Mr. George Stephens, of Asheville, an alumnus of the University. Mr. Stephens commended the club for the action it is taking in trying to make the University as attractive as possible to the students of the Asheville High school who might be influenced to come here next year. Mr. Stephens also spoke of the many things in which the western part of the state excels, and told of what was expected of the Carolina men who intend to make that section their home.

During that part of the meeting dedicated to business the only thing of note taken up was the smoker which the club has decided to give in Asheville some time during the Easter holidays. The leaders of the various activities of the Asheville High school are to be invited, which is only another step on the part of the club in its attempt to have a record breaking number of students from Buncombe county in the freshman class here next year.

GEOLOGY STUDENTS TAKE AN EXTENDED FIELD TRIP

A number of advanced geological students have planned an extended field trip for the Easter recess. The party, including fifteen members, plans to motor first to the Virginia copper district, thence to the Natural Bridge, Va., area, via Lynchburg, thence to the Catawba Mountain district. At this point camp will be established and a careful study made of the very fossiliferous Paleozoic sediments. The return trip will include Roanoke and the Dan River Coal Field. The party is under the supervision of Dr. Prouty. Faculty and students from other institutions are planning to join in the trip.

PINEHURST NUMBER OF BOLL WEEVIL APPEARS

deserve that consideration but the Carolina campus asks to be introduced to the gentleman first. Then we turn to the editorials and are told some things about Pinehurst which we already knew and more besides.

The Boll Weevil puts up an eloquent plea for campus politicians to select an editor-in-chief for next year. Yes, politics is all that is lacking to make the insect a real Carolina student publication. The Boll Weevil takes no stand against the Publications Union and the "Merit System" of selecting publication officers as suggested in the Carolina Magazine, but speaks only of the editor-in-chief's selecting, and fails to mention the manner of selecting a business manager which we consider the more important office at present.

More men have been added to the Boll Weevil staff. Yes, it is truly a student publication. The more the merrier.

The Pinehurst number contains some right neat sketches, jokes, etc., also the revised editions of some which we heard as we rolled out of the cradle. For instance, "An Auto Biography" is right clever; in fact, about as clever as the new "Carolina Jolk-Play: A Tragedy, 'Considerable Inconsiderateness'."

The two pages Pinehurst ad is one of the most attractive features of the magazine. Other articles, such as "Ballad of a Dub" and "How I Lost Du-alpha" show a technical knowledge of Pinehurst's chief sport. Most of the short jokes and fillers are made-overs, but there are some new and perhaps original ones.

The art staff continues to do very good work but shows little improvement over previous work. The drawings of several new contributors are worthy of note.

On the whole, the Pinehurst number is perhaps "up to the standard," but certainly not the best that has and can be put out, and it may not be fortunate enough to get "fifteen or more pieces and one cartoon reproduced in 'College Humor.'" We'll see.
