

Fetzer's Charges Are Given A Set Back By Wake Forest

Ragged Fielding by Carolina and Heavy Hitting by Wake Forest Spells Defeat.

Carolina's state championship prospects were given a severe jolt on Emerson field Tuesday afternoon, when Wake Forest bludgeoned connected for 11 hits and the locals had an off-day in the field—the result being a 9 to 3 victory for the Old Gold and Black. The Baptists supported Stanley Johnson with air tight fielding, while the Tar Heels were over eager and blundered frequently although contributing their share of the game's thrills. A noticeable feature of the contest was the abundance of three baggers, four by Wake Forest and three by Coach Fetzer's outfit.

Captain Stringfield started the ball rolling for his team in the first inning with a single over second. Boylin fanned and Poole was thrown out at first by Casey Morris, the Baptist shortstop going to second on the play. Clarke, the 457 hitting outfielder, cracked out a long one to right that went for three bases and sent Stringfield across with the initial score of the game. Weird throws by Morris and Bonner allowed Clarke to scamper home a moment later. Johnston walked but Stanley Johnson lifted an easy fly to Sweetman.

After two men were down in the first, Bonner drove out a long triple to left field and scored on Shirley's timely single to center. Boylin caught the latter stealing at second for the final out.

Arnette opened the second frame with a single, went to the midway station on a wild pitch, took third when Ferebee errored a grounder, and tallied on Stringfield's sacrifice which the Carolina pitcher also fumbled. Jones scored on Boylin's infield out, but Starling ended further Wake Forest hopes with a pretty running catch of Poole's foul fly.

Neither side scored until the last half of the third. With two out, Bonner hit safely and crossed the plate on a three base lick by "Mule" Shirley. Carolina added another marker in the fifth on McLean's triple and a neat sacrifice by Bonner. Although he could have caught the batter at first, Johnson played the ball to the plate and McLean was safe on a close play. Shirley grounded out, third to first, Morris drew four wild ones, but Sweetman ended the Tar Heels' scoring for the day with an infield tap to Stringfield.

After Greason grounded out to Shirley and Stringfield missed the third strike, Jack Boylin took one of Ferebee's shoots in the side and went to third on Poole's single. The latter was safe at second when McDonald errored, Clarke reaching first. Johnny Johnston singled to left center and when Bonner handled the return clumsily, three runners counted.

Stringfield's single and three baggers by Poole and Clarke were responsible for two more Baptist runs in the ninth. The latter was caught at the plate trying to stretch his hit into a homer, Carmichael to McDonald to Morris. Ferebee struck out Johnston, the last man facing him. A valiant attempt to stage a rally on the part of McGee, McDonald and McLean failed and the damage was over.

Clarke's catch of an extremely long fly by Starling in the fourth, and fine fielding by Arnette and Stringfield were the high lights of the visitors' playing. A fast double play, Shirley to (Continued on page three)

ONLY EIGHT TEAMS ARE NOW IN THE RACE FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL TILT

The Champions in the East and West Will Meet on Emerson Field May 19.

TEAMS WELL COACHED

Four high school baseball teams remain in the east and four in the west, in the high school elimination series conducted by the University Extension Division. Durham, Ellerbe, Woodland and Elizabeth City are the "big four" who have been successful thus far in the swamps sections of the Tar Heel commonwealth, while Shelby, Charlotte, Pomona and Winston-Salem have all emerged victorious from the battles fought in the wild and woolly west.

The remaining elimination games in the east are scheduled to be played today, when Durham meets Ellerbe in Ellerbe and Woodland crosses bats with Elizabeth City in the seacoast city. The winners of these two games will travel to Chapel Hill Wednesday to fight it out for the eastern championship.

In the west, Shelby and Charlotte will play at Gastonia today, with Pomona and Winston-Salem meeting at High Point. The winners of these two games will play Wednesday at Davidson College for the title of the west, unless Winston and Charlotte win out. In that case, the combat will be staged at Salisbury.

The final game for the state baseball championship will be played on May 19 on Emerson field.

In the elimination series thus far the feature playing has been furnished by Barbee, pitcher for the Pomona nine, who has struck out an average of 15 men in the championship games to date. All teams are strong, however, and speculation is unsafe.

All of the eight teams remaining in the fray are priming themselves for the home stretch to the championship. Men formerly well known in college baseball circles of the state are coaching the high school lads. Claude Joyner, former Carolina pitcher in the early days of Lefty Wilson's regime; Dick Gurley and Dick Kirkpatrick, of State, and other former collegiate notables are among the high school coaches. Joyner is at the helm in Winston-Salem, Gurley at Shelby, and Kirkpatrick at Charlotte. E. H. McBan, formerly of Guilford College's nine, is coach at Pomona. B. M. Watkins, formerly of Wake Forest, is Durham's coach; while L. B. Gunter and R. W. Holmes, both University alumni, are coaching the nines at Woodland and Elizabeth City. The high school teams are particularly fortunate in getting the best possible coaching this season, as the foregoing list testifies.

Wolfpack Pays First Visit To Emerson Field Saturday

Fetzer's Men Will Fight Fiercely to Redeem Themselves After Defeat at Hands of Wake Forest.

The Wolfpack pays its first visit of the season to Emerson field tomorrow afternoon. The marauders are coming with blazing eyes and bared fangs, dominated by an intense thirst for Tar Heel blood, and determined to carry back the proverbial bacon to their West Raleigh lair. Excited to fury by their recent defeat at the hands of Trinity, the visitors will fight to the last ditch for victory and a frantic clutch on state championship honors.

Coach Fetzer will have his team primed for a taste of that satisfaction which comes only with a win over Virginia, Trinity, or State. A repetition of the Blue and White's 2 to 1 victory over Harry Hartsell's mighty crew is not at all improbable. The nine will have the moral support of the student body tomorrow, as it has never had that needed help this season.

Carolina still has an opportunity to secure a strong claim for the state championship. With wins over State, Trinity and Wake Forest in the remaining games, only a third contest with Trinity and Wake Forest could settle the resulting complexities. Twelve days will intervene between tomorrow's battle and the next game on the Tar Heels' schedule, the Wake Forest struggle of May 28. In that time Fetzer's machine may be perfected.

It is likely that Coach Hartsell will start Allen on the mound tomorrow, while the Wolfpack will probably face

MAYOR ROBERSON WINS ELECTION BY BIG MAJORITY

Carl Weigand Defeated by Vote of 314 to 76 in Biennial Election.

Mayor W. S. Roberson was re-elected by a vote of 314 to 76, in the biennial elections held in Chapel Hill last Tuesday. The present incumbent was opposed in the mayoralty campaign by Carl Weigand, young lawyer of Chapel Hill and a University graduate.

Mayor Roberson has served Chapel Hill as its mayor for the past eight years, and his re-election was not unexpected.

Registration books showed that only eight students of the University voted in the campaign. Several additional students presented themselves at the polls, but their votes were successfully challenged by Mayor Roberson's supporters.

In the aldermanic election there were three tickets and 13 candidates. The vote ran anywhere from 292 for D. D. Carroll to a single vote polled by Mrs. G. K. G. Henry. D. D. Carroll, G. M. Braune, J. M. Cheek, R. P. Andrews and H. A. Whitfield will compose the town board of aldermen for the next two years.

A tabulated vote of the election is as follows:
For Mayor—W. S. Roberson, 314; Carl Weigand, 76.

For Board of Aldermen—D. D. Carroll, 292; G. M. Braune, 278; J. M. Cheek, 272; R. P. Andrews, 248; H. A. Whitfield, 213; Carl Durham, 141; Eric A. Abernethy, 113; Clarence Pickard, 98; C. S. Mangum, 75; M. W. Durham, 70; W. P. Jordan, 63; A. A. Klutz, 56; Mrs. G. K. G. Henry, 1.

A. & E. BAND CONCERT

The A. and E. band, consisting of 48 pieces, will play a complimentary program on Emerson field Saturday afternoon at 2:30, just before the Carolina State College game. The band is being brought to Chapel Hill through the kindness of our Raleigh alumni association. It has the reputation of being one of the best college bands in the South and the University is indebted to the Raleigh alumni for making this concert possible.

Coach Bob Fetzer and Track Team to South Atlantic Meet

Carolina Should Show Up Well in Several Events With South Atlantic Teams.

Coach Fetzer left with 12 men in tow enroute for Richmond where the Tar Heel track team will engage in the South Atlantic track meet. Over 15 institutions are already entered in this, the biggest event of its kind held in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia each year, and the contest for places will be a hot one.

The Tar Heels, unless gobs of dope are spilled on the Richmond track, should end up in fourth place. This will be the best showing made by the Carolina track team made in years. They will score probably between 18 and 25 points. Since so many schools are entered, and thus such great chances for dark horses, it is nearly impossible to make any forecasts except in a few events where the men are really outstanding. For instance, Georgetown's two miler, who ran it in the Olympics in 9:32.

If Abernethy is going good today there is no reason why he shouldn't beat Potts of V. P. I. in the javelin. Mr. Potts has been hurling it around 170 feet, and thinks this a very good mark, but the fact remains that he hasn't worked as consistently as Abernethy.

Purser made a good showing in the two mile last year and will probably take second place in this event. His time will most likely be around 9:45. Ranson, also, made an excellent showing in the mile, and he will win second place in this, running the four laps in 4:24.

It's hard to tell what Moore and Sinclair will do in the dashes. Sinclair is hawked by a straightaway on the 220 and probably will not do much in this event. Given a good start in the hundred, either Moore or Sinclair will win points.

Tench Cox will not be in Richmond for the middle distances, since he has to be in Atlanta for the Southern Intercollegiate Conference tennis meet on that date, and that leaves the quarter and half up to Milstead and Whitaker. What they will do is hard to tell, but both are liable to be heard from before it's all over, especially Milstead on the half.

Lacy Ranson if going good should place in the pole vault, while Woodard and Yarborough will have an opportunity to make a reputation for themselves as hurdlers.

ASHEVILLE BANK WANTS TO PUBLISH BUNCOMBE BULLETIN

The Central Bank and Trust company of Asheville has asked permission to publish the Buncombe County bulletin completed some months ago by A. M. Moser, I. E. Monk, F. J. Herron, P. S. Randolph, and J. C. Chesborough. The bulletin will form a book of about 125 pages and will cost about $500. S. H. Hobbs, Assistant Professor of Rural Economics and Sociology in the University, will attend a meeting of the State Farm Tenancy Commission at Marion, Friday and Saturday. After the meeting of the commission Mr. Hobbs will go to Asheville to complete arrangements for the publication of the bulletin.

TAR HEELS DEFEAT WAKE FOREST IN TENNIS MATCH

Carolina Takes Every Set, Both in Singles and Doubles, in Match Wednesday.

The varsity tennis team administered a stinging defeat to the Wake Forest net men last Wednesday afternoon. Not a set was dropped from the six matches played.

A cold wind, which lasted the whole afternoon, generally lowered the quality of play, as it made for stiffened fingers and forced all shots to be played so as to allow a greater margin for error. Wake Forest was decidedly unlucky in not having her strongest man, Stringfield, along. In his absence, Blount played first man.

Captain Cox won his match against Blount without any trouble, although he played a considerably weaker game than he would have played had he been in practice. Track has kept him busy for some time. He played a back-court game during his singles match, sliced on his forehand, and drove on his backhand. A few very pretty rests saved the match from monotony.

The closest of the singles matches was that between Jernigan and Townsend. Jernigan played a consistent net game, and won 6-2, 6-4.

Townsend and Blount gave Jernigan and Cox a little trouble in the doubles, and pushed the score to 6-4, 6-4.

The team left Thursday for Atlanta, where it will on the 11th and 12th enter in the Southern Intercollegiate Championship tournament. This tournament will probably be a fight for honors between Carolina and Georgetown. Davidson will be played on the 14th. The 15th, 16th and 17 will be spent in Washington, where Georgetown, George Washington, and Catholic University will be played. Cox, Jernigan, Bruton and Smith will make the trip, and will probably play in the order named.

Scores for the Wake Forest match:

Singles

Cox (Carolina) vs. Blount (Wake Forest), 6-1, 6-2.

Jernigan (Carolina) vs. Townsend (Wake Forest), 6-2, 6-4.

Johnston (Carolina) vs. Graham (Wake Forest), 6-0, 6-1.

Bruton (Carolina) vs. Bland (Wake Forest), 6-1, 6-1.

Doubles

Cox and Jernigan (Carolina) vs. Townsend and Blount (Wake Forest), 6-4, 6-4.

Bruton and Smith (Carolina) vs. Bland and Graham (Wake Forest), 6-2, 6-0.

May Issue of Alumni Review Is Off Press

The May issue of the Alumni Review came from the press during the past week. It contains the usual notes of interest to the alumni, and judging by the May issue, the Alumni Association is exceedingly active.

On the front cover of the magazine appears a perspective of the new Chapel Hill Episcopal church, as it will look when finished.

The new million and a half dollar building program approved by the building committee of the University trustees is explained in full in this number of the Review. This, with an account of a get-together of the Philadelphia chapter of the University Alumni, a review of high school week at the University, and the usual spring baseball dope, furnish the leading news articles of the month.

The item of most interest to students and alumni alike concerns the "Wonder Baseball Team" of 1903, which will cross bats with a faculty team at commencement time.

The editorials and departments are of the usual timely interest to the alumni.

Kalif of Kavak To Be Repeated Monday

"The Kalif of Kavak," which was so successfully produced by the members of Wigwe and Masque in the winter term, is to be repeated in Memorial hall on Monday night, May 14. A large number of students and faculty people have requested this repetition and we are assured that the second performance will be even better than the first one was. The cast remains the same but a number of changes have been made in the course of the show itself, which strengthens it from both the dramatic and musical standpoints. Immediately after the performance here the new elections to Wigwe and Masque will be announced and plans will be announced for next year's program. It is anticipated that a cash prize will be offered for next year's show, as was done this year.

JUNIOR CLASS SMOKER

The Junior class will have its last smoker of the year Tuesday night, Swain Hall at 9 o'clock. On this night the annual elections of the Senior class officers will be held, and therefore it is desirable that a large number be present in order to secure a representative vote. The program committee is planning an attractive schedule of events which should meet with the approval of all.

Plans Ready For The New Episcopal Church

The town of Chapel Hill will soon be the proud possessor of a beautiful new Episcopal church, judging from the plans of the designer, Hobart B. Upjohn, an architect of note.

The church has been designed first as a typical village church and second as a type of Perpendicular Gothic, a style much used by designers of Protestant Episcopal churches during the last decade. The building will be of stone and will match the present church in color and texture. The old church building will be used as the chapel under these plans, thus retaining in concrete form the memories and traditions of the parish. On the dominant tower of the church the use of a spire will bring the whole building into a harmonious composition.

The seating capacity will be about 450, with a choir ample for 36 singers. An addition of two stories of class rooms will also be made to the church parish house.

YEARLINGS PLAY A. & E. FRESH AT LUMBERTON

Twelve thousand people were expected to participate in the American Legion Day celebration at Lumberton yesterday, according to the directors of the affair, one of the chief features of which was the baseball game in the afternoon between the freshman teams from State and Carolina.

The two teams have met twice before this season, both games going to the young wolflets, but by close scores. The Carolina freshmen should make a better showing this time and the outcome of the game is watched with interest.

DR. LEWIS GAVE LECTURE AT SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY

Lecture on "The Age and Area Hypothesis" Was Very Good—New Officers Were Elected.

Dr. I. F. Lewis, of the University of Virginia, lectured to the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society Tuesday night on "The Age and Area Hypothesis" in Phillips Hall.

The Age and Area Hypothesis is a conception which accounts for the distribution of plants over the earth by saying that the most numerous and widely distributed forms are the oldest. While many exceptions have been found to this rule, some extraneous influence has usually been found to account for the divergence. The hypothesis is one that was recently put forward by the British botanist, Willis. Willis collected the data for his proofs from extensive statistical investigations, chiefly in New Zealand. However, scientists throughout the globe have been taking much interest in the hypothesis, and much investigation, in the past few years, has been going on.

In his talk, Dr. Lewis used a good many charts, prepared after considering the statistics of Willis and others. He talked plainly and in a popular manner, and brought the matter home to the North Carolina scientists by mentioning several indigenous plants that come under the jurisdiction of the hypothesis, particularly the Venus Fly Trap, of Eastern North Carolina.

After Dr. Lewis's paper the report of the nominating committee was read and accepted without a change. The officers of the society for 1923-24 are as follows: President, A. S. Wheeler; vice president, R. E. Coker; permanent secretary, J. M. Bell; recording secretary and treasurer, H. R. Totten; editors for the society, W. C. Coker, J. M. Bell, and Collier Cobb.

After the election of these officers the society adjourned until next session.

"13" CLUB GIVES DANCE

The "13" Club has announced a dance to be given in the gymnasium Saturday morning. Excellent music has been engaged and a host of good-looking girls are to be there if all that are invited to the Hill this week-end show up. Everyone is invited except freshmen. There will be no admission, so a large crowd is expected. The dance will begin at 10:30 and last until 12.

Howard W. Odum, Kenan Professor of Sociology in the University, delivered the high school commencement address in Hookerton, Wednesday night. Tonight he delivers the commencement address in Townsville.
