

THE TAR HEEL

Volume XXXII.

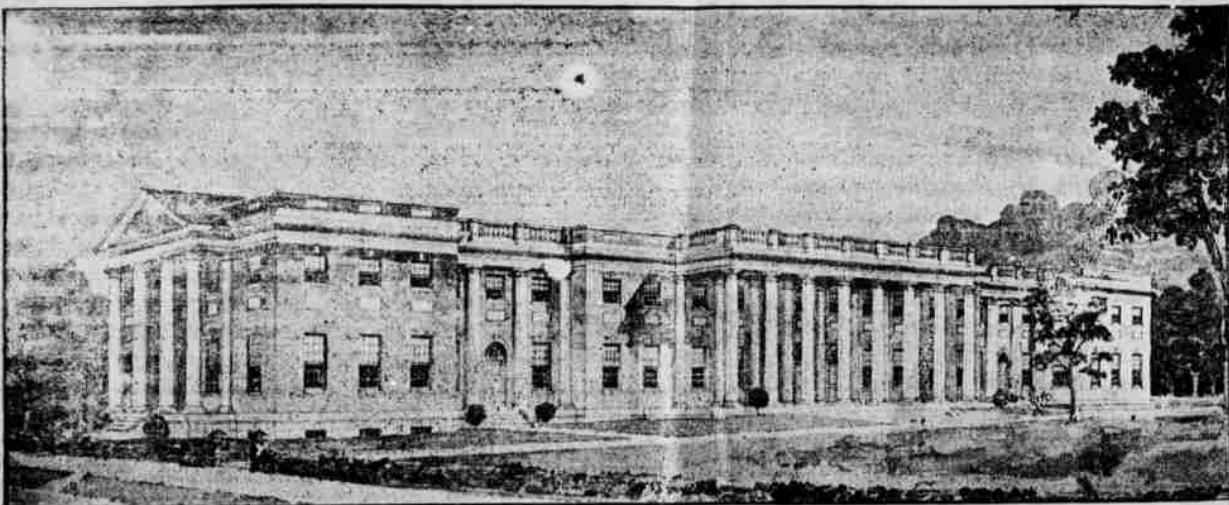

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 19, 1923.

Number 1

WORK ON THE GRAHAM MEMORIAL STUDENT ACTIVITIES BUILDING WILL BEGIN THIS FALL IS PLAN OF JOINT COMMITTEE.

A NUMBER OF STUDENTS AND YOUNG ALUMNI HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN CAN-VASSING THE ALUMNI IN THE STATE DURING SUMMER FOR FUNDS ON THE MEMORIAL BUILDING. TO DATE THERE HAS BEEN AROUND $250,000 OF PROPOSED $400,000 GOAL.

BUILDING TO BE AT OLD INN SITE.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL AS IT WILL LOOK WHEN COMPLETED

The campus is now definitely assured of the proposed Graham Memorial building. This building is to be located at the site of the old University Inn and the building committee plans to begin work on the building in the fall. It will be remembered by the older residents of the campus that, soon after the death of President Edward Kidder Graham in the fall of 1918, a movement was started by the alumni of the University to erect on the campus a fitting memorial in recognition of Dr. Graham's splendid services to the University and the State at large. During 1919, $123,000 was subscribed toward a fund for the erection of a student activity building. However the campaign was suspended in 1920 on account of the financial depression of that year. About the first of last spring the joint committee selected from the faculty, the trustees and the alumni revived the old plans, increased the original goal of $123,000 to $400,000, and employed a secretary to take charge of the drive for funds. This man, Mr. W. Jay Ward, acting for the committee, secured a number of students and young alumni to canvass the state this past summer in the interest of the memorial building. All the results were very encouraging. To date there has been about $184,000 raised on the building of which over $125,000 was raised during the summer campaign.

The remainder of the set goal will be raised as quickly as possible. Mr. Ward has issued the following statement in regard to the campaign:

"A campaign on the Hill among the faculty, students and citizens will yield a substantial part of this balance. The out-of-State alumni will make a large contribution, and another coming of the State and working of the communities that have not been reached will easily bring the campaign to a successful close. There is no doubt now that the work will begin on the central unit of the building sometime this fall."

The Graham Memorial building is to be the student activities building and social center of the campus. Located on the site of the old Inn, it will face west toward the Battle-Vance-Pett dormitories, with appropriate entrance toward Franklin street and the Alumni building, which will be of the late Georgian style of architecture, brick with limestone trimmings, have been drawn by Messrs. Kendall, of McKim, Meade and White, and Nash, of the T. C. Atwood organization.

Aside from the fact that it is to be the general get-together place for the students, as well as a place to entertain visiting alumni and friends and relatives of the students, the building is also to provide a home for the various clubs, the college publications, offices for the Student Council, Athletic Manager, Campus Cabinet and other such organizations. In the central unit of the building there is planned a large reception room which will be used as a sort of lobby for the campus. In the basement there will be a cafeteria connected to rooms on the first floor by a system of dumb waiters. This feature will be of especial use on such occasions as banquets and smokers. In general the building is to be operated along the same lines as the famous Harvard Union, Houston Hall and other such activity buildings at northern institutions.

Several of the men now on the Hill who canvassed the alumni during the summer report that on the whole the alumni responded very well. There are several rather striking exceptions to this statement, however, for some sections of the State proved to be more liberal than others in subscribing to the fund. The alumni of this institution have not been—what one might call—educated to the idea of making such gifts to their alma mater. The present drive is the first that has been conducted among the alumni for building funds since the Alumni building was started way back in 1898, while State institutions in other states have of necessity gone to their alumni on account of the smallness of the appropriations from their legislatures. However the drive here has progressed very well and will be pushed to an early completion.

The student and alumni canvassers during the summer were: A. L. Parrington, Jr., H. C. Starling, William M. York, B. C. Brown, V. C. Swift, B. E. Humphrey, A. J. Cummings, Roy W. Upchurch, Lloyd P. Williams, H. H. Bullock, J. M. Sanders, W. W. Gwynn, B. N. Roberts, P. B. Pollock, E. Hoke Martin, Scott M. Thomas, Preston H. Edwards, Jr., W. F. Falls, Arthur G. Griffin, Z. B. Newton, John M. Brown, O. M. Abernethy, E. C. Jernigan, G. C. Hampton, Jr., Tyre C. Taylor, W. R. Berryhill, W. E. Matthews.

PUBLICATIONS UNION SHOULD ACHIEVE RESULTS THIS YEAR

Board Attempting to Put Publications on Satisfactory Financial Basis.

The Publications Union, voted into existence by the students of the University last spring, is making rapid progress in putting the publication of the Tar Heel, Carolina Magazine, and the Yackety Yack, on an efficient and systematic basis. Working as the trustee of the student body, the Board is attempting to create a more satisfactory business and financial system, to give the students the best possible return for their money by raising the quality of the publication, and to change the basis of the business management from one purely financial to one of the student body—Red Kitchen, President, R. C. Maultsby, and Knox Massey, and of two faculty members appointed by the President, Walter J. Matherly, Treasurer, and C. A. Hibbard, Secretary.

This Board has general oversight over business management of the three major student publications. of three student members elected by college honor. The Board of the Union consists of one common treasury. Into this each student will pay each quarter $1.83 1-3 as part of his matriculation fee, and will receive in return a subscription to the Tar Heel, the Carolina Magazine, and the Yackety Yack. The cost of the three for the year, $5.50, exceeds the former price of the Yackety Yack alone only fifty cents. The cheaper cost is made possible by larger production and better management. This blanket fee voted last Spring will remain in force only two years, unless the students vote to continue it after trying the new system.

O. E. Drullard, of a large northern publishing firm, commended the plan very highly when in Chapel Hill last summer. "The Publications Union as put into effect at the University of North Carolina," he

(Continued on Page 2)

LARGE SQUAD OF MEN STRIVING FOR BERTHS ON FETZER'S ELEVEN

Wealth of Material Out—Fetzer's Problem is Backfield Reserve Power

LINE LOOKS PROMISING

The Carolina football squad has completed two weeks of intensive training prior to the opening of school with over 80 trying out for berths.

It is a bit early to get a line on who will get a regular place, and since Coach Bill is not over-talkative writing as to who is who is premature and purely speculative. Still it is safe to talk about some phases of the situation.

It has been generally conceded that the great work cut out for Coach Fetzer is the development of a strong reserve power in the backfield. He has Monk McDonald at quarter with Sparrow and others to call signals in case he is out of the game. There is no grounds to feel that McDonald will not be the general of the 1923 squad. Sparrow is back and in good condition, and his work will no doubt be of the same high calibre as it was last year. He has a mania for kicking field goals, a mania that won several games last year and bids fair to win several this year.

Randolph and Merritt from last year's squad, both letter men and both powerful in going through a line, will furnish the strength of the first string according to all the prognosticators. Both men tear up a line and both are fair defensive players.

The real weakness of the backfield then is one of reserve power. When the four men mentioned above are put on the field the Varsity has shot its heaviest load, and among the four there is not a man who has Allan McGee's defensive ability. McGee will be sadly missed, since he did most of the defensive work in the backfield last year.

Filling McGee's place is bothering both the coaches. Charlie Gold looks like the best bet from the last year freshman class. He is a good defensive man and can back a line in his turn, although he has a habit of falling down if he ever gets through. Without a doubt he is the likeliest looking man for the place so far.

That leaves the coach with a big bunch of men, some good, some fair, and others otherwise to build a second string backfield to take the place of the one last year. Griffin, Devin, from the freshman team last year, Whedbee and Bonner from last year's scrubs, and others are all showing class. All four are fast and aggressive, Whedbee is a good defensive man and Devin has a good head and an educated toe.

The line is causing less worry, although it will be a long time before the places of Pritchard and of Blount and Cochran are filled. Farrell, Fordham, Robinson, from last year's freshman, and others are all working for the vacant places in the center of the line. Poindexter is certain of his place, McVey is practically so, although he may be shifted to center. Robinson looks good for Blount's position, while Matthews is back for his regular berth at tackle.

A Japanese earthquake couldn't shake Captain Casey Morris away from his end. The other flank is an open question. Lineberger, Epstein and Shepard are all out for the place and all are good men. Epstein is possibly the best defensive man of the three but is the weakest pass receiver in the crowd.

(Continued on Page 5)

Business Men Attention!

There are five vacancies open on the business staff of the Tar Heel for men of all classes. A contest will be held on a competitive basis, and the men showing the most ability will be selected. All interested may get in touch with Gus Bradley, Business Manager.

UNIVERSITY CROWDED AS RUSH OF RETURNING STUDENTS FILL LIMITED NUMBER OF ROOMS

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM OF MASS ATHLETICS TO BE UNDERTAKEN THIS YEAR

Construction of New Fields and Indoor Athletic Building Nearly Completed

A NEW ERA IN ATHLETICS

Some form of athletics for every student on the campus is part of the huge athletic program organized by Dean Bradshaw and Coach Bob Fetzer. Recent statistics show that a very small percentage of the freshman class took active part in organized athletics last year, and these men, approximately 260 out of 600, are the ones that need the physical exercise the least. Owing to inadequate facilities and equipment, inter-dormitory contests could not be conducted on a large scale last year, but sufficient interest was shown to warrant its introduction into the University on a permanent basis. Heretofore, the students with slight frames and frail physiques have been unable to compete with their more sturdy classmates and consequently, could not benefit from the wholesome exercise.

A complete schedule of inter-class and inter-dormitory contests will soon be announced by Dean Bradshaw and Coach Bob Fetzer, now that the proper material is available. The new steel building for indoor athletics will be ready for use in the course of a few weeks, it is situated in back of Emerson field on the other side of the new Pittsboro road, and will seat 4,000 easily within its generous 300 by 100 feet dimensions. The building will provide for eight basketball courts, a width of a mile track, and several indoor tennis courts. The addition of this structure relieves the Bynum Gymnasium from the crowded conditions that prevailed there last year, which was totally inadequate for a college of 2,000 students. The Gymnasium, however, will be used for the usual classes in calisthenics under the direction of Dr. R. B. Lawson.

Further facilities are the extension of Emerson field so that it can afford two football fields, forty new tennis courts, and two athletic fields now under construction, one of them to be used solely for mass athletics. All courts, five football fields, four baseball fields, and ten basketball courts when the building is completed.

Assisting Bob Fetzer in the new athletic program will be his brother Bill Fetzer, Red Johnston, Grady Pritchard and Norman Shepard, the freshman coaching trio, John Purser, the varsity two-miler, and A. A. Shapiro, coach of the wrestling team. Besides the major sports, push ball, volley ball, tug of war, wrestling, tennis, gymnastics, and indoor baseball will be fostered.

The adoption of mass athletics by the University is part of the recent nation-wide movement to encourage athletic competition for all students, large and small, and which is aimed chiefly to develop physically those students who are naturally unfitted for severe athletic competition. The new system will in no way interfere with the varsity teams; in fact it will help to stimulate interest and prove a feeding ground for the major athletic teams.

CHAPEL HILLIANS

BACK FROM EUROPE

Students, Faculty and Co-eds

Have Interesting Experiences on Other Side.

Among the thousands of American visitors in Europe the past summer was a large delegation from Chapel Hill, students, faculty members, and co-eds; some travelling as first class passengers and others as utility men on cattle boats. The

(Continued on Page 2)

Approximately 2200 Students Registered—750 Freshmen 90 Co-Eds.

POST OFFICE STAMPEDED

The stampede of students since Sunday night has filled Chapel Hill to overflowing. The streets are crowded with old men and new. "Glad to see you," and "Had a big summer?" have been heard until it has become monotonous. Handshaking has been the order of the day. The Post Office has proven to be the most popular place for the students to gather and swap yarns about the wonderful times had during the three months parole. Some have been everywhere, others nowhere. Some sold pretty pictures in the coal mines of Pennsylvania, made a barnstorming tour of the southwest and Mexico, others remained on the old homestead and helped raise a crop of tobacco. All had their yarns.

Never has there been such a rush for boxes at the Post Office. When the window opened early Monday morning there was a long line waiting for boxes and all were rented before it closed. One Freshman got in line at nine o'clock and the last box was rented just before he reached the window after several hours of patient waiting. Other places resembling a bee hive from the activity therein, were Memorial Hall during registration, and the cafeteria. Both Miss Cates' place and Nicks' have done a thriving business. Lines waiting to be served reached the length of the building and across the sidewalk on several occasions.

These are only a few of the highest troubles resulting from the rush of the overflow. Treasurer Warren messaged things up considerably for some students when he sold their rooms to other applicants because the entire room rent had not been paid in advance. Upon entering the Treasurer's office the student is informed that his room has been given to some one else because of failure to comply with regulations laid down by the Treasurer. He is then given another man's room who is in the same plight.

The increased jam and overtaxed accommodations is indicative of the increase in the student body. Reports from the Registrar's office seem to confirm an earlier statement that Carolina will have at least two thousand two hundred students. Of this number seven hundred and fifty will be freshmen. The Freshman class would have been even much larger than this had not the Registrar been forced from lack of rooms and other accommodations, to refuse applicants desiring places on the campus.

The Co-eds are with us again this year and in larger numbers. The spirit of affection shown by the vote of the student body last year served as an inducement to the fairer sex. Already they have filled the new houses to the extent that there is not a vacant room. No definite figures can be had as yet, but at the present rate of registration the total will reach well above ninety which is a substantial increase over last year's seventy-five.

The Professional Schools are also enjoying a prosperous registration. The Medical School has had to turn down thirty several applicants for matriculation. This is only another testimonial of the standing of Carolina's Med. course. The Law School will open up in Manning Hall with the greatest number of budding young attorneys in its history. The Pharmacy School has attracted several students from other schools in the South as well as many freshmen.

Calendar

(11:00 classes at 11:30)
Friday 10:30—
Formal Opening Exercises
Friday 4:30—
First Faculty Meeting
Monday 10:00—
"Y" Cabinet Meeting
Tuesday 8:30—
College Night

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

1923

W. F. at Chapel Hill
Sept. 29—
Yale at New Haven
Oct 6—
Trinity at Durham
Oct. 12—
N. C. State at Raleigh
Oct. 18—
Md. at College Park, Md.
Oct. 27—
U. S. C. at Columbia
Nov. 3—
V. M. I. Location undecided
Nov. 10—
Davidson Location undecided
Nov. 17—
Va. at Chapel Hill
Nov. 29—