Senior Class Asks Chase To Remain By Resolution

AT LAST SMOKER

Professor Connor Addresses Class On Their Duties.

SUPERLATIVES ARE ELECTED

New Offices Are Created For Annual Senior Elections, And Varied Types Are Chosen.

The Senior class Friday night unanimously adopted a resolution pledging support to Dr. Harry W. Chase and asking him to continue as President of the University. The resolution was offered by William T. Couch and a copy forwarded to Dr. Chase.

At the beginning of the smoker, the election of senior superlatives was held. Miss Louise Latta was chosen as the most popular co-ed. Honors were distributed among the men students as follows:

W. A. Devin, best athlete.
Henry Johnston, biggest ladies' man.
Benton Pipkin, best student.
Emmett Underwood, best all-round.
C. W. Bazemore, best writer.
Lawrence Watt, best executive.
Harold Lineberger, most popular.
P. A. Clement, most dignified.
Taylor Bledsoe, biggest politician.
Moses Light, most energetic.
M. M. Young, handsomest.
Sam Carrington, ugliest.
Walter Crissman, best business man.
William T. Couch, most original.
X. T. Keel, laziest.

The elections were extremely orderly. Bledsoe as biggest politician and Keel as laziest went over with a heavy majority. For ugliest, Stacy Smith ran Sam Carrington a neck-and-neck race for his money. The office of "best dancer" was abolished in order to make way for "biggest politician." Doc Leggett, popular gym instructor and winner of the Orange county dancing contest held last year by Strowd's Garage was unable to offer himself for the dancing candidacy due to the abolition of that position.

Prof. R. D. W. Connor, at the conclusion of the discussion of class business, talked to the Seniors about their duties as alumni. According to Professor Connor, the state paid more toward the education of each student than the student paid himself. He pointed out the obligations of men who are graduates.

DEBATERS NAMED IN DI SENATE

Fresh-Soph Preliminary Victors Announced at Meeting.

DISCUSS CONSTITUTION

Also Argue About "Moral Turpitude" of Countess Cathcart.

The Di Senate, in its meeting Saturday night, considered several up-to-the-minute matters. The attendance was rather depleted according to its usual standard, probably due to the basketball game, but the delinquent Senators no doubt missed a few points that were worth taking note of.

The victors in the Fresh-Soph preliminaries were announced. Those participating for the Soph laurels were Senators Gilreath, Block, Parker, and Hudgins. Senators Block and Hudgins were selected in the try-outs Friday night. On the same night the freshman affair was scheduled. Senators McGalliard and Brown were the only candidates and were thus automatically given places. The finals of these debates between the two societies are set at Friday night, March 5, in the two halls.

DR. MADDRY DELIVERS UNIVERSITY SERMON

Says "God Calls Men From All Walks and Circumstances of Life to Carry Out His Plans."

One of the best of the series of University sermons heard here during the present scholastic year was delivered to a capacity house by Rev. Chas. E. Maddry Sunday night in Gerrard Hall. Dr. Maddry, Corresponding Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, former Secretary of Orange County Schools, and alumnus of the University, spoke in a quiet conversational manner that completely captivated his audience of old friends, former teachers and admirers.

Dr. Maddry took as his text the passage from Exodus III, 7-10, dealing with the calling of Moses to deliver his people.

Mass Meeting In Chapel Tomorrow

There will be a mass meeting of the Student Body in Memorial Hall, Wednesday morning, at chapel period, for the purpose of discussing President Chase's contemplated resignation and to elect some student expression in regard to it. This special meeting is being called together by the President of the Student Body, Jeff Fordham. The results of the meeting will be drawn up in the form of a set of resolutions which will be, if favorable for his remaining here, sent by mail or wired to President Chase who is now on the Western coast considering the offer made him some time ago by the University of Oregon.

CAROLINA MATMEN DEFEAT DUKE 19-13

Coach Quinlan's Grapplers Win Hard Fought Match.

HAVE WON STATE TITLE

Warren Clinches Match by Throwing His Man in Short Order.

Carolina's fighting mat men downed the powerful Duke aggregation, hitherto undefeated in North Carolina, in a fiercely contested match held in the Tin Can last Friday night, and thereby annexed the state championship title for the first time since the introduction of wrestling in the University as an intercollegiate sport. The meet was a fast and furiously fought affair, with first one then the other in the lead, until the final minutes when Coach Quinlan's charges forged ahead and emerged the big end of a 19 to 13 score.

Duke brought to the "hill" a team of veterans that were in every way up to the standard of the usual high calibre representing the Methodist institution on the mat, but this time they found the Tar Heels in the pink condition and prepared to meet with a team that was more than their equal. All of the matches were usually hard fought and the outcome undecided until the very last encounter when, with his team leading by the bare margin of one point, Warren threw Umberger of Duke, in 1 minute 56 seconds to clinch the victory for Carolina.

The win over Duke, besides giving the Tar Heel grapplers a clear-cut claim to the state title, also brings their record up to a total of five wins out of six meets. Carolina has defeated on

TRUSSELL SPEAKS ON RURAL SCHOOL

Emphasizes Social Center As Basis of School Location.

A TWO-FOLD PROBLEM

Made Very Interesting Talk Before North Carolina Club Last Night.

"Should the Consolidated School be Located in the Town or village?" was the subject of the paper read before the North Carolina Club at its regular fortnightly meeting last night in Saunders Hall. Mr. Brandon Trussell delivered the paper which he had prepared as a result of much scientific study of consolidated school work in this and other states. Mr. Trussell was formerly superintendent of Education in Wise county, Texas. The paper was very well handled, bringing in to the mind of

Kike Kyser's Dancing Acts to Be Given In Chapel Today

A Few of the Dancing acts of Kike Kyser's "Black and White" will be performed in Chapel this morning. This is being done just to give the campus a taste of what can be expected of the regular show.

This Revue, in twenty-one scenes, promises to be the largest show given here in some time. It will be the first time that fourteen girls will have been featured in a musical show here. The Revue is to be Thursday and Friday nights at 8:30 in Memorial Hall.

14 GIRLS ARE IN BLACK AND WHITE

Precedent Will Be Set for Revues Here Thursday.

HAS TWENTY-ONE SCENES

Tar Heel Orchestra to Give Pep to Two Night's Performances.

Black and White, which will be presented in Memorial hall on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:30 o'clock, is decidedly different from any type of show that has ever been given here before. It is unique in that it uses fourteen girls in its cast, an unprecedented achievement for the Chapel Hill stage, and it will indeed be a treat to see some real girls in action for a change. The beauty of the girls, the scenery and the costumes will be a real treat to local theatre-goers.

People who have watched the rehearsals unanimously acclaim that it will be the best show that has been given here in many a day. They have all been amazed at the unusual precision, pep, beauty and snap of the show; and they agree that it is incredible what an unusual show Black and White will be.

The elaborate scenery used in this production will surpass in beauty the scenery of any production that has ever been presented here. Eleven changes of scenery is certainly enough for any show, and that is what Black and White carries. The scenery changes from a black set to a silver set with a girl in the moon, then to a "patch-work" drop, then to a pink satin, and finally into a blue cyclorama. The second act opens in the most elaborate rose garden ever staged here, then it changes to an Egyptian temple then to a gingham scene; and it is culminated with a dazzling and elaborate court scene. The director feels that, with this variety of scenery, the show is well taken care of from the standpoint of color, novelty and elaborateness.

The costumes vary from black and white sport suits and black and white Tuxedos to comedy suits, old fashioned dresses, minstrel finery and dazzling court apparel. The costumes in Black and White are expected to surpass those of any previous performance that has been presented here.

The music is being very efficiently taken care of by the Tar Heel Orchestra, a ten-piece dance orchestra here on the campus. This group of musicians has taken over the entire musical end of the performance, and they are very adequately handling the many snappy tunes of Black and White. The show carries many and varied types of songs that will please all types of music lovers.

Now as to the acts themselves, an interested outsider who has reviewed a dress rehearsal of the show states that he has never seen a more varied group of acts included in one show. In his opinion, the people of Chapel Hill and the students of the University do not realize what an unusual performance will be presented here on Thursday evening. It is certain that one half the people still think that a minstrel show is to be given. Those people have emphatically a most erroneous impression, for the show will decidedly be a revue in twenty-one scenes. Scenes which are full of girls, songs, pep, nonsense and shap; scenes which have beautiful costumes and dazzling scenery; and a show which is crammed full of jokes, good dancing and peppy singing—Black and White offers.

This morning in Chapel a few of the acts will be performed, just to give the students an idea of what the show will include. The chorus of girls, Charlestoning team, quartette and dancing team will work out for the approval of the boys. Everybody is cordially invited to this little entertainment in Chapel this morning.

Tickets are on sale at Sutton and

GWYNN FAMILY HAS MADE UNUSUAL RECORD WITH PHI BETA KAPPA HERE

Four Members of Single Family. Price Henderson '12, John Minor '18, Robert Bruce '20, William Wardlaw '24, Have Been Members of National Honorary Fraternity Over Period of Sixteen Years.

By K. BARWICK

This year, when the sesquicentennial anniversary of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa, that oldest and most celebrated of Greek-lettered fraternities, is being commemorated, and this month when the local Alpha Chapter is observing the anniversary by entertaining the honor-roll freshmen, the campus at large is little awarded that four brothers, alumni of the University, today hold the record, with but one exception, of the largest number of members of Phi Beta Kappa. These brothers are none other than the Gwynns of Leakesville-Spray, N. C.

The instance surpassing that of these men is that of the Isaac family of Cincinnati of which six brothers are members of the University of Cincinnati Chapter. All six are living. Their names and class years are as follows: Nathan '07, Schanche '10, Raphael '11, Nesha '16, Elcanon '17, and Moses '21. The names and class years of the Gwynns are as follows: Price Henderson '12, John Minor '18, Robert Bruce '20, and William Wardlaw '24. J. Minor is at the present time a member of the University Latin Department, and William

STRICKENED

BILLY DEVIN

An attack of influenza which sent Billy Devin, All-Southern guard on the Tar Heel quint, to the infirmary Friday afternoon kept him out of the Duke game last Saturday night, and it will prevent him from making his farewell appearance on the Tin Can court in a Carolina uniform. The Davidson game tonight would have marked the last home game for Billy, but he will be forced to watch from the sidelines while Cobb, his teammate through prep school and college, sings the "swan song" for both of them. "Doc" Lawson, trainer for the Tar Heel squad, announced that he expects to get Devin in shape to play his usual steady game in the Tournament the latter part of the week.

TAR HEELS BEAT DUKEMEN 44 TO 21

Large Crowd Witnesses Fast Game At Durham Saturday.

HUDDLE SYSTEM IS USED

Cobb, Newcomb, and Hackney Shine While Others Guard Well.

The "king" was resurrected Saturday night at Durham, and after allowing the State College Terrors to usurp the basketball throne of the state, the Flying Phantoms turned loose a whirlwind inside Duke's Alumni Memorial Gym that literally turned the Methodists every way but loose. It was a whirlwind that picked up everything in its path, particularly everything that resembled a basketball, and tossed it through the baskets at either end of the court. For forty minutes the storm raged and when the calm came the scoreboards on the balconies registered 44 points for Carolina to 21 for Duke.

Long before the game began the crowd commenced streaming into the Gym, for after the disastrous defeat suffered at the hands of the Techmen Thursday night there were many who had a fleeting idea that the Blue Devils might emulate the example set by the West Raleigh crew. However, it was not a minute after the first whistle before any such fleeting ideas

Seniors to Meet In Gerrard Feb. 24

Mr. Weisegar of the Personnel Department of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and Mr. Harly of the Retail Credit Company will address the seniors in the School of Commerce and the College of Liberal Arts in Gerrard Hall Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The field representatives of these two Southern-wide enterprises will make short speeches explaining the advantages of their businesses as a field to the college graduate. After the speeches by both of the visitors, they will mingle with the students and endeavor to reply to any questions that may be asked of them by their audience.

GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT TONIGHT

Nationally Known Music Organization at Memorial Hall.

GIVES MANY NEW SONGS

Selections to be Used in Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest.

The program to be given by the University Glee Club at 8:30 this evening in the Playmakers Theatre will include many entirely new songs, the singing of which will feature a concert whose quality will be unquestionably high.

Among these new selections is the song to be sung in the National Intercollegiate Glee Club contest on March 6 in New York. This number will be sung by every competing organization at the select meet of prominent glee clubs. Composed by Ella Higginson, this song is a continuous flow of exquisite music, a stirring appeal to God to guide one's life even as Venus, the beautiful evening star, casts its bright light upon a turbulent sea. The scene suggested by the delicate beggars description. In it there is the terror infused by an approaching squall, and the accompanying helpless appeal to God for succor, ending in a serene, glassy calm. The

DUNCAN SIGNS TO COACH BASEBALL

Recent Owner of Raleigh Capitals Will Begin Work Soon.

FORMERLY STARRED HERE

Has Played Professional Ball in Five Leagues During Career.

"Duke" Duncan, former owner and manager of the Raleigh Capitals of the Piedmont League, was signed to a contract Saturday to coach the Tar Heel diamond squad through the coming season. With the new baseball mentor securely tied up with a contract the prospects for the season in the great American game begin to pick up, for while the pitchers have been working for several weeks the other members of the varsity squad have not yet taken to the field. It is expected that Duncan will issue a call for regular practice to start within the next week or ten days.

The new coach is an alumnus of the University having starred at second base for the Tar Heel baseball teams of 1909

UNIQUE FRATERNITY IS ESTABLISHED ON HILL

It Is Discovers That Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon Actually Exists—Opposition Is Its Supreme Motive.

In a recent issue of the South's leading semi-weekly collegiate newspaper, the Tar Heel if you really want to know, there appeared a review of the Buccaneer. A young man writing under the pseudonym of The Beachcomber was responsible for this bit of criticism and one of his main points of chatter was about a new fraternity with the melodious name of Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon, mention of which appeared several times in the publication he was reviewing. To him it was a mystery which called for immediate solving. "What is all this about Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon?" he inquired, and subsequent research showed that many other people on the campus were asking the same question.

So a reporter, seeing in this demand the chance for a story, got to work and endeavored to run down everything possible pertaining to the unknown organization.

DAVIDSON CLOSSES SEASON TONIGHT

Last Game Before Teams Enter Tournament.

VETERANS END CAREERS

Cobb and Dodderer in Game and Devin on Sidelines Make Final Appearance Here.

The Flying Phantoms will make their final appearance of the 1926 season on the Tin Can court tonight when they meet the Davidson Wildcats here in the final scheduled basketball game before the team leaves for the Tournament in Atlanta the last part of the week. The game tonight will mark the final game for the Tar Heels with North Carolina teams, unless some fortune puts them with the Red Terrors from State at the tournament.

The Davidson quint is one of the strongest outfits to wear the Presbyterian colors on the court in years, and they will bring with them tonight all the fight that is traditional with Wildcat athletic teams when they meet the Tar Heels. A Davidson team in any sport may be of extremely mediocre calibre in all other games during the season, but when they hit Carolina they will play like men inspired, and a Tar Heel team never has a cinch when they meet the Wildcats.

The Davidson team started their season with a rush this year, making a brilliant showing against Duke and State in early season contests. Since meeting the Techmen and the Blue Devils they have met some of the best teams in Virginia and South Carolina, and always the Wildcats have shown some good basketball with a fair winning percentage for the season.

The game tonight will be one of several the Davidsons will play on a long road trip through the state. Practically every team in North Carolina will be met on their own court by the Presbyterians in their final long jaunt around the circuit. State won handily from them Saturday night on the Raleigh floor, and last night they had a great battle with the Methodists at Durham. What they show tonight will depend largely on the condition of the players after the trip.

The Carolina tossers will go into the game handicapped by the absence of Bill Devin from the line-up. Devin was taken ill last Friday with influenza and was running a high temperature when

COMPETITION TOO STRONG FOR PHI

Basketball and Boxing Try-Outs Hurt Attendance.

MANY RESOLUTIONS MADE

Reject Amendment to Resolution to Put Beer Pump in Lieu of Old Well.

A small crowd was on hand to make the Phi Hall resound with oratorical splendor Saturday night, due to the strong competition furnished by the Duke-Carolina basketball game and the boxing try-outs.

However, the speaker, although a recent inmate of the infirmary, filled his position with the same regularity and ability. His plea for system and for response from the committees was felt by the whole Assembly and will in all probability gain results.

It was thought that the motion which was that a committee be appointed to study conditions of student government on campuses of other colleges and then draw up a constitution for the government of the student body of the University of North Carolina had been discussed.

Plans Are Under Way For Beautifying Laundry Yard

"Dean" Paulsen of the University laundry plant will have his employees and a small extra force of workers begin work immediately on his plans for beautifying the yard of the laundry.

Numerous laundry yard innovations will be introduced on the finished job. A horseshoe road, meeting Cameron avenue at two places, will be built; in the circle of the horseshoe will be constructed a fountain with a terraced descent. The space between the basin and the edge of the horseshoe driveway will be leveled off, fertilized, and planted with grass and shrubs under the direction of W. C. Coker, professor of botany in the University and an excellent landscape gardener. A two-light white way will be one of the features of the attractive laundry yard.
