

The Tar Heel

Leading Southern College Tri-Weekly Newspaper

Member of North Carolina Collegiate Press Association

Published three times every week of the college year, and is the official newspaper of the Publications Union of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription price, $2.00 local and $3.00 out of town, for the college year.

Offices on first floor of New West Building. Telephone 318-Red.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the Post Office, Chapel Hill, N. C.

J. T. Madry, Editor
Harold Seburn, Business Manager

Editorial Department
Managing Editors

J. F. Ashby, Tuesday Issue
Byron White, Thursday Issue
L. H. McPherson, Saturday Issue

J. N. Robbins, Assistant Editor
D. D. Carroll, Assignment Editor

Staff
J. H. Anderson, H. L. Merritt
J. R. Bobbitt, Jr., J. W. Moore
J. M. Block, W. P. Perry
J. E. Coggins, J. P. Pretlow
Walter Creech, W. P. Ragan
J. R. DeJournette, T. M. Reece
E. J. Evans, S. B. Shepard, Jr.
Ruth Hatch, F. L. Smith
T. W. Johnson, W. S. Spearman
H. C. Lay, J. A. Sprull
R. P. McConnell, W. H. Windley
Alex Mendenhall, H. A. Wood

Business Department
Sarah Boyd, Asst. to Bus. Mgr.
T. V. Moore

Advertising Department
Chas. A. Nelson, Advertising Mgr.
Baron Holmes, S. Linton Smith
J. C. Uzzell, Jr.

Circulation Department
Marvin Fowler, Circulation Mgr.
Dick Flagle, John Deaton
Tom Raney, Reg. Schmitt

You can purchase any article advertised in the Tar Heel with perfect safety because everything it advertises is guaranteed to be as represented. The Tar Heel solicits advertising from reputable concerns only.

Thursday, April 22, 1926

Oh yes, we forgot to mention the Co-eds in our "policy" editorial. In this connection it might be said that we are neither ultra-misogynists nor misogynists. All references to the element will be made with the best of feelings.

Co-eds at the University of Southern California recently organized an anti-petting league, an oath-bound organization to which the famed belles of the campus swore to observe the old-time restrictions on hushing and squeezing. The league is now forming affiliated chapters at other universities to bring about the doom of petting, and the male students are said to be making hay while the sun shines. We wonder if a chapter is to be installed here.

Every time the band strikes up on a tune out at the baseball games all eyes are focused up into the stadium. Investigation disclosed that the troupe has discarded the time-worn music and taken on a few new selections. All of which meets with the approval of the baseball enthusiasts.

With the coming of Spring comes the selecting of many honored groups on the campus such as Gilded Fuzz, Booloo Club, S. T. P., S. I. N., and Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon. The Yellow Journal robbed the Tar Heel of the Gilded Fuzz last year, but we have hopes of getting it back this year.

Calls have been issued for men to come out for Spring practice in wrestling and boxing. After several years of hard work the wrestlers won the State championship during the past season and by so doing set a high mark which will require much work to uphold. The mitmen had a very limited number of meets but made an excellent showing for themselves and the University. A larger number of contests are offered next year as an incentive to get men to participate.

Announcement has been made to the effect that more paving is to be done in Chapel Hill. The mud fighters are gaining consistently, so there are still hopes that the campus sidewalks will receive their hard coating bye and bye.

News has reached our ears that Zeta Epsilon, recently organized here, is petitioning Zeta Beta Tau, a strong national fraternity. It is welcomed news as the field is right here for additional strong Greek letter organizations.

DESERVING TRIBUTE TO ALMA MATER

The election of Daniel L. Grant to the presidency of the National Association of Alumni Secretaries is strikingly significant. It reflects great credit on the University as well as the man. And, viewed in its still larger significance, it is another deserving compliment paid North Carolina.

Mr. Grant has been Executive Secretary of the General Alumni Association of the University for the last three years. During that time he seems to have gone a long way toward the fulfillment of a task that few folk would dare undertake. Arousing and maintaining an active alumni interest is a mean job at best. No one has ever questioned the loyalty of University alumni in times of emergency, a striking example of which was the educational campaign of 1921. But maintaining an active alumni interest day in and day out in matters of vital concern to Alma Mater is indeed a far more difficult task. Nor is this a condition peculiar to the University of North Carolina alumni; it applies to alumni everywhere. The former students always show an inquiring attitude toward what is going on here on the Hill, and their genuine love for the place is well nigh 100 percent, but the majority are engrossed in their daily trials and tribulations at home. While apparently inactive, however, every now and then to remind them of their responsibility and opportunity to serve Alma Mater. Secretary Grant every now and then to remind them of their responsibility and opportunity to serve Alma Mater. Secretary Grant has done a big piece of work in the three years he has been carrying on, and the outlook is even more hopeful.

The University is to be congratulated in having the association meet here next year. Its membership representing 80 percent of the college population of the country.

"There was no difficulty in getting the University's invitation accepted," Secretary Grant said in an interview on his return. "I found the alumni secretaries more than anxious to hold their meeting here. All of them were talking about the big march of progress they had heard the institution was making, and they were anxious to get first hand information about it. The eyes of the educational world are focused on North Carolina, and especially on its university."

THE BASEBALL TEAM

Almost half of the baseball season is gone and the team should be entering mid-season form. The annual Virginia-Carolina "classics" will be held this week-end when the Tar Heels meet their ancient rivals from Charlottesville in a game here Friday and in Greensboro Saturday in the last game of the series.

The Cavaliers have the lead in the series by virtue of their win over the local tossers in the first game of the series, which was played in Charlottesville during the Easter holidays. The game Friday and Saturday should be the most colorful events of the season. A large crowd is always on hand to see the ancient rivals meet here and the affair in Greensboro has become to be one of the gala events of the year. A special train will take a large part of the student body to the Gate city while every other kind of conveyance will be used to take many of the followers of the Carolina team. The girls' college will furnish most of the color in the last game of the series.

The Tar Heels have the best record in the games played in recent years, but most of the old heads who brought victories to the Carolinians have passed out of college baseball circles and a rather embryonic bunch remains to fill their places.

Coach Duncan's proteges got off to a rather poor start this year but are apparently staging a come-back. The win over Duke Saturday made the Tar Heel stock rise considerably and gave brighter hopes of taking the series from the Cavaliers. College baseball teams in the State appear to be on the wane this year. A pick of all the teams put together would not produce as strong a team as that which represented Carolina in 1922 and other years. There is simply a dearth of material. "Duke" Duncan came here this year to take charge of the best that Carolina could offer. The situation, while not so good, is much better than it is at many other institutions. Three Missouri Valley schools have dropped baseball as an inter-collegiate sport, for this year at least, and two other schools in the same region have never had teams. Lack of interest and material has been given as the reason for nothaving teams at the latter schools. Professional baseball is said to have taken the life out of college baseball.

The situation is very different here the lack of good material being the only similarity between the two conditions.

Coch Duncan's success in the baseball world has not been phenomenal, but we believe the "Duke" knows the game and is instilling a fighting spirit in his cohorts. The season is by no means over and the state championship title is far from being the property of any club at this time. If the season is not a success, nobody will regret it more than we, and on the other hand, if the Tar Heels come out "on top of the world" we will gladly doff our hats to them and their coach.

Again a fighting spirit was shown in the Elbn game yesterday afternoon when the Tar Heels fought uphill all the way to tie the Christians in the ninth inning only to lose in the fatal eleventh. The game clearly showed that Coach Duncan has a fighting nine.

Henry Fuller, Guy Cardwell, and Paul Olive spent the week-end in Charlotte as the guests of Clyde Shuford. While there they attend the operas "Cavaleria Rusticana", "I Pagliacci", "Lucia de Lammermoor", "Carmen", and "Il Trovatore", which were presented by the New York Civic Opera Company.

Calendar

Thursday, April 22

9:00 a.m.—State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, University courts.
2:00 p.m.—Geology Club, Geology Building.
3:00 p.m.—Freshman Tennis, Carolina vs. Wake Forest, University courts.
7:30 p.m.—Deutsche-Verein, Episcopal Parish House.
7:00 p.m.—Glee Club practice, New West Building.

Friday, April 23

9:00 a.m.—State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, University courts.
8:00 p.m.—Freshman Friendship Council banquet, Carolina Inn.
3:30 p.m.—Varsity Baseball, Carolina vs. Virginia, Emerson Field.

Saturday, April 24

9:00 a.m.—State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, University courts.
3:30 p.m.—Varsity Baseball, Carolina vs. Virginia, Greensboro.

Sunday, April 25

8:30 p.m.—Playmaker Reading, Theatre Building.

Monday, April 26

3:00 p.m.—Hoops Lecture, 110 Murphy Hall.
4:00 p.m.—Varsity Baseball, Carolina vs. Georgia Tech, Emerson Field.
7:00 p.m.—Glee Club Practice, New West Building.

8:30 p.m.—Y.M.C.A. Cabinet, Y.M.C.A.
9:00 p.m.—Fayetteville Club, Y.M.C.A.

Tuesday, April 27

3:00 p.m.—Hoops Lecture, 110 Murphy Hall.

4:00 p.m.—Varsity Baseball, Carolina vs. Georgia Tech, Emerson Field.
7:00 p.m.—Glee Club Practice, New West Building.

8:30 p.m.—Freshman Friendship Council, Y. M. C. A.

Wednesday, April 28

3:00 p.m.—Hoops Lecture, 110 Murphy Hall.

7:30 p.m.—Research Seminar, 112 Sauters Hall.

8:30 p.m.—Hoops Public Lecture, illustrated, "Fashionable Europe in the Age of Daroque and Rococo," Gerrard Hall.

Decorate yourself with the degree of P. A.

THAT means "Pipa Amoroso" in the Latin, or "pipe-lover" in plain campus English. P. A. has certainly endeared a pipe to more men than any other letters in the smoke-alphabet. Because Prince Albert lets a fellow smoke all he wants to—and makes him want to!

Cool as the stare of a marble Venus. Sweet as the approach of vacation. Fragrant as spring blossoms. Think up your own similes, Fellows. You will when you pick P. A. and a jimmy-pipe for permanent roommates. Prince Albert is great tobacco, and that's not blah.

Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. Fill the bowl of that old jimmy-pipe to the brim and borrow a match. Then you're set for some great smoke-sessions, as sure as you're a foot high.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

© 1926, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

College Style Display

The new spring styles in collegiate shoes will be displayed by a special Florsheim representative

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

At

PRITCHARD-PATTERSON

Just the sort of footwear every college man prefers. The new lasts—fine leathers—and the famous Florsheim quality.

Pritchard-Patterson

University Outfitters

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS