

BERNARD TALKS UPON THE BIBLE

Lecture Sunday Night Was On Making of New Testament.

THREE LECTURE SERIES

Will Explain King James and Revised Version of Bible.

At 7:30 Sunday night in the Chapel of the Cross William S. Bernard gave the first of a series of three lectures on the making of the New Testament. The first lecture concerned the origin of the New Testament.

The second and third will take up the transmission and the making of the King James and Revised Version of the Bible.

Dr. Bernard began by defining religion as "Mans Effort to Adapt Himself to God's Universe", and went on to say that there were three ways of adapting oneself: to find God, to understand God, and ones' self. A scientist who seeks the truth is a religious man because this is one way to find God.

Mr. Bernard said that he did not intend to talk of theology or even of the divinity; that the Bible gives us Jesus and that his experiences are invaluable to us. "They are the wisdom of life." The New Testament gives us the philosophy of Jesus Christ.

Mr. Bernard attacked the prevalent theory that the Scripture is infallible and that the Word is unerring. He denied that the Bible is a miraculous book divinely dictated by God. This would mean that Christianity is a book religion; the reverse of this is true, the New Testament is a product of Christianity.

The twenty-seven books of the New Testament were written and rewritten at widely separated dates and set forth conflicting points of view. The first book, the First Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians, was written in the year 50 A. D. or twenty years after the death of Christ. The last book was written about 130 A. D. The first Bible was assembled about 141 A. D. by a heretic.

With the exception of the epistles of Saint Paul the authors of the books of the New Testament are not known. There are five reasons why the Apostle did not keep a complete chronicle of the life of Jesus: the Apostles expected the second coming of at an early date, his words and not his deeds meant a great deal to the followers of Christ, the program of the Church called for preaching and not writing, at that time there was almost universal indifference to historical facts, and to some the life of Christ was not a history but a great living drama.

The Bible is not infallible; besides the variations and historical fallacies which it contains there are numerous mistakes which have been made in the various translations. "The true method of finding God is to trace to their origins the ideas enshrined in the Christian literature."

RACQUETMEN WIN WEEK-END MEETS

Duke and Wofford Are Losers to University Players.

WOFFORD DEFEATED

Hap Whitaker Stars in Match With Captain Shuler, of Wofford.

The Tar Heel racketmen topped the week off with three straight wins, two over Duke and one over Wofford. The Terriors came to the Hill with a strong aggregation and were determined to give the Carolinians a fight for their money. Captain Whitaker, however, led his men to a victory by the score of 5 matches to 1.

The match between the diminutive Tar Heel, captain and Captain Shuler of the Wofford aggregation was perhaps the most exciting and hard fought match of the meet. The first set was very close at all times. "Hap" couldn't quite master his opponent's style of play and dropped the first set 9-7. In the second set Shuler by sheer force and superior height soon had Hap five love; but Whitaker, with his back to the wall, took a stand and held. By taking seven straight games he annexed the second set. Shuler tried to make a comeback in the third set when Hap had him five to one, but the Tar Heel tightened and sent him back 6-4. Whitaker played his usual steady conservative game, only extending himself in the second set.

The rest of the Carolina players had a fairly easy afternoon's play with the exception of the doubles affair between Geddie and Harvell, of Carolina, and Nettles and Chipley, of Wofford. Flashes of spectacular play were occasionally seen, but the Tar Heels contented themselves with playing a steady and safe game. The doubles match in which Geddie and Harvell lost to Nettles and Chipley was hard fought all the way through, but the Terriors combined good playing with team work and sent the Tar Heels back 8-6; 6-4.

Summary of matches:

Whitaker (Carolina) defeated Shuler (Wofford) two out of three sets, 7-9; 7-5; 6-4.

Elgin (Carolina) defeated Lindsay (Wofford) in straight sets, 6-2; 6-4.

Geddie (Carolina) defeated Nettles (Wofford) in straight sets, 6-4; 6-3.

Harvell (Carolina) defeated Chipley (Wofford) in straight sets, 6-1; 6-0.

Whitaker and Elgin (Carolina) defeated Shuler and Lindsay (Wofford) in straight sets, 6-4; 6-0.

Nettles and Chipley (Wofford) defeated Geddie and Harvell (Carolina) in straight sets, 8-6; 6-4.

MEMORIAL TABLET SAYS LIVING ALUMNUS IS DEAD

T. S. Webb, of the Class of 1862, Listed Among Confederate Dead Is Practicing Law.

One of the tablets in Memorial Hall contains an error; it records T. S. Webb, of the class of 1862, as among the Confederate dead while he is indeed alive and actively participating in business. He is 86 years old, but his advanced age does not prevent his engaging in business as the senior partner in the law firm of Webb, Baker, and Egerton, of Knoxville, Tenn.

This mistake his remained on the marble tablet in Memorial Hall for forty years without correction. Mr. Webb saw it every time he visited the Hill but he made no comment. Four years ago, however, his daughter, seeing the mistake, asked that it be removed. Her request was overlooked until a short time ago, but now Mr. Woollen, business manager of the University, has engaged a marble worker from Durham to come over to the Hill to make the necessary correction.

A letter from Mr. Webb to D. L. Grant, secretary of the Alumni Association, explains how this error came to be recorded.

"In 1862, in front of Corinth, Mississippi, Mr. Webb, then a young Confederate officer, was ordered to carry an important message to the 8th Tennessee regiment. He had to pass through a lane separating two small fields, and there he found himself in a crossfire of bullets. One struck his saddle. He spurred his horse on to where the Tennessee regiment had been stationed. But it had been driven back, and he found himself a prisoner of the federal army.

"Mr. Webb's hat had been lost and was found by his own men. His horse broke loose and went back to the Confederate lines with the bullet-riddled saddle. This naturally led to the report of his death. It was published in his home town of Memphis and even his own family did not know that he was alive until Memphis was captured and the federal general notified Mr. Webb's mother of his safety as a northern prisoner."

This letter fully explained how it happened that a Carolina alumnus who is very much alive should have his name among those famous men whose memorial tablets adorn the walls of Memorial Hall.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS MEET HERE MAY 6-9

Visitors to Be Guests of School of Commerce—W. N. Everett Will Be Chief Speaker.

The seventh semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants will be held here on May 6, 7, and 8, under the auspices of the School of Commerce. Nearly one hundred members and guests are expected for the three-day session.

Dean Carroll will deliver the address of welcome, after registration of the members is completed, and Mr. Frederick Moore, President of the Association, will respond. A banquet will be given in the Carolina Inn on the first evening, at which Hon. W. N. Everett, Secretary of State, and Clarence O. Kuester, of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, will be among the speakers. President Chase will also speak, if other engagements do not interfere. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the University Glee Club and Orchestra.

The business meeting will be held Friday morning, May 7, and in the afternoon the accountants will join the members of the North Carolina Bankers Association, which will be in session in Durham. The members of both organizations will attend a barbecue dinner at the Chapel Hill Country Club, and an effort is being made to arrange a baseball game for the afternoon.

Students of the School of Commerce will show the visitors over the campus, before the meeting adjourns Saturday. The University committee in charge of entertainment is composed of Professor Peacock; Morgan F. Vining, of the Extension Division; and L. B. Roberson, University Auditor.

George Edward Wood, of Charlotte, General Secretary of the Association, while in Chapel Hill Thursday, said in reference to the meeting:

"Our association has been wanting to meet at the University for a number of years, and the lack of hotel facilities in the past is the only thing that has kept us away. We feel that the contact of the professional with the student will benefit both of us a great deal."

DELTA SIGMA PHI HAS DANCE FRIDAY EVENING

Tri-Chapter Convention Closes in Durham With Dance in Washington Duke Hotel.

The Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity was host at a delightful dance in the beautiful ballroom of the Washington Duke Hotel Friday night.

The occasion for the dance was the tri-chapter convention of the State, Duke, and Carolina chapters of the Fraternity, held in Durham Friday. A large representative crowd from the three schools, together with visitors from out in the State, attended the affair. A swarm of girls from Durham, Greensboro, Raleigh, Danville, High Point, Chapel Hill, Newbern, and other towns furnished the feminine element which contributed largely to the success of the dance. The Washington Duke orchestra played music that brought forth the inevitable Charleston exhibition from a certain party on the floor.

During the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thigpen, green and white caps, confetti, horns and whistles were distributed among the dancers and the ballroom became a festive scene of merry-making. The dance was unusually long, lasting until two o'clock, which was particularly gratifying to the visitors from the "Hill", so used to the one o'clock limit. The dance was a success in every way. The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Long, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mason, Miss Alice M. Baldwin, Mrs. Norwood Bullington, and Mrs. W. M. Pyatt.

VARSITY TENNIS TEAM PLAYS WAKE FOREST

Carolina Has Already Defeated the Demon Deacons But a Hard Fight Is Expected.

Tuesday afternoon the Carolina Tennis Team will journey over to Wake Forest to match their skill with the Demon Deacons in a dual meet.

The meet promises to be hard fought from beginning to end. The Deacons have been defeated only twice this season, they suffered defeat at the hands of Duke and Carolina. Lenoir-Rhyne, Elon, Gullford, Wofford and several other teams have been taken into camp by the Baptists. In the State Tournament held at Chapel Hill the Deacons had players to reach the semi-finals in both the doubles and singles, only to be eliminated.

Carolina's knights of the net have not been defeated by any team this year. They have won from Duke, Wake Forest, Virginia, South Carolina, and Wofford. In the State Tournament they failed to gather in any final honors but were eliminated in the semi-finals. The Tar Heels will be out there fighting to keep their record clean and to repeat their victory over the Baptists. The matches will start at three o'clock this afternoon.

KIKE KYSER DELIVERS A TALK ON CHEER LEADING

In his usual manner, Kike Kyser in Chapel Friday said a few timely remarks concerning cheering at the University.

He said that year after year the quality of the cheering at games has been declining. There seems to be an idea existing that anyone who leads the cheers or participates in yelling to any extent is a "shine." Many of the boys who laugh at the antics of the cheer-leader could not do half so well.

In a school of Carolina's size there should be the best sort of organized cheering, it was pointed out. The cooperation of every student is necessary, both to cheer and to go out for the cheer-leader's position.

Hereafter, Kike Kyser will aid in the cheer-leading and also inaugurate some new yells. He said, "If anyone laughs at me, I'm going to laugh at them for laughing at me."

Mrs. C. Alphonso Smith was here for a few days last week.

INTRAMURAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT MAY 10

Silver Loving Cup Is Prize for Winners—Players Register at Dean of Student's Office.

All the local knights of the clay courts will be given a chance to "do their stuff" soon under the critical eyes of intramural athletic officials. The annual all-University tennis tournament begins the 10th of May, on the courts near the triangle, and it is expected that a large number of participants will enter.

Any unit on the campus is eligible to enter a team. In last year's tournament there were 64 different organizations represented, and the competition was keen throughout the meet. The Beta Theta Pi team, composed of Malcolm Cameron and Billy Harvell, finally succeeded in copping the honors by vanquishing the outfit representing "J" dormitory.

Each team is to be composed of two men, and they will play one doubles match and two singles matches. The winners will meet winners in regular order until the championship is annexed by some team.

The victors will receive the beautiful silver loving cup given by the Pilot Life Insurance company, of Greensboro. It is a two-year cup, and the team that is fortunate enough to win it twice in succession will be allowed to retain permanent possession of this trophy.

All men who have not made a letter in tennis nor competed in varsity matches this year are eligible for the intramural teams. The only other requirements are that they belong to the unit which they represent and that they enter their names at the office of the Dean of Students not later than Friday, May 7. Several good men have been disqualified in past tournaments for failing to comply with this last requirement; so those who intend to enter should be on their guard and not let the last day for signing up slip by.

This committee, headed by Professor Ernest W. Wilkins, of the University of Chicago, recommends that representatives from various colleges from a committee with a view to adopting a general plan which may be put in operation before the opening of the football season next fall.

Back in those good old days when the daring undergrads rode their bikes around town with their feet on the handle bars, and a race between two-wheelers was a gala event—even in those good old days Anheuser-Busch was nationally known among good fellows.
