BAPTIST PITCHERS HIT HARD

Bat for Visitors.

Showing an inconquerable fighting spirit, the Tar Heel baseball aggregation came from behind in the seventh and eighth stanzas Thursday to hand the Wake Forest Demon Deacons a 12 to 7 walloping on Emerson field in the third and final series game between the two squads. The Tar Heels fought against the odds all the way, and drove James, Deacon twirling ace, from the mound in the eighth frame, and hopped on Person, who replaced him, for five hits to count for six runs and the contest.

The Deacons started the scoring in the fourth frame when they pushed one run across, but the Tar Heels came back in their half of the fifth verse to count three times, only to have the Deacons push five runs across the plate in the seventh inning to make the count stand 6 to 3. The Tar Heels, in their half of the same frame, counted three markers to knot the count, and put the game away on ice in the eighth inning when they pushed across six runs in rapid succession. The Deacons tried a ninth inning rally, but succeeded in scoring only one run and the final score stood 12 to 7.

Bill Sharpe, Tar Heel receiver, led the hitting for the Duncans. Sharpe went to the rubber four times and smashed out three stinging singles, one of which started the run in the seventh inning that tied the score, for Carolina. Besides performing stellarly at the bat, the big catcher worked his usual steady game behind the plate, and, although four Deacons pilfered bases on him, he was generally "right there with the goods."

"Moose" Tenney ran Sharpe a close second for Tar Heel batting honors with three safe blows out of five trips, while James, the Deacon hurler, led the hitting for his team with three safeties out of four trips. Clayton and Martin were the only other Deacons to collect more than one safe single, each of them getting two safeties.

The Deacons started the scoring in the fourth inning when Sapp struck out Holt to start the inning only to walk Baucum and Riley in record time. P. Joyner then flew out to left, but Martin singled to score Baucum. James flew out to left to end the frame. The Deacons registered again in the seventh verse. Greason led off with a single to left field, and Clayton followed with an infield hit, advancing Greason to a second. Holt then hit to Sapp who threw Greason out at third, but Baucum got an infield hit and the bases were loaded. Riley lined out a single to left and Clayton and Holt counted. J. Joyner hit a Texas Leaguer back of third, and Baucum held to the second sack thinking Young would catch the ball; however, the Tar Heel gardener missed it, but threw Baucum out at third. Martin then singled and Riley and Joyner counted, Martin taking second on the throw-in. Timberlake followed with another single and Martin scored, but Greason flew out to right field to end the frame. The Deacons scored one more marker in the ninth inning when Phelps, who was hitting for Martin, was safe on an infield hit, and Person tripped to center, Phelps counting.

The Tar Heels scored their initial runs in the fifth frame. Webb, leading off, popped out to third, but Jones was safe on Greason's miscue. Sharpe singled, and Finley, who was running for Jones, took second. Sapp tripped to deep center and both Finley and Sharpe counted. Sapp scored a few minutes

(Notice by request of the athletic association.)

NAMED U. N. C. LEADER

GUS M'PHERSON

Gus McPherson, who has been elected to the Captaincy of Coach Bob's famous track aggregation. Gus will be a senior next year, and is expected to set the world on fire, as far as dash records are concerned.

GUS M'PHERSON LEADS TRACKMEN

Carolina Sprint Star Will Cap- tain Next Year's Track Team.

GLENN TO BE MANAGER

Dick Freeman and Dave Young Will Be Assistant Managers.

At the banquet held for members of the Carolina track squad Thursday night, the Varsity letter men elected Rufus McPherson, of Raleigh, as captain of the U. N. C. track team for next year. This honor comes to "Gus" as a fitting reward for the years of hard work he has put in for his College. McPherson will round out his third and last year of service next spring when he will lead probably, another one of Carolina's greatest track teams. "Gus"—as he is affectionately called by his teammates—won his Varsity letter in his Sophomore year, and was one of the outstanding men of the squad that year. This spring he has again been one of the biggest reasons for the remarkable success of the Carolina tracksters. He established two new University records this year in the hundred yard dash and the two twenty yard dash. He ran the former in 9 4-5 seconds, and the latter in 21.5 seconds. He is one of the greatest dash men ever developed below the Mason-Dixon line, and has been under ten flat

YOUNG PEOPLES UNION WILL MEET TOMORROW

Gathering Will Be Held at the Episcopal Church—Interesting Program Has Been Arranged.

On Sunday evening, from seven to eight the Young People's Interdenominational Union will hold its third and last meeting of the year at the local Episcopal Church.

Quite an interesting program has been arranged for the young folks, in order to assure perfect attendance for this final meeting. The program is to consist of a discussion on "Is Denominationalism detrimental to the interests of the church?" Conditions in Chapel Hill" by Paul Olive. The first of these is "Disadvantages of Denominations", by Nat Henry. The second is "Advantages of Denominations" by E. A. Cameron. The third is "Church Conditions in Chapel Hill" by Paul Olive. The fourth is "Suggestions for efficiency of Young People's Organization," by A. F. Raper. Special music is also included on the list of attractions.

The Young People's Interdenominational Union is a group consisting of the Young People's Organizations of the five churches.

TRACK TEAM IS HONORED WITH BANQUET AT INN

Fifty of Carolina's Cinderpath
Performers Are Guests of University at Banquet.

GOOD TALKS ARE FEATURE

Managers and Captain for Next Year's Team Are Selected At Close of the Meeting.

Thursday night the Southern Championship track squad were guests of the University of North Carolina at one of the biggest and best banquets ever given in the Carolina Inn. Approximately 50 men took advantage of Charlie Woollen's hospitality and sat down to a delightful supper that left no one hungry.

The finest thing about the banquet was not the fruit salad, not the cream chicken, not the apple pie, not the hundred and one other delicacies served, but the splendid quality of the snappy talks delivered by the few honored faculty members present, and the men on the squad who were gifted with either oratory or inspiration. It will be a long time before the track team will ever have another toastmaster like Captain Charlie Jonas. His pleasant smile, quips, remarks, and glowing tributes ran on through the feast with as much success as the smooth running irrigation stream waters the dry plantations. His original humor and dry, sarcastic wit kept the whole group in an uproar of laughter. Finally, near the end of the banquet, the retiring captain settled into a serious frame of mind and delivered himself of a few choice remarks about the men behind the guns, the scrubs, who never get credit for the real success of an achievement, but are just as essential to the welfare of an organization as the stars.

The whole banquet seemed to be leading up to one mighty purpose. Try as they could the speakers could not get away from that definite end. As the banquet neared the time of completion the climax was at last reached. Every one had had his say and Jonas then introduced the man of the hour—"his Majesty" Coach Bob. With that quite serene voice so characteristic of Coach Petzer, "His Majesty" rose, and after a few humorous introductory remarks, delivered one of the most touching after dinner talks the writer has ever heard. He told about how his ambition had finally been realized when Carolina annexed the Southern track championship. But he seriously impressed upon his listeners the fact that while much

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB CLOSES ITS MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

This Year's Organization Has Traveled More Widely, Sang to
More People, Earned More Money and Gained More Favorable Comment Than Any Club in the History of the University.

By J. R. DEJOURNETTE

A resume of the activities of the Glee Club this year shows that the club under the direction of Paul J. Weaver has had the most successful year in its history. The organization is young considering the fact that only recently it departed from the usual type of Glee Club whose chief object is to entertain, and began to train its group in classical music.

The success of a club of this type is harder to obtain because little mistakes which can be covered over by a Club rendering amusing programs, remain very obvious in a classical program. Necessarily singing must approach perfection in order to be successful.

One success leads to another. In the Kansas City trip a program of wide travel was begun which was resumed in the New York trip. The two other major trips took the club over Eastern and Western North Carolina and part of Virginia. The Glee Club is the most widely traveled organization on the campus, having covered about 5,000 miles this year. The earning power of the Carolina Glee Club excels most organizations of similar type. It is credited with having earned $6,000 out of 24 concerts given to over 10,000 people. This amount is over three times more than any club has ever earned at the University.

Three concerts were broadcasted on the last trip and Victor records were made. The broadcasting brought congratulations for the club from cities as far west as St. Louis.

Photographic records were made for the Brunswick Company on the same trip and these records are being used by their

TAR HEEL SPORTS SCRIBE PICKS HIS ALL STATE NINE

Scarcity of Material Makes Job
More Difficult Than Usual.

A COSMOPOLITAN PICK

Hatley and Mackie Get Berths on First Team and Young Makes Second.

By JIMMIE COGGINS

"With noise and glare, or noiselessly and unnoted, a whole Old System of things is vanishing piecemeal: the morrow thou shalt look, and it 'is not.'" Thomas Carlyle's deep philosophy applies equally as well in baseball: noiselessly and unnoted the collegiate baseball season has been brought to a close. Many stars have flashed across the horizon throwing off a shining ray of light as they went, but the morrow thou shalt look upon and they will be not. It is now evolved upon this scribe to attempt to chronicle the annual Tar Heel list of those players who have been outstanding throughout the state; we have done our best and offer our selections with humblest apologies to those whom we may have by chance overlooked in naming our choice, and with due congratulations to those who have made themselves worthy of a position upon the mythical nine.

Scarcity of Material

The past season in baseball has been marked throughout the State by the lack of well-training and fast-playing men. All state teams have been weak, as was shown by the invasion of the state Yellow Jackets from Georgia Tech, and the nines from other Southern and northern states. Especially has there been a scarcity of infielders. Errors have been the pass-word, it seems, of nearly all of the infield combinations, while weak hitters have been dominant on nearly all teams. In the outfield a slightly different complication has resulted; that of choosing six men from the ten or twelve excellent players that have been produced. Very noticeable has been the difference in the hitting strength of the outfields and infields. On the mound, few pitchers other than those who were selected on the mythical team last year have appeared. Wake Forest beyond a doubt possesses two of the best hurlers in the state in Sorrell and Simmons, while James and K. Joyner, two more Deacon twirlers, cannot be overlooked in making our selection. "Shirt" Smith, of Carolina, has also hung up a good record, while Polgeuxian

HI CHAMPIONSHIP IN BASEBALL BE DECIDED TODAY

Gastonia and Clayton Will Meet in Final Game Here
Today.

WILL BE CLOSE GAME

Much Interest Is Shown in This Year's Series.

The Clayton high school baseball team, eastern champions, and the Gastonia high school baseball team, western champions, will meet on Emerson Field here on Saturday afternoon of this week at 3:00 o'clock to decide the State high school baseball championship for this season. All indications are that the game will be a close one and that it will be witnessed by a record-breaking crowd.

Clayton and Gastonia highs enter the final games by virtue of victories through the championship series. In the final eastern game, Clayton and Wilson were contenders, the game resulted in favor of Clayton by the score of 6 to 4. In the final western game, Gastonia and Winston-Salem were contenders, the first game resulting in a tie 8 to 8, and the second game resulting in a victory for Gastonia by the score of 10 to 3.

Saturday's game will bring to conclusion the thirteenth annual State high school baseball championship contest. Sixty-one high school teams entered the championship series a month ago, this the largest number of schools to participate in the annual contest in several years.

The baseball contest is a contest of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association. Under the regulations of this association, strict rules of eligibility have governed the participation of high school students in the baseball contest.

Results of Games Played

The results of games played this season in the eastern championship series and the western championship series were given today by E. R. Rankin, secretary of the association, as follows:

HOT RACE IS ON FOR DAVIE CUP

Several Candidates in Running
For Coveted Trophy.

WINNER CHOSEN TUESDAY

Today Will Be Last Opportunity to Vote for Man in Preliminaries.

Today brings to a close the election of the student to whom the Davie Memorial Cup is to be awarded. The voting is running very close, and the outcome of the election cannot be determined until sunset tonight. Many of the most outstanding men of the campus are well up in the running at present, and there is still one more day left in which to vote.

This award is a beautiful silver cup, which is presented by Mr. Preston Davie, of New York in memory of his ancestor, Governor William Richardson Davie. He asks that the trophy be given to the Carolina student who is voted by his fellow students as the man "who has best exemplified during the year 1926, in character, scholarship, and sportsmanship, the ideals and traditions of the University." The winning of this Governor William Richardson Davie Cup will be one of the greatest individual honors that can be won by a Carolina student.

Any students who has not yet cast his vote should do so immediately in order

GATE CITY NETMEN MEET CAROLINA TODAY

Captain Whitaker's Men Will Encounter Stiff Opposition in Last Match of Year.

The Tar Heel Net-men will play their last meet of the season this afternoon when they meet the Greensboro Country Racketmen on the new courts. Hap Whitaker's teammates have not been defeated by any team this year and they will be fighting to keep their record clean. Their performance in the Southern Conference Tournament last week at Atlanta was not very spectacular but it should be remembered that some of the best players in the South were encountered.

The Greensboro aggregation consists of Jimmie Poole, Herman Conc, Mr. McCauley, and Mr. Cobb. Jimmie Poole is well remembered here by Carolina students as a basketball and tennis player. He took part in many of the basketball games in 1925 and was one of the best tennis players ever turned out here. The remainder of the team are former college stars who have kept up their game since their school days.

The meet will start at 3:00 this afternoon on the new courts back of the Tripple.
