ANNUAL AWARDS EXERCISES ARE TO BE HELD TONIGHT

President Chase Will Preside Over Annual Awards Night Ceremonies.

MEMORIAL HALL AT 8:30

Outstanding Performers In Major Campus Activities Will Receive Formal Recognition Tonight

Students who have done creditable and consistent work in the major campus activities will be fittingly awarded at the third annual Awards Night, which will be held in Memorial Hall tonight at 8:30 o'clock, with President H. W. Chase presiding over the meeting.

It is a very significant thing at Carolina that the work of the college year is begun annually by the College Night exercises at which time the policies of the University administration for the new year are announced, the students who are prominent in student activities are introduced, and the number of campus activities are mentioned and explained to the new students. Then, as a climax to the work of the college year Awards Night is held at which time some member of the University reviews the work of the administrative department, and announces plans for the next year, the newly elected student officers are duly installed, and those students who have distinguished themselves in student activities are given awards.

To begin the exercises, Dr. T. J. Wilson will read the names of those students who have this year been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. J. B. Fordham will then read the names of those who were tapped for Golden Fleece.

Monograms in all major athletics will be awarded by either Coach Bob Feter or W. A. Devin, president of the Athletic Association. Also the medal for the best all-round athlete will be presented. A member of the Order of the Grail will present class numerals to those Freshmen who did deserving work on the Freshman teams, and a loving cup will be presented to the best Freshman athlete. The Grail will also present cups to those fraternities and dormitories who have won the Intra-Mural contests.

Professor H. H. Williams will award the monograms for debating, and the editors of the various publications will present the charms to the men who have done consistent work.

The new president of the student body and the new student council will be officially installed, and the president will

BUNN HACKNEY WINS DAVIE MEMORIAL CUP

Result of Vote by Student Body Shows That Hackney Won by Substantial Majority—Awarded Tonight.

The election for the winner of the Davie Memorial Cup has been held; the votes have been counted; the race is over. Bunn Hackney won by a majority of 201 votes and will be presented with the award tonight.

During the first two days of the election very little interest was shown and few votes were cast, but on Saturday the student body awoke somewhat to the realization of the importance of the award and Tar Heels were collected all over the campus, so that the ballots might be secured and filled out.

Saturday night's counting of the votes showed that only 576 were cast, of which Hackney secured 375.

The award is a beautiful silver trophy cup, which was given by Preston Davie, of New York, in memory of General William Richardson Davie. He asked that the award be given to that student who, in the opinion of his fellow students, "has best exemplified during the year ending 1924, in character, scholarship, and sportsmanship, the ideals and traditions of the University."

Bunn Hackney, winner of the Governor William Richardson Davie Memorial Cup, is a splendid type of all-round student and well deserves the honor of the award. He was recently tapped as a member of the Golden Fleece, is president-elect of the Athletic Association, captain-elect of the Carolina basketball team, engages in three phases of athletics, football, basketball, and track, and was president of the sophomore class and representative on the student council.

In the election votes were cast for the following sixteen men:

FRENCH PLAY IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Le Malade Imaginaire Given Here Friday and Saturday.

PRaise DIRECTOR HOLMES

Reviewer Thinks Play in Native Tongue Much Above Average Production.

By REVIEWER

The seekers after knowledge and culture, more often than not, have a very rocky road to travel, but those who have the thirst for better things and who went to see Moliere's Le Malade Imaginaire at the Playmaker's Theatre Friday and Saturday not only received a demonstration of French as she is spoke, but were highly entertained besides.

The play, written in 1673, is quaintly melodramatic. It contains a fake death, a deceiving wife, two characters who adopt various disguises, and plans for a forced marriage. Its speeches are surprisingly long, and there is but little time between astonishing bellows.

The performance was well above the Playmaker average. This is due no doubt to the work of Holmes the director who also took the leading role. He ranks far above the Playmaker or garden variety of director, and as an actor showed greater ability than we have seen for some time. He played the part of Argan the Imaginary Invalid, in the violent manner that was proper, and his trumpetings were a constant source of delight to the audience.

Toinette, the maid, as verbal adversary of Argan did nobly. Together their screams could be heard farther than was necessary. Miss Warren as the second principal was well chosen. She gave the part of Toinette a polish.

Beline, Argan's second wife, played by Carolyn Oswald, was not done too well. Her voice was too weak, and she recited her lines rather than acting them. Elizabeth Henderson had the part of Angelique, and gave a fair show. Tarasa Graham as Louison, Angelique's younger sister, had a minor part, but played it very well. She appeared to advantage in her long, flowing robes, and her faint was not marred by such aversion to the floor as had M. L. Radoff, who played the part of the dumb son of a doctor. M. Radoff's part suited him, but his

ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT BE RETURNED TODAY

The Athletic Association announces that all athletic equipment must be turned in today at the Stadium. Officials are anxious to get the equipment stored and checked off the past season, and those to whom such equipment has been issued are requested to cooperate with them to that end.

CLAYTON DEFEATS GASTONIA TO WIN HI CHAMPIONSHIP

Gastonia Falls Before Pitching of Dewar by 9 to 1 Score Saturday.

13TH ANNUAL CONTEST

Clayton Team Superior in Field and At Bat—Gastonia Supporters Attend En Masse.

Three thousand spectators crowded into the stands on Emerson Field Saturday to see Dewar, Clayton twirling ace, hold the hard-hitting Gastonia baseball aggregation to six hits, while his teammates were pounding out eleven hits off Jenkins to count for a 9 to 1 victory, and the 13th annual high school state championship contest.

The Clayton hurler was easily the stellar performer of the day. He had worlds of stuff on the ball, but was slightly wild, issuing six free passes to first base and hitting a couple of the Gastonia players. Besides pitching a beautiful brand of baseball, the twirler lined out a single and a double out of four trips to the rubber.

Houghton, the Clayton second baseman, exhibited the fastest and prettiest fielding of the day in his sappers around the keystone sack. The diminutive second baseman accepted seven hard chances without a bobble. His stellar play of the day was made in the fifth inning when he raced back of first base to pull in Carson's swift liner and retired him at first. In the initial frame he made another nice play when he circled around back of second to draw in Jackson's roller and throw him out at first. To Clark, another of Van Stringfield's cohorts, goes second fielding honors of the day for his one-hand stab of Frederick's line drive to deep center in the fourth inning. The Clayton center gardener raced far back into center field, leaped up and pulled the ball down with one hand, and then threw to second to hold Schneider, who had previously walked, on the initial sack. Clark also obtained an infield hit in the second frame which started the scoring for Clayton.

Parrish and Walters divided the batting honors of the day, Parrish getting a triple and a double out of five trips to the cushion, and Walters obtained a four bag blow and a single out of four trips. Ellis and Dewar each obtained two hits each, one of Dewar's blows going for two bases.

About three thousand enthusiastic and noisy fans witnessed the contest, a special train coming up from Gastonia bringing fans from that city, and several hundred fans from Clayton journeyed through the country. The Gastonians had their band present, and backed their team until Dewar threw the last ball—then gave a lusty yell for their

SENIOR BANQUET IS HELD FRIDAY

Final Event of Senior Week is Great Success.

M'LEAN CHIEF SPEAKER

Introduced by Chase, Governor Compares Times and Predicts State's Growth.

Senior Week was brought to a fitting close Friday night with a banquet held at the Carolina Inn with Governor McLean present. About two hundred members of the senior class and fifteen co-eds attended the banquet, and all report a fine time. This year's banquet was the largest ever held in the history of the University and also the most successful. The great success was due in part to the excellent management of the committee in charge and in part to the new plan of finances, whereby class dues are paid in advance at the same time as the registration fee.

The Tarsonian Orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. The menu was of unusual excellence, consisting of fruit cocktail, lamb chops, green peas, potatoes, tomato and lettuce salad, and apple pie a la mode.

Laurence Watt, president of the senior class, served as toastmaster and delivered a short speech to the class. He also introduced the speakers of the night, President Chase and Governor A. W. McLean. In his introduction president Watt expressed the satisfaction of the senior class at Dr. Chase's decision to remain at the University.

Dr. Chase, after a few humorous in-

GLEE CLUB RECORDS ARE NOW ON MARKET

The records made for the Brunswick Company by the Glee Club have been pronounced a decided success and are on sale everywhere by the Brunswick dealers. The demonstrating salesman for the Brunswick Talking machine came to Chapel Hill last week and the records were used in his demonstration. While here the salesman reported that the sale of the first issue of Glee Club records far exceeded what was expected.

Christian and Harward, Brunswick dealers in Durham say that they are unable to fill the demand for the records, because the orders sent to the Brunswick company could only be filled in part. They were able to get only 25 records from an order of 150.

One of the officials of the Brunswick company states that the records of the negro spirituals were the best ones ever made, by them. In particular the record "I couldn't hear Nobody pray" was better recorded in tones than any record of any type.

Arrangements have been made to supply records at Commencement. The alumni particularly want the record "Hark the Sound" and will be able to obtain any number of them desired.

All-State Frosh Team Is Picked By Sports Scribe

By J. W. MOORE

Another college baseball season has flitted across the horizon of the sporting world and disappeared into the record books. Teams, both good and bad, have played out their schedules and are now preparing to disband. This becomes the open season for the shooting of sports writers, for it is at this time that they are called upon to perform the always thankless and often dangerous task of picking all-state teams.

The abundance of excellent first-year material in the state this year makes it a very perplexing proposition to decide just which man excels in each position. When you sit down and attempt to assemble the stars from several teams into one all-state constellation, you run the double risk of making both mistakes and errors; you may make the mistake of selecting the wrong man for the team or you may make the error of placing the right man in the wrong position.

Not having seen all the freshman teams in action, and being loath to risk my immature opinion in such a delicate situation, I asked "Run" Lowe, coach of the local freshman team an da close study of the game, to make an all-state selection for THE TAR HEEL. He consented to do this, and so I now cheerfully pass the buck to Mr. Lowe.

First Base

Carruthers of Duke, and Moss of Wake Forest, were the class of the yearling first basemen in the state. Both of these boys are big, and give their infielders a nice target to shoot at on hurried throws. They are both fine fielders, but Moss gets the call over Carruthers on his ability to hit for distance.

Second Base

At second base the race was not so close as that at first. Tommy Cox, of Carolina, was easily the outstanding second sacker of the state. Adams, of Duke, was a clever infielder but he could not cover the ground and hit like Cox.

Short Stop

The two shortstops of the state that stood out above the field were Satterfield, of Carolina, and Bryan, of Wake Forest. The Little Deacons' short fielder can, perhaps, out-hit the Tar Baby star by a few points, but his throw is not so accurate and he does not cover the ground that the Carolina midget does. As shortstop is primarily a defensive position, Satterfield gets the call over Bryan.

Third Base

Ellerbe, of Wake Forest, and Rowe, of Duke, were the best of the hot corner guardians. They are both fine ball players, but, in my opinion, the Wake Forest lad excels the Duke star in all round playing ability; so Ellerbe gets first call.

Outfield

Every team in the state seemed to be well equipped with a set of outfielders that could run, hit and field; so it is quite a proposition to pick a trio from this crop of stars and say they are the best of the lot. In left field, I'd put Finlator, of Carolina, he is an excellent

CAPT. JONES

"Touchdown" Jones, captain of the Carolina baseball team, will play his last game in Carolina uniform today against the Elon Christians. He has been playing good baseball during the past season and has been a persistent hitter.

"Y" TEAM RETURNS FROM ASHEVILLE

Deputation Team Has Successful Trip to Mountain City.

10,000 HEAR PROGRAMS

Dr. Bernard Speaks on "The Historic Jesus"—Heavy Program.

The University Y. M. C. A. deputation team of twelve men returned to the "Hill" Sunday night after conducting a "Come Clean" campaign, and giving more than eighty speeches and 40 musical programs to the young people and various organizations in Asheville, the largest and most successful deputation program ever attempted in the state.

Full programs were given by the team to approximately 10,000 persons, including 6,000 school children in twelve schools, 2,000 patients at sanitariums and shut-ins, 3,000 Sunday School children, and several hundred business men of Asheville. The team arrived in Asheville Wednesday night, May 19, and beginning Thursday morning the men carried their program of talks of "clean living" from the standpoint of all-round development of Christian character in every walk of life, selections by vocal quartet, a string trio, and a piano-saw duet, was carried to High Schools, Grammar Schools, Boys' Mass meetings, Sanitariums, hospitals, Hi-Y Clubs, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Mothers' Meetings, City-wide Mass meetings, Churches, Underprivileged Boys' Clubs, and almost every young peoples' organization in the city.

It was the aim of the team to conduct the campaign, making it clear that it was not a propaganda affair for the University.

The most outstanding feature of the campaign was the final City-wide Mass meetings held in the City Auditorium Sunday afternoon, presided over by Mayor Cathey. At this meeting, Dr. W. S. Bernard, Professor of Greek at the University, delivered one of the most powerful addresses of his career on "The Historic Jesus." Dr. Bernard's theme was taken from St. Peter's love for Jesus and a beautiful address was given on St. Peter's personal relationship with the Master and a life of service in this world.

NOMINATIONS TODAY FOR SUB-ASST. MANAGERS

Nominations for sub-assistant managers of Varsity Track and Baseball, made out in the usual way, should be dropped in the ballot box at the Y. M. C. A. before six o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon. Be sure to specify which managership you wish to go out for. Voting will be Thursday, May 27, at the "Y" until six o'clock in the evening.

TAR HEELS LOSE TO STATE TECH BY 8 TO 2 SCORE

Wolfpack Walks Away With Game at Raleigh Saturday Afternoon.

POYNER'S LAST GAME

Bunched Hits, Stolen Bases, and Errors Account for State's Decisive Victory—One Homer Hit.

Pitching what was probably his last game in a Carolina uniform, "Big Bill" Poyner was nipped for eight hits by the State College Wolfpack, and the Tar Heels lost the Tech game by an 8 to 2 margin on Riddick field last Saturday.

The big Carolina right-hander pitched an excellent game, and really deserved a win, but his teammates failed to support him on the field while Beal, the Tech hurler, had them eating out of his hand at bat, and so "Big Bill" is accredited with a loss. Poyner, it will be recalled, has been the mainstay of the Carolina pitching staff this season, having participated in nearly three-fourths of the games on the Tar Heel schedule. He has always hurled a steamy, consistent brand of baseball and deserves much credit for the mediocre success of the Carolina baseball squad this season.

Quoting the News and Observer "the Techmen stole everything but the bleachers," and we were beginning to think that those were in danger and were considering calling out the R. O. T. C. to prevent their destruction when the battle ended. Austin got away with three pilfered sacks, one of those being the home position, while C. Shuford stole a couple of bases.

Beal, the State twirler, pitched an excellent game, the Tar Heels succeeding in bunched hits off him only in the second frame, when two in succession were obtained. The remaining five Tar Heel blows were kept well scattered.

Carolina started the scoring in the initial frame when "Moose" Tenney walked, was sacrificed to second, going to third when Hatley and Mackie were issued free tickets, and scoring on Tom Young's long fly to center field. Again in the second inning the Tar Heels threatened when Hatley doubled and went to third on a fielder's choice, but Tom Young popped out to first and Webb whiffed at three to conclude the frame. The Tar Heels scored their second and final marker in the sixth inning when Webb was issued a free pass to first, reached second on Jones' single, third

FROSH DEFEATS STATE FRIDAY BY SCORE 8-3

Heavy Hitting and Pitching of Ellison Features—Game on Emerson Field Closes Successful Season.

The Carolina freshmen brought their 1924 season to a close Friday afternoon by taking the big end of an 8 to 3 score from the State yearlings on Emerson field. The Tar Babies were hitting in their usual vicious style, and the little Wolflets sent three hurlers to the mound in a futile effort to arrest the attack.

The Tar Babies scored in the opening round. After Foard had skied out to right, Satterfield started the fireworks with a single; Finlator walked and Cox singled, filling the bases. A long sacrifice fly, by Beam, sent Satterfield home from third, but with men on second and third, Jessup hit a weak roller to first to end the inning. The locals added two more to their total in the third on a double by Finlator, a triple by Jessup, and a double by Furches.

Three hits, a walk, a hit batsman and an error netted Lowe's boys three more tallies in the fifth. Williams and Ellison singled in succession to start the seventh, and Foard was given a base on balls. Williams scored when Satterfield forced Foard at second, and Ellison brought the last run of the game over the plate a moment later on Finlator's third hit.

The little Wolf Pack scored their first markers in the fourth stanza. Childress led off with a single and Outen, State catcher and clean-up man, hit one of Ellison's fast ones far into right field for one of the longest homers seen here this season. An error and a hit sent State's other run across the rubber in the sixth. Finlator and Jessup did the heavy hitting for the Tar Babies; the former got a double and two singles out of three trips to the plate, and the little right fielder pounded out a double and a triple in four attempts. Hovis was
