

CHANGE IN RULES FOR GRAD CREDIT

Must Register in Graduate School Before Credit for Advanced Courses.

A new ruling which regards the shifting of credits has been passed by the Graduate School, it has been recently announced by Acting-Dean Howell. Hereafter an undergraduate wishes to take a graduate course or one that is to be transferred to the graduate school, he must register in the school. To do that it is also required that the number and nature of the particular course be handed his instructor and also report to the instructor the fact that he is taking it for graduate credit. This is necessary besides the regular registration.

To take a graduate course a student must not be registered for more than three courses. The graduate school will not permit a student to register for an undergraduate course with the idea of substituting for it a graduate course taken before the student received his A. B. degree.

MOREHEAD HURT IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Garrett Morehead, captain-elect of the football team, and Paul Whitlock were slightly hurt and Miss Caro Fish of Raleigh was seriously injured, when a sport model Packard roadster in which they were riding turned over three times several miles south of Salisbury last Friday afternoon. The car was demolished.

They were coming from Charlotte about the time of the passing of the Piedmont limited and passengers on the train witnessed the accident.

Morehead and Whitlock are both in their homes in Charlotte, recovering from their minor injuries. Miss Fish is still in the hospital at Salisbury to which she was taken by passing motorists immediately after the accident. Yesterday her condition was reported unchanged. She is suffering from a fractured hip and thigh.

DI INITIATES OFFICERS IN MEETING TONIGHT

Tonight, 7:30 o'clock, Di Hall, the Dialectic Senate will hold its first meeting of the spring quarter. At this time the Senate will proceed with the installation of officers for the ensuing quarter. The officers to be installed are Byron Glenn, President; Bill Neal, President pro-tem; Judah Shohan, Clerk W. tem; Judah Shohan, Clerk; W. H. McGalliard, Sergeant-at-Arms; Harry Weatherly, Assistant Treasurer. Because of the nominations for class officers taking place at this time, the meeting last week was postponed to this time. For this reason the meeting tonight should be one of importance.

HIGH DEBATES BE HELD THIS WEEK

240 Schools Over State Enter in Triangular Contest—Query Named.

Two hundred and forty high schools scattered over the state from the sea coast to the Great Smokies will be represented in the series of triangular debates which are to be held Friday, April 1.

The query which will be under discussion in all of the contests next Friday evening is "Resolved, That Congress should enact the Curtis-Reed Bill, providing for a federal department of education." The high school debaters have conducted an extended research on this question, their study having extended over the last several months. The results of their prolonged effort, as shown in the debating clashes in the triangular series, should prove highly interesting.

The high schools which win both of their triangular debates will send their teams to Chapel Hill to compete on April 14 and 15 in the final contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup, the trophy, which has been presented to the High School Debating Union by the inter-collegiate debaters of the University of North Carolina.

Order of Grail To Give Its First Hop For Quarter Saturday

The Order of the Grail will open its social program for the Spring quarter Saturday night with its dance in Bynum Gymnasium. The fact that it is the first Grail dance after exams will, no doubt, make the affair unusually successful.

The dance Saturday night will be honorary to the new men of the Order of the Grail, who have been elected and whose names will be made public Saturday. The policy of the Grail which has been in force at the last few affairs will continue. Decorations, solo dances, feature acts, and a limitation of the stags (to be determined at the discretion of the doorman), will again add novelty to the evening. The Grailmen have invited a number of girls for the week-end and it is expected that many students will wax social and be hosts to representatives of the fair sex.

Slosson Writes of Coker

An article by Edwin E. Slosson about new developments in science, in a recent issue of Collier's, contains a passage about the experiments of W. C. Coker with water molds. These microscopic fungi have been the object of Mr. Coker's studies for many years and his publications concerning them have given him standing as a world leader in this province of research.

Chauncey Royster Leads

Chauncey Royster, who is enrolled at the Ecole de Montcel at Jouy-en-Josas, not far from Paris, led the school in scholarship last month. This is a school where no English is spoken and where there are very few foreign pupils.

give nearly all of his youngsters a chance to show their worth under fire. The batting of Captain Hatley, Mackie, Young, and Finlator, has featured almost every practice, and their slugging will play an important part in the game this afternoon.

Several pitchers will probably get a chance to "chuck 'em" against the Durham batters, and it is not known who will get the call to start the affair. Ellison, Sapp, and Westmoreland are the big three of the hurling staff the Carolina Inn Saturday night in honor of the visitors to the Dramatic Institute was a colorful and unusually well attended affair. The thespian ranks swelled noticeably as the dance progressed, due, no doubt to the popular practice of social bumping on the part of students or the gate crashing of uninvited guests. High School and college lassies vied with one another for the favors of the pursued sex. The costumes were the feature of the cosmopolitan ball, with harlequins, convicts, fairies, witches, scullions, barmaids (presumably in proper attire), cavaliers, sheiks, clowns and college boys intermingling. The Buccaneers played entrancing music until Sunday morning was ushered in.
